

LIEUT. SULLIVAN

Saved Woman and Girl From Freight Car Crash

They Were Driving in Front of Car When Lt. Sullivan Jumped From Electric Car and Stopped the Horse—The Animal's Head Struck by Car

An elderly woman and girl had a narrow escape from being killed at the grade crossing in Bridge street this morning when one of the railroad cars which was being shifted struck the horse which was attached to the carriage in which they were riding. The presence of mind and quickness of Lieut. James A. Sullivan of the Central Police No. 7, located in Central street, was undoubtedly the only thing that saved their lives.

Lieut. Sullivan was on the front seat of an inward bound Lakeview avenue car due in Merrimack square at 9.45 o'clock. The car reached the canal bridge in Bridge street and stopped in order to allow some freight cars to be shifted across the street.

At about the same time the horse

THE TAFT FAMILY

Will Start on Ten Days' Cruise This Afternoon

BEVERLY, July 18.—With the presidential yacht Mayflower all white and spruced up for the ten days' cruise in Maine waters, President Taft will leave Beverly late this afternoon on that craft. President Taft and his family have been looking forward to the cruise with a great deal of pleasure. There will be no convoy, but the Mayflower will keep close to the shore and be in wireless touch with the navy stations.

The trip to Maine was planned wholly as a vacation outing, but at the last moment the president consented to make three speeches. The addresses will be entirely informal and President Taft will not touch upon politics. The first speech will be at Eastport, where the first speech will be delivered. The Mayflower will arrive at Eastport at noon Tuesday. The second speech will be at Bangor Saturday, the twenty-third, and the third will be delivered at Rockland, on Tuesday, the twenty-sixth.

Mr. Taft will spend three days at Bar Harbor and each afternoon there he will devote his attention to golfing. The Mayflower's itinerary in a general way is as follows:

Monday, July 18, leave Beverly.
Tuesday, July 19, at Eastport.
Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 20, 21, and 22, at Bar Harbor.
Saturday, July 23, at Bangor during the afternoon; spend the night at the home of Senator Hale, at Ellsworth.
Sunday and Monday, July 24 and 25, cruising near Bar Harbor and Islesboro with a stop at the latter place.
Tuesday, July 26, at Rockland.
Wednesday, July 27, at Biddeford Pool.
Thursday, July 28, arrive at Beverly.

The personnel of the party on the Mayflower is as follows:

The president, Mrs. Taft, Master Charles Taft, Horace D. Taft, brother of the president, Prof. and Mrs. Louis T. Moore of Cincinnati, Secretary Norton, Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Beckman Winthrop, Miss Mabel Boardman and Captain Butt.

Before going on board of the Mayflower this afternoon the president will have a further conference with Senator Hale and Dick and Wade H. Ellis, chairman of the republican state executive committee, regarding Ohio politics.

ELKS ARE HOME

Had a Great Time in Detroit

Past Exalted Ruler John J. Duff of the local lodge of Elks, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McDermott returned home this morning from Detroit where they attended the grand lodge session of the order held in that city last week. The other Lowell people who attended the convention will not arrive in Lowell until tomorrow morning.

Today's arrivals came on with the Boston Elks party and had a most enjoyable time. They report that the convention was one of the most successful ever held by the order and that the parade and concerts alone were sufficient to repay one for the visit to the Michigan city. They speak in high praise of the entertainment received in Detroit and say that the people there acted as though they felt they could not go enough for the visitors. The convention proceedings were most harmonious and the report of the business transacted will be presented to the local lodge by their delegates, William S. Grady. All the Lowell party had a most enjoyable time and are in the best of health. Already plans are being made for the Elks party that will go to Atlantic City next year, that place being chosen as the convention city. The decorations in Detroit were most elaborate and the attractions offered for the entertainment of the visitors fully in keeping with the programs arranged by other convention cities.

HIS ARM TORN OFF

Sad Accident to Philip Emond in Massachusetts Mills

Philip Emond, residing at 176 Ludlam street, had his left arm taken off at the shoulder in a machine in the cloth room of the Massachusetts mills, where he is employed, about 7.30 o'clock this morning. He also suffered two compound fractures of the right arm. The ambulance was summoned and the man was hurried to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment, but owing to the vast amount of blood which he lost the hospital authorities are unable to state as to whether he will recover.

It is doubtful if any other person in the room where Emond is employed other than himself knows how the accident occurred. The first intimation that they had that anything was wrong was when they heard loud shrieks, and rushing to the place

LEBLANC IS DEAD

As Result of Alleged Assault by John F. Costello

The Charge Against Costello is Now Changed to Manslaughter—An Autopsy on the Body to Show Cause of Death

Henry Leblanc, otherwise known as White, who it is alleged, was assaulted by John F. Costello, in Central street, Monday night about 9 o'clock, died this morning at 7.15 o'clock at St. John's hospital where he was taken shortly after the assault. From the hospital until he passed away this morning he failed to recover consciousness.

Leblanc resided at 104 Chalmers street and is survived by his mother, brother Edward and a sister Beatrice. He was 27 years of age. The assault and battery which had been preferred against Costello was this morning changed to that of manslaughter.

Leblanc was found in an unconscious condition in a doorway in Central street near the corner of Market, on Sunday, July 18, and while it was at first thought that the man was in an intoxicated condition it later developed that he had been struck and in falling his head had come in contact with the sidewalk, rendering him unconscious.

Costello appeared in court this morning in charge of Undertaker George W. Healey.

McMAHON—The funeral of Florence McMahon took place Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the home of the parents, 120 North Main street, Dr. J. A. MacDonagh, in charge of the funeral director James H. McDermott.

EARLY—The funeral of the late Jennie Early took place on Sunday afternoon at 1.45 o'clock from the funeral parlors of Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where at 2 o'clock funeral services were held. Rev. W. George Mullin officiated.

Among the floral tributes was a large offering inscribed "Mama" from the children; spray of pink, Mr. and Mrs. Nugent; spray of pink, Mrs. Eva Early and family, and a spray from a friend. The bearers were George H. Lord, John Corcoran, James Nugent and John Bonchampi.

BURIAL—The funeral of the late Miss Louise Keen took place this morning from her late home, rear 11 South Whipple street, and was largely attended. A high mass of requiem will be sung at the Sacred Heart church by Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I. The boys' choir under the direction of Mrs. Adelaide Muldoon rendered the Gregorian chant. Mrs. Muldoon sang "Pie Jesu" at the offertory. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I.

18 MONTHS TO JAIL

Sentence of Andrew J. Coan on Charge of Polygamy

Judge Pickman presided at the session of the police court this morning, and found awaiting his attention several important cases, among them being the charge of polygamy against Andrew J. Coan. The evidence in this case was heard some few days ago, and the question before the court this morning was, just what the sentence should be, and Judge Pickman after considering the case, sentenced the defendant to 18 months in the Lowell jail. The defendant appeared, and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $500, which he furnished in cash.

When the case was called this morning, Lawyer A. S. Emerson of Boston, representing the first wife, maiden name, Mabel C. Souther, and Major Robert J. Crowley, representing Mr. Coan, and the second wife, maiden name, Maud Bulmer, held a long conference with the court. Both ladies were heard, and the court asked several questions bearing on the points at issue, and also listened to several statements made by the attending lawyers, after which he imposed the sentence of 18 months.

Assault Case

Napoleon Guertin was charged with assault upon an officer, and drunkenness. He pleaded not guilty to the assault charge, but allowed that he was just what he was doing. The testimony of the arresting officer, Henry W. Horman of the Dracut police department, was to the effect that the defendant was very drunk Sunday evening at Lakeview. He told him to take a car and go home, and then and there Guertin struck him several times, tearing his clothes. He placed him under arrest, and sent him to the station. The defendant allowed that he had a mild jag, but did not remember that he had committed any assault. "What were you drinking?" asked the court. "Whiskey, or something like that. Your Honor." That kind of stuff is apparently too strong for you; you had better leave the rye alone. So long as you have work to go to, I will allow you to depart, upon the payment of a fine of $15 for the assault, and the payment of a drunk charge, to be placed on file. You must remember that this is your 16th time before this court.

Edgar Hill, who resides upon Washington street, was in court this morning charged with assault and battery upon John Winkski. The defendant pleaded not guilty, and the evidence disclosed that there were some hard feelings between the daughter of the complainant and the wife of the defendant, with the result that the defendant visited the home of Winkski Saturday evening, and administered to him one of those sledge hammer blows that put the said Winkski out of business for some minutes. Judge Pickman found the defendant guilty, and ordered him to pay a fine of $12, which he paid.

John Murphy was a lucky fellow this morning in police court, and it only goes to show what a good appearance and a straight story will do for a fellow. He was charged with the second offense of drunkenness, and pleaded guilty. He was then fined $5. He did not have the six, and asked permission to speak to the court. The request was granted, and the six dollar fine was revoked and he was placed upon probation.

Michael Mulcahey, Thomas Considine and James Cunningham were each fined $5 for being drunk on a Sunday.

Celia Hebert was arrested on Thorndike street Saturday evening by Patrolman Joseph Finney, and this morning she insisted that she was absolutely sober. After the evidence on both sides had been heard, she was adjudged guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $5. John A. Myron was also given a $5 fine for a like offense.

James Caldwell was in for the third time, and he was awarded a suspended sentence of four months.

John J. Mahoney, a patrolman from the state farm, was given a chance to do better, and he will be in care of the probation officer for the next six months.

Herbert Stowell was not able to appear and his case will be heard on Wednesday.

There were three $2 fines and nine released by the probation officer.

FOUND IN FIELD

Boys Discovered Body
of a Man

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 18.—Two boys, Hugh Sanctuary and Harry Farham, while following their dog up the valley of Bay Brook at the north end of the town, discovered yesterday, were attracted by the dog's sharp barking and discovered that he had found the body of a man, which lay face downward near the edge of the woods and on the premises of James H. Mendall, Young Sanctuary's father. The boys informed the police and the case was turned over to Medical Referee Dr. George M. Davis.

The body was in such an advanced state of decomposition that the features were not recognizable, but was apparently that of a man in middle life, 5 feet and 8 inches in height and weighing 170 pounds. He wore a brown mustache and his hair was darker. His hat was of black felt, coat of gray, black shirt, and he wore khaki pants, green stockings and russet shoes.

In his pockets were a silver watch, a brass pin, a bronze medal, such as was issued by the city of Manchester to its school children at the time of the city's semi-centennial celebration in 1895, and a match safe, given away by a local business house. No letters, no money, not even a pocketbook, and no writing of any kind were found.

Whether or not the man met with foul play, or whether he became overcome during the recent excessive heat and fell exhausted and died in his tracks cannot be determined because of the condition of the body. The body was given over to the care of a local undertaker and will be kept until Tuesday, when if it is not identified and sought for by relatives or friends it will be buried at public expense.

No one answering the description of the man found, however, has been reported to the police as missing and the case is surrounded by more or less mystery. From the articles found in his pockets there appears to be no doubt of his being a resident of Manchester or one who frequented the city often.

BOSTON WOMAN

Held in Toronto On
Insanity Charge

TORONTO, July 18.—The spectacle of a handsomely dressed, well-educated and strikingly beautiful woman standing in the police court dock on a charge of being insane was seen here yesterday. The woman was Miss Violet Parker, well connected, whose home is in Boston, but who has been spending the last few years in travel.

She is an accomplished horsewoman and during her stay in Toronto has entertained lavishly. For several months she was a guest at Hotel Prince George, under the name of Grace Bennett, but lately had stayed at the King Edward. Much of her time is said by the police to have been spent in the company of a local millionaire.

Suspicious as to her sanity were aroused by her eccentric actions, and when recently she started to disrobe in the palm room of the King Edward the authorities were communicated with.

The observations of the jail doctors resulted in their declaring her insane and she was arrested on a technical charge of vagrancy. When Magistrate Kingsford told her of the doctor's report Saturday she quietly observed:

"I have a favor to ask. I have a first class education and have had all kinds of experiences, but I have never sat in a court before. I should like to be allowed to sit here and see you conduct the proceedings, Judge."

"I cannot allow that," said Magistrate Kingsford. "Perhaps," he added, "before a week is over your people will be here and will take care of you."

"What about my poor old mother. She is 82 years old. I cannot shed tears like some people," rattled the woman.

Two officers went to gently remove her. "Kindly take your hands off me, she said, as with a flash of her dark eyes and dignified gesture she waved them away.

Letters in the woman's possession showed that she had been in occasional correspondence with her family in Boston, who have been communicated with. She was well supplied with money. Her dresses alone are said to be valued at $2000.

COWARDLY DEED

Of Some Autoist Who Drove Over An Aged ManSTRUCK DOWN BY AN AUTOMOBILE AND LEFT LYING BY THE ROADSIDE

And Passed On Leaving Him
Helpless—John Riley, the Victim, Crawled Three-Quarters of a Mile and Was Found
Next Day Helpless

John Riley, aged 64 years and living in that portion of East Billerica known as Pattenville, was struck and knocked down by an automobile near the plant of the Talbot chemical works in North Billerica Saturday night about 11 o'clock. The driver of the machine, who must have known that Riley had been struck, continued on his way never bothering to inquire whether the man had been killed or slightly injured.

Owing to the lateness of the hour and the fact that the road is not traversed much, especially at night, Riley remained out all night and was discovered about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, 12 hours after the accident occurred, lying in a ditch near the railroad tracks of the Boston & Maine line, the aged man having crawled on hands and knees until completely exhausted.

The accident happened shortly after Riley had left for his home after visiting relatives in North Billerica. He was returning home through a road not traversed much near the chemical works of the Talbot mills in North Billerica.

The automobile was coming along at a fast rate of speed, headed towards Lowell. Inasmuch as the horn on the machine was not sounded he was not aware of the approach of the car until it was almost on him. He tried to get out of the way, but his efforts proved fruitless. The car struck him and he was thrown to the ground. After the car passed he managed to crawl to the side of the road and remained there during the night. In the morning he tried to get up and walk home, but succeeded only in crawling to the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad, some three-quarters of a mile away. Here he was found by a mile yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, lying in a ditch close to the tracks and, though semi-conscious, unable to move further. As Riley lives all alone, no search had been started for him since his absence was noticed by no one.

Dr. G. T. O'Donnell of Billerica was summoned and recognizing Mr. Riley had the latter's relatives notified. He was taken by Mrs. Alexander Riley, his sister-in-law, in a carriage to St. John's hospital in this city, where it was found that he had received a severe scalp wound and a large swelling over his right hip, possibly indicative of internal injuries.

At the hospital last night the patient had gone into a fever and his condition is doubtful, though his consciousness still remains. No internal injuries have yet appeared. Riley was employed as a section man on the Boston & Maine railroad.

Inquiry at the hospital this morning brought forth the information that Riley was resting comfortably and showed signs of improvement. It could not be that the driver of the auto did not see the old man or notice the collision. The driver may have been out on a joy ride and passed up simply to escape detection. That the injured man was not dead next morning was not the fault of the cowardly driver.

FELL FROM CAR
Tony Talon, aged 22 years, who has but one leg, jumped from a moving electric car at the corner of Gorham and Summer streets last night about 9.30 o'clock and losing his balance fell to the ground and sustained a slight wound over the left eyebrow.

He was taken in the ambulance to St. John's hospital where his injury was treated, leaving shortly afterwards. The man resides at 87 Summer street.

MAYOR WHITE

Spends First Sunday in House
of Correction

LAWRENCE, July 18.—The first Sunday spent in the house of correction by Mayor William F. White, ex-Alderman Matthew Burns, Samuel Kress and George B. Smart, convicted of conspiracy to bribe, was without special interest. No visitors are allowed at the institution Sundays, and the prisoners are required to spend the day in their cells except during religious services. They are allowed newspapers and also books from the jail library.

The prisoners rise at 6.30, as on week days, and at 10 assemble in the rotunda for the religious service. The service yesterday morning was conducted by Rev. Clark Carter, city missionary and chaplain of the house of correction. At intervals it is the custom to have singers from some church assist, and yesterday this was done by a group of young people from the Friends church.

The prisoners have the privilege of joining in the singing, if they choose. When no singers from the churches take part the singing is done by the prisoners. All four of the prisoners named attended the service. Rev. Mr. Carter offered prayer, read from the Scriptures and made a brief address.

Mayor White Indisposed

In the four days since their commitment the four men have become fairly well accustomed to the routine. The change in their mode of life naturally had its effect upon them at first and Mayor White had a slight indisposition Saturday. The jail physician saw nothing of an unusual nature, however, and the mayor was later able to resume his confinement.

Mayor White's address to "the people of Lawrence" Saturday, in which he declared that patience and fortitude

Valuable Advice to Sufferers From Skin Diseases.

Under no circumstances should medicated or plain soap or any preparation containing alcohol or water be used by sufferers from eczema and similar skin troubles. These things aggravate the trouble and make it impossible for the skin to heal. The new medical compound called Cadum is the best and surest remedy, as it contains neither water nor alcohol. When applied, it excludes the air and other irritating agents, stops the itching at once, and sets up the healing process immediately. Most wonderful cures are reported from all sections. Cadum is just as effective in the treatment of psoriasis, ringworm, phlegma, blotches, rash, eruptions, chaps, itching piles, rough, scaly skin, warts, nose, herpes, etc. 10c and 50c. All druggists.

"Has not the time come in the life of our city when the good citizens of Lawrence shall demand a government by commission? Is not the time ripe for the representative business men of Lawrence to unite in a non-partisan movement on behalf of a better civil life of our municipality?"

"The great danger that threatens our political life of today is putting party success above public welfare. The government of our city should be above and independent of party politics."

Other Cities Declared as Bad
Rev. Arthur Barlow said: "We are hearing much just now about the shame of Lawrence. I'll add no more to what has been said. Only let it be said that probably half the cities in the land are not a great deal better than Lawrence."

"We are more just now than ever before, in theory only. Again and again great lawyers have said in the last two years that the spirit of the law is utterly sacrificed for the letter."

HELD MEETING AND ARRANGED FOR LAWN PARTY

A well attended meeting of the Young Men's Catholic Institute was held yesterday morning at the rooms in Stackpole street. President Sullivan occupied the chair, and two new names were added to the membership list and two propositions were received.

A committee of 15 was appointed to have charge of a lawn party to be held in the near future. President Sullivan appointed the following ways and means committee: John C. Farrington, Wm. H. O'Meara, Michael O'Keefe, James E. Burns, James Kelley and John Payne.

Vice President Farrell reported that the interior of the building will be repainted in the near future. A committee of five was appointed to have charge of an outing to be held next month. In the order of good and welfare, John Cole, John Payne, Frank Gookin, Peter Rogers and many other members were heard in very interesting remarks.

Too Much to Politicians
"The great error in our political life today is that we are leaving the affairs of municipal life to the politician, who has an ax to grind. He is in it for what he can get out of it. He is shrewd and cunning but he is lacking in honor. His general intelligence is not above the average."

"There are some city fathers whom the stockholders of the Arlington mills would not think for a moment of putting in control to direct the business of that great corporation, and there are others to whom we would not give authority to run a peanut stand for us."

"Yet this is the type of men whom we elect to office and into whose hands we entrust public interests and properties of greater value than that of the Arlington mills. Who is to blame for this condition of affairs? The good citizens of Lawrence must share this blame."

"Every citizen shares in the privileges and burdens of which he is a part. The city has a right to demand that each citizen should contribute his best effort to the city's life."

SERIOUS INJURY

Thrown to Street

Haverhill, July 18.—As a result of being thrown to the street when a big touring car struck the dray on which he was riding, Joseph Hamel of 253 River street, this city, lies in a precarious condition at the city hospital. Three of his ribs are broken, his face is cut and he is badly shaken up. H. J. Douglas of this city, who was driving the team, escaped injury.

The accident occurred late Saturday night on the state highway between this city and Lawrence, stories of how it occurred varying. Hamel was returning to Haverhill with Douglas, who held the reins over three gray horses, which were pulling a big Beach Soap company truck.

Two automobiles were going toward Lawrence. Douglas told a reporter yesterday that he was on his own side of the street and that the machine which struck him was going fast. Frank E. Norris, proprietor of the Adams house drug store in Boston, owned the machine which hit the dray and was at the wheel himself.

The other car is owned by a man named Horne of Lawrence and contained only the chauffeur.

Hamel was taken to his home and later removed to the hospital. One of the horses was badly cut, while the radiator of the car was broken, the windshield was smashed and the mud guards were wrenched. Norris contends that the dray was on the wrong side of the road and that he was not at fault. The Horne machine was stopped before the accident, so say the occupants of the Norris car, and after the accident the party left the injured machine and took Horne's car to Boston.

NEGRO TEACHER

APPOINTED BY THE ELIZABETH,
N. J., SCHOOL BOARD

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 18.—The announcement of the appointment of Richie Malsen, daughter of Edward Malsen, a negro truck driver, to be a teacher in public school 7, created much excitement in this city yesterday. Miss Malsen was appointed by the board of education to teach a primary class at an initial salary of $600 a year. Her appointment goes into effect in September.

One of the 10,000 school children in Elizabeth, scarcely more than 100 are negroes. In public school 7 the proportion of negroes is smaller than in other schools. The class to which Miss Malsen has been appointed will have no colored children in it next fall.

Miss Malsen was graduated from the teachers' training class of the Baiton high school of this city in June with first honors. She is a young woman with a very light complexion. She said yesterday to a reporter that she was not a minute.

"My father is a negro, my mother is a negro and I am a negro," she said.

Several members of the board of education said yesterday that they did not know Miss Malsen was colored when she was appointed.

ANOTHER VICTORY

Lowell Took Saturday's Game From Fall River

That Lowell is a good ball town was evidenced Saturday when despite the fact that a pouring rain storm was on 1500 persons went out to Spalding park to take a chance on seeing a game. In the crowd were many ladies who have become royal rooters and consistent fans. Had the weather been good it is estimated that a record-breaking crowd would have been present. With the aid of plenty of chalk and sand the game was started at 2:10 as a double header had been advertised and Manager Gray stated that he would play at least one game if it didn't snow.

The Fall River bunch was opposed to playing and employed dilatory tactics in order to prolong the game; but Umpire Lanigan made them go three innings before he called the game for 20 minutes. At the end of that time Lanigan was on the field again and called the players out and the visitors went out reluctantly while Bedient, the crack pitcher of the Fall River team, didn't try to pitch after the resumption of play but simply lobbed the ball over.

Parsons, the new pitcher, was out to win and he made monkeys of the visitors. In the five innings he allowed but one hit and struck out six men. The lone hit was made in the first inning by Butler, the first man up, who hit to center field for a single.

Weaver then sent him along with a sacrifice. Butler, who is a fast runner, thought he could steal third but Huston was there with a quick throw and he was nailed. Devine fanned out.

Lowell got two in the first. Fitz the first man up fanned out. Tenney drew a base on balls. Cooney whose home run yesterday was still remembered received a hand as he went to the plate and he responded by lining the ball to left centre for a clean two bagger while Tenney, had feet and all, made the entire distance to the plate for the first run.

Fitzhugh popped a fly to Weaver and was the second out. Then Magee hit to Weaver while Cooney was on the run to third. Weaver threw badly to first and Cooney scored through Mac held at first. Huston hit to Bowcock and retired the side.

In the second, Bowcock hit a hot one to Cooney who put him out at first. Bertwistle made Tenney hustle for his foul fly but Tenney was there and Bertwistle died at first. McIntyre blew out on strikes. Boutles opened for Lowell with a fly to Bertwistle. Binkley who is some batter these days cracked the sphere to centre for a single. He stole second and went to third on a bad throw by Haight. Parsons died to Devine, in too short for Blakely to score and Fitz hit in front of the plate and was retired by Haight to McIntyre.

Weisenstein in the third hit to Boutles and died at first. Haight got hit by a pitched ball and then stole second. But he next two men, struck out, Bedient and Butler.

At this point the downpour was at its height and Umpire Lanigan cried out: "Ladies and Gentlemen, the game is called for half an hour anyway."

"Let's take a bit and ball and we'll play," cried big Jack Williamson of Lawrence street who, with a friend, sat on the bleachers after all the others had fled.

At the end of 20 minutes Umpire Lanigan called the game on again as the rain had ceased, but hardly he started when the drops began to fall and fell good and hard. Lowell got her third and final run in the third. Tenney opened with a hit to left field. Cooney sacrificed. Fitz hit to Butler and died at first while Tenney took third and a single by Magee sent Tenney home. Huston struck out. In the fourth, Weaver fanned, Devine foul flied to Huston and Bowcock hit a grounder to Cooney and was out. In the fifth, Bertwistle hit in front of the plate and Huston threw him out. McIntyre flied to Fitz and Weisenstein struck out.

Lowell's last inning was the fourth. Boutles got a single and went to second on a sacrifice by Blakely. Parsons flied to Bertwistle and Fitz flied to Haight. Five innings having been played the game was declared off with Lowell the winner.

DIAMOND NOTES

In an article on College Brains and Baseball Sense in this month's Baseball Magazine, William Arnold writes:

A sample of the college man who has baseball brains was Fred Tenney. When a collegian, of good habits and quick, educated brain, does show baseball sense, that collegian is some wonder. Some wonder, gentleman, and able to do great things in clinics. Tenney was one of that kind. He didn't show much as a catcher—college catchers don't often become players and Kings in the fast company—but when they put him on first base he was a wonder of them all.

Tenney had baseball brains to the highest degree, and when he got busy on a bad throw he showed them. He was one of the oldest sandlots per former had never developed. Fred made first base playing twice as artistic, and twice as effective, as it had ever been before, and showed that here, at least, was a collegian with the baseball ganglia in his cerebrum. But what, second, but he next two men, struck out, Bedient and Butler.

At this point the downpour was at its height and Umpire Lanigan cried out: "Ladies and Gentlemen, the game is called for half an hour anyway."

"Let's take a bit and ball and we'll play," cried big Jack Williamson of Lawrence street who, with a friend, sat on the bleachers after all the others had fled.

Jake Morse has the following in the Baseball Magazine:

"Fred Tenney is now a member of the Lowell club of the New England league and that thriving organization is to be congratulated on his acquisition, for he will be a decided card for the club and the league as well. It is much regretted that Tenney did not remain in major league company, for he is still very much in the game and his vigorous methods certainly keep a club on edge. He is a first class coach and as a pinch hitter ought to make a success, for he has a splendid eye for the ball. In the New England league he can make his home every night except when the Lowell team is playing in Fall River and New Bedford."

"Joe" Boyle, Lowell's crack catcher of last year, arrived in town Saturday evening from Kankakee, Ill., to join the Haverhill team today. Joe was signed for Lowell but the 14 man rule barred him and hence Haverhill gladly snapped him up. Joe is 20 pounds heavier and states that he never felt better in his life. His health was poor in the south; he recuperated upon going west. He will play against Lowell at Spalding park. "Outside of the big league, of course, give me the old New England league, particularly Lowell," says Joe Boyle. He has a travelling card from the Hibernians and he intends to ask off for Hibernian week in Lowell. Joe, though a native of Hazlet, Pa., and never across the water in his life, speaks Gaelic fluently and can read and write it some.

VETERAN BALL PLAYERS WHO ARE HELPING MINNEAPOLIS MAKE GREAT FIGHT

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., July 18.—

Whether Manager Joe Cantillon's aggregation of former major league baseball stars will be better now that the hot weather is here and make a runaway affair of the American association race or whether they will be weakened by the latter part of August owing to their years is at the present time the most interesting subject of conversation here. When the Millers, forged to the front and captured thirteen straight victories and eclipsed the eleven straight of Toledo major critics here said that the Minneapolis veterans only needed this warm weather to get in full stride, and other clubs know that three-quarter stride, or whatever it was, was plenty and that from now on the team would continue to improve with its seasoned men working up the speed to augment the team work already developed. While they argued that, while the hot weather had brought out the best that is in the Millers, the old timers would not prove to have the stamina and vim in the latter part of the season that might be expected from youngsters, who seldom go stale even in long seasons now in vogue. But even this coterie had to admit that if it came down to a finish between veterans and youngsters they would prefer experience to the mooned vim and stamina. Pitcher Jesse Tannehill seems to have taken a new lease of life and is in grand form. Claude Rossman the old Detroit first sacker, is hitting the ball at a great clip. Hobe Ferrell is putting up a classy game at third sack.

BOXING GOSSIP

MONDAY

Matt Wells vs. Johnny Dolan and Tommy Houck vs. Jimmy Dunn, New York.
Tommy Lowe vs. Kid Seger, Baltimore.

TUESDAY

Biz Mackey vs. Joe Coster and Eddie Curtis vs. Charley Smith, New York.
Jeff Doherty vs. Dixie Kid, New York.

THURSDAY

Young Jack Johnson vs. George Parry. Tony Lorenzo vs. Young Scamler.
Al Rudolph vs. Chester Walcott and Eddie Fitzgerald vs. Young Cohen.
American A. C.
Soldier Burns vs. Young McGraw, Baltimore.
Kid Goodman vs. Tommy Berghin, Lewiston.

Sammy Kelly says he has $1,000 to bet that Jack Johnson can defeat Freddie Welsh. Ad Wolgast, Packey McFarland or Battling Nelson, and is ready to split the purse in any reasonable way. Kelly has given up the idea of securing a match for Goodman with Harlem Tommy Murphy, who has persistently dodged his challenger.

"If Jack Johnson had been whipped by Jeffries and his friends had set up a howl of nervous prostration he would have been heated out of the country," said a sporting man yesterday. "Jeffries' followers would do well to stop offering excuses, for eye-witnesses of the Reno fight say he was squarely defeated. You can't make me believe that Jeff sanctions the statements of his friends, who are evidently trying to square themselves for predicting the downfall of the negro. There was just as much cause for alleged nervousness on the part of Johnson, who had been accused of having a yellow streak, but Johnson never showed a trace of the malady before or during the battle."

WOMEN JOIN DETECTIVES IN SEARCH FOR DR. H. H. CRIPPEN

MME. FREDERICK GINNETT AND MRS. LOUISE MILLS.

NEW YORK, July 18.—Dr. Hawley Harvey Crippen, who is wanted by the London police on the charge of having murdered his wife, known as Belle Elmore, has not been found among the passengers or others who have arrived in New York on the various steamships. Detectives from police headquarters who met the ships for the purpose of intercepting and arresting the American dentist-doctor if he is on board scrutinize every passenger, cabin as well as steerage, and even the sailors, stokers, stewards and other members of the crews. Lieutenant Leeson and Moody have charge of the search and are assisted by Lieutenant Scanton and Reid of Manhattan and Waldron of the Brooklyn detective bureau. With these detectives are Mme. Frederick Ginnett, the friend of the dead woman, whose inquiries led to the discovery of the murder, and Mrs. Louise Mills, Mrs. Crippen's step-sister. Frederick Ginnett, Mme. Ginnett's husband, who also knows Dr. Crippen, is also of the searching party and remains at the gate of the customs enclosure until the last passenger has left, scrutinizing every face. The Ellis Island authorities are on the alert and are watching for Dr. Crippen. Every inspector has his description as well as that of Miss Lecher, who, it is said, may be traveling with him.

SPORTING NEWS

Pennsylvania-sporting men failed to make a pronounced hit with the promoters of race meeting launched near Wilkesbarre and Scranton recently. Those who took part in this affair drifted back to town with a few lukewarm stories that are amusing. Jack Adler, he of the stenographic voice, who used to announce the results in the local getting rings, went up into the coal mine district to help the promoters who arranged six races a day for $150 and $200 purses fully confident that there would be profitable business.

"The sports didn't turn out at all," said Adler at Empire City yesterday. "Why, the largest receipts for a single day up there amounted to $36. The rate of admission was 50 cents and a dollar and there were fifty horses at the track. As the money didn't materialize at the box office the horsemen had to race for a percentage. The biggest money a winner took down during the meeting was $18 and the second horse got $7. The winning jockey received $2 for his services and the rider of the second nag had to be satisfied with 50 cents. It was hard sledding, I can tell you, and when it came to the last day, Wednesday, they asked me to make book, as there was no other way to accommodate the patrons. Before the first race I sat on a stool half an hour without getting a bet. Then Rubie walked up and handed me a lonesome dollar to place on a bad actor. I laid 15 to 1 against the plug and then saw him roll home on the bit. That was the last straw and I promptly hiked for the railroad station handling over 15 iron men."

In allotting the weights for the $5000 Empire City Handicap, one mile and a furlong, to be run at Yorkers next Saturday, Mr. S. Vosburgh has placed Mr. Herbert and Ballot on even terms, each with 133 pounds. King James gets in with 128; Maskette has received 122; Illustrious, 120; Restigouche, 119; Sir John Johnson, 117; Firestone, 116; Priscillian, 115; Payette, 115; Joe Madden, 115; Nymus, 114; Mullins, 114; Valio, 113; Dalmatian, 111; Fashion Plate, 109; Carr, 109; and so on down to Katie Wilk with 87. Mr. Vosburgh has allotted burdens to more than sixty eligibles for this star event, including Fighting Bob, who died six weeks ago at Gravesend. From present indications the Empire City Handicap will be contested by Fitz Herbert, Stanley Fay, Pulka, Apache, Everett, Carr, Fashion Plate, Cherryola, Hanbridge, Doranto and Fauntleroy.

More than 300 horses have arrived at Saratoga, although the meeting at the Spa is three weeks off. Applications for stable room are so numerous that it looks as if there will be an overflow. The Saratoga Racing association has hung up $250,000 in stakes and overnight purses for the scheduled twenty-one days of racing and it is generally conceded that the meeting will be productive of the highest class of sport.

Starter Cassidy is ruling the jockeys with an iron hand these days. Within the last week Seville, Thomas, Bstep, Moore, Benschoten, Glass and Powers have been set down for disobedience. The entry of Polle Levy has been refused until further notice because of her fractious behavior. The barrier wire several had actors have been placed on the schooling list. Cassidy continues the method of lining the horses up twenty-five yards away from the webbing prior to walking them up to a standing position before sending them away. As there is just as much disorder when the horses reach the barrier as there is when they are sent, Cassidy says they cannot understand why the racers are not aligned close to the gate in the first place, thereby saving time.

The remarkable improvement shown by the three-year-old Noon since he was purchased by Red Walker from John E. Madden is a cause for comment. In Madden's colors Noon could not win a race and was a maiden at the time of his sale. Under Walker's magic treatment, however, Noon has suddenly displayed meteoric speed and has acquired two races of the used. Nobody ever accused Walker of being a better trainer than Madden, so that Noon's improvement in form is said to be due to the Westchester atmosphere.

Woolthorpe, the sire of Fashion Plate, The Ted and other good racehorses is dead. He was 22 years old and was owned by Col. Milton Young.

Prince Imperial and The Turk, formidable three-year-olds early in the season, show signs of staleness, yet their owners allow them to be raced steadily while the public plays them with the usual confidence. In the opinion of many turf shrews these colts need a rest.

THE BARTENDERS

Addressed by Mr. T. W. Doughty

Doughty

A meeting of the Lowell Bartenders' Union was held in Elks hall yesterday afternoon. There was a large attendance and considerable routine business was transacted. There were 63 applications for membership and 42 new members were initiated.

A feature of meeting was the presence of Mr. Thomas W. Doughty, a temperance lecturer, who gave practical advice to the members. He said that they could do their part in promoting true temperance by refusing to serve any man under the influence of liquor and also to lessen the "hard liquor traffic."

Mr. Doughty said the saloon, in the main, is what the bartender makes it and that the bartender stands in the same relationship to his employer as does the faithful nurse to the physician. The physician never cures his much, if not more, upon the nurse than upon his remedies, as also does the saloon owner upon the bartender to build up the character of the saloon.

The members of the union gave close attention to the speaker throughout.

A delegation from the Trades and Labor council comprising President Regan, Secretary Anderson and Past President Convery appeared to ask the cooperation of the union in making the Labor Day observance a success. The delegates asked that the members of the union participate in the parade, do what they could to make the Labor Day observance one long to be remembered, action was postponed on the question of appearing in the parade.

President John T. Powers presided and James E. Sullivan was secretary. Mr. Doughty was accorded a vote of thanks.

THE OIL TRUST

Sam Undermyer Plans To Fight It

LONDON, July 18.—Samuel Undermyer, on behalf of a powerful group of international bankers, has closed a deal for the purchase of a large interest in securities of oil producing properties in Oklahoma. The transaction involves an exchange of $5,000,000 in cash and $15,000,000 in securities. Mr. Undermyer when he was seen at the Ritz hotel prior to leaving for Brussels on his way to Carlsbad admitted the correctness of this information, but refused fuller particulars beyond saying that the concern was independent and the plans involved laying a big pipe line. He would admit no intention of fighting the Standard Oil, saying that there was plenty of room for both. Mr. Undermyer also said the deal was made on the joint account of London and New York interests. "We have settled our plans," he declared, "and shall go straight ahead with it. It is a gigantic scheme, involving tremendous interests. It is understood that the same group of men who made large fortunes in California fields are back of the present enterprise. Sir Weetman Pearson is one of the chief members of the new consortium to the United States and declared he was shadowed all the time by detectives in the employ of the Standard Oil company. He expects to return to the United States within the next month."

JIM JEFFRIES

MAKES ANOTHER STATEMENT ABOUT ANOTHER FIGHT

AVALON, Cal., July 18.—James J. Jeffries, who arrived here Saturday evening, spoke more to the point yesterday about his second match with Jack Johnson than he has since July 4. When asked directly if he would fight again, Jeffries said: "I shall be able to tell better after I have seen what you can do for me at Avalon. I am not saying anything at all, but two or three big fish may revive my spirits considerably."

BROKE HIS NECK

Clinton Boy Plunged Into Water

CLINTON, July 15.—Fred Baer, 17, is in the Clinton hospital with a broken neck and with scarcely any hope held out for his recovery.

The boy dived from a shelving bank on the Nashua river opposite Centennial street about 5 yesterday afternoon into four feet of water, striking the gravel bottom squarely on top of his head and breaking his neck.

A companion in bathing with him succeeded in getting him from the water and onto the bank. Dr. Edward H. Mackay was called and ordered an ambulance sent for. The boy had to be carried some distance on a stretcher to the road and was then taken to the hospital.

The fracture is about at the fifth vertebrae and his body is paralyzed. Steep banks, as the place where the accident occurred is known, was a favorite swimming place before the waters of the south branch of the Nashua river were taken by the Metropolitan water board as a supply for Boston. For some years there has been scarcely any flow of water in the river at this point, especially in the summer, and the pool has been almost stagnant water and has been little resorted to.

There was some talk about a depth of the water, but without testing it the boy ran to the edge of the bank and dived over.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Baer of Wiltig court.

CHELMSFORD

Miss E. L. Parkhurst will spend the next two weeks at the Mountain View house, North Woodstock, N. H.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred S. Levi of Rockaway, New Jersey, have been recent visitors at the home of Mrs. Levi's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Greenleaf.

Two "municipal" band concerts are to be given this week by the Chelmsford band. One will take place at South Chelmsford on Tuesday evening and the other at West Chelmsford on Wednesday evening. The band played Saturday at Franklin park, Boston, for a Lowell organization.

Sabbatus, Maine.—"You told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before childbirth, and we are all surprised to see how much good it did. My physician said 'Without doubt it was the Compound that helped you.' I thank you for your kindness in advising me and give you full permission to use my name in your testimonials."

—Mrs. H. W. MITCHELL, Box 3, Sabbatus, Me.

Another Woman Helped.

Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter." —Mrs. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Granville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Says He Will Not Write Platform or Select Candidates

BEVERLY, July 18.—President Taft yesterday, stated with more emphasis than he has heretofore employed, the position which he is taking with regard to republican state platforms and candidates.

The president does not think he should be called upon to write the party declarations in the different conventions or to name men for any of the elective offices. A president, it was intimated, has a pretty big job on his hands when he undertakes to fulfill all the pledges in the national platform and to bring congress around to the same way of thinking.

As to plans in the state platforms ignoring the administration, the president feels that unless they can be written upon what he has said and done since taking office, nothing he could add in a personal way would help matters.

The Ohio conference of the last three days have served to bring out the president's attitude. He has been informed of the general tenor of the platform to be adopted at the Columbus convention the latter part of this month, but he did not go into the details of different plans.

Under no circumstances, the president let it be known, would he express an opinion as to candidates. He hopes that the best possible man will be chosen to head the ticket in his home state. The fight this fall in Ohio, it is generally acknowledged, will be a hard one. But Mr. Taft feels that a convention made up of 1800 delegates can well be trusted to choose its own candidates in its own way.

Mr. Taft has been told that none of the three avowed candidates, Carmel Thompson, Warren G. Harding and O. B. Brown, has a majority of the votes. This has led to the opinion that a compromise candidate must be found. The friends of James R. Garfield are hopeful that the delegates may turn to him, but the state leaders, who are friendly to the administration and who will write a strong endorsement of Mr. Taft and all of his acts in the platform, declare that Mr. Garfield cannot be nominated.

The only other "sprung" candidate who is much talked of is Representative Nicholas Longworth. It is said, however, that Mr. Longworth much prefers to remain in congress, and it will take a great amount of pressure to get him into the state fight.

Judge Reynolds Kinkadee of Toledo spent an hour or more with the president yesterday. Judge Kinkadee was strongly urged for the gubernatorial nomination some weeks ago, but he let it be known that he preferred his place on the state bench. Like all of the other Ohio leaders who have come to Beverly recently, Judge Kinkadee "just happened" to be in Boston and "ran out to pay his respects."

Senator Burton is coming today. Senator Dick is still here and Wade H. Ellis, chairman of the Ohio executive committee, is within a few minutes' ride. They all expect to have a final word with Mr. Taft today.

The president yesterday consented to make three speeches in Maine during his 10 days' cruise in the northern waters. The Maine elections are held Sept. 12 and are generally looked upon as indicating the political trend of the times. Though Mr. Taft will keep away from politics, the leaders feel that his presence in the state and his appearance before the people will arouse enthusiasm and have a most desirable effect on the campaign. The democrats are making a strong bid for the state this year and the republican leaders admit that the situation is giving them much concern.

Ex-Gov. John F. Hill of Maine, chairman of the republican national committee, and Byron Boyd of Augusta, chairman of the republican state committee, were in Beverly yesterday and had an extended conference with the president. They made no attempt to conceal their delight when Mr. Taft accepted invitations to speak at Bangor, the extreme northeast corner of the United States, at Bangor and at Rockland.

Mr. Taft will spend an hour or more at each of these places. He will go ashore at Bangor from the yacht Mayflower about 9 o'clock on the afternoon of Tuesday, July 19. The speech at Bangor will be on Saturday, July 23, and at Rockland on Tuesday, July 26. Mr. Taft will go to Bangor from the harbor by special train. He will spend the night of July 23 with Senator Hale at Ellsworth.

Senator Lodge of Massachusetts lunched with the president yesterday. The Massachusetts situation was briefly discussed and both the president and senator seemed pleased with the prospects.

Archbishop O'Connell of Boston paid a call of respect and sat with the president on the piazza for half an hour. It is said that during the president's absence from Beverly the cottage he is occupying will be given a needed coat of paint.

President Taft yesterday sent a message of thanks to the emperor of Japan for the cordial welcome extended to Secretary of War Dickinson. Mr. Taft, as secretary of war, enjoyed Japan's hospitality and made many warm friends among the Japanese officials.

The message in full follows: "Beverly, Mass., July 17, 1910. 'The Emperor of Japan, Tokyo—I wish to express to your majesty my deep appreciation of the generous and courteous hospitality extended to Secretary Dickinson and his party during their visit to Japan. The expression of cordial welcome evoked strengthens the bonds of friendship between the two countries.' William H. Taft."

WAS AN ACCIDENT

Man Was Shot Through Both Knees

BOSTON, July 18.—Robert Thorson, 42 years old, married and living at 47 Sheridan avenue, Medford, was accidentally shot through both his knees yesterday morning at 9.30.

The revolver from which the bullet was discharged was in the hands of Benjamin F. Haines, of 52 Central avenue, Medford.

The two men were aboard the yacht Rover in the Mystic river near the Malden bridge in the Alvor district, Charlestown, at the time of the shooting.

Haines was examining the revolver and Thorson was sitting beside him in the cockpit of the yacht. Suddenly the report of the revolver started the other yachtsmen aboard the boats close at hand.

Thorson screamed with pain and an examination showed that the bullet had passed through both of his knees. He was landed at the bridge tender's house and the police ambulance summoned.

Thorson was removed to the Relief hospital where it was found last night that his condition was as satisfactory as may be expected under the conditions. The physicians decided that no operation was necessary.

Haines is an attorney having offices in the Kimball building. Thorson is a money order clerk at the postoffice.

After the shooting Haines went to station 15, in City square, and told his story to Captain Yeaton. He said it was an accident and Captain Yeaton was convinced of the truth of the statement and did not hold Haines.

Haines told Captain Yeaton that he had removed the magazine from the revolver and believed it was empty. He told Thorson it was empty and they snapped the trigger.

Thorson exonerated Haines at once and later he sent word to Captain Yeaton from the hospital that the shooting was accidental.

SPEAKER CANNON

Says That He Is As Well As Ever

WINFIELD, Kan., July 18.—Notwithstanding he was overcome by the heat while delivering a Chautauqua address Saturday, Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, asserts he is feeling as vigorous as ever, and against the advice of friends, he is determined to begin today a series of political speeches in the 4th Kansas congressional district.

However, he qualified his announcement that he will keep his speaking engagements by saying that he will not attempt to do all the dates if he suffers from the heat during his speech at Emporia today.

"Congressman Miller of the 4th district," Speaker Cannon said yesterday, "is sick and unable on that account to wage the campaign in his district that he desires. He asked me to help him and I want to do it, for he is an honest congressman and a square man."

Mr. Cannon is scheduled to speak at Emporia Monday afternoon, at Burlington Tuesday afternoon and at Marion Tuesday night.

These are all the speaking engagements he now has in Kansas.

STILETTO FIGHT

Mastroni Is Not Expected to Live

SPRINGFIELD, July 18.—Steve Mastroni of Westfield, who came to this city Saturday to participate in the Italian celebration of the feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, is lying in the Springfield hospital at the point of death with a fractured skull and numerous slashes in the head, limbs and body as a result of a stiletto fight in West Springfield yesterday afternoon.

His assailants escaped and the victim of the desperate slashing attack is unable to aid the police in a capture.

From what the West Springfield police can learn several Italians were involved and the assailants did not escape unhurt, judging by a large quantity of blood about the scene of the fight in Merrick street.

According to James Camp, an Italian living in Merrick street, West Springfield, Mastroni and several other Italians became engaged and a fight broke out over their differences. All were strangers to Camp.

MADE A RAID

LYNN RESERVE OFFICER AMONG THOSE CAUGHT

LYNN, July 18.—Eight men were caught in a raid on a summer street cigar store yesterday afternoon, when the police descended on the place with a gambling warrant. Among those found in the place were a reserve policeman, a letter carrier and a city official.

Reserve Officer Eben Sears headed the raiding squad and he claims to have found cards and other evidence of alleged gambling.

The matter will be officially brought to the attention of Mayor Rich and the police committee of the city council today.

It was stated last night that a thorough investigation will be made and that probably more than one person connected with the police department will have to face charges.

A GREAT PARADE

Lowell Polanders Took Part in Demonstration in Boston

BOSTON, July 18.—With a parade about two miles long that was unusually picturesque and a great meeting in Faneuil hall, the Polish people of the state yesterday celebrated the battle of Grunwald, which was fought July 15, 1410—the famous battle in which the brave slavic states of central Europe crushed the power of the Teutonic Knights of the Cross.

That battle was fought 52 years before Christopher Columbus discovered America, but it is very dear to every Slavic heart today as it has been for five centuries, because it gave the Slav races a standing in the world and made them, under the leadership of Poland, the greatest nation in Europe for a time. And during that time, for several centuries, they rolled back invasion after invasion of Tartar, Cossack and Turk, and saved Europe from the latter when Sobieski with 70,000 men, defeated the Turks, who were besieging Vienna.

Massachusetts Has 300,000 Poles

So it is not only the battle of Grunwald but all the subsequent, proud history of Poland which was celebrated here in Boston yesterday.

And it was significant of the growth in numbers and economic strength of Poles in the state, that a distinctive was the Lithuanian celebration of the same event one week ago.

There are 300,000 Poles in Massachusetts at the present time, and these were represented by societies from all the principal cities of the state, in the parade and at the meeting in Faneuil hall, which was too small to accommodate those who desired admittance.

It was a truly representative and picturesque audience which filled the hall—men, women and children—many women in their national costumes and many of the men in the military costumes of the past.

The women wore small hats which the Polish societies here adopt for such occasions.

The parade was also picturesque. There were a number of floats on which events pertinent to Polish history were displayed; the various societies had each their own distinctive costumes; there were nine bands of music; there were a great many carriages and automobiles in which were young women—handsome young women—with white umbrellas and decorated with some badge or color and all carrying Polish and American flags.

There were two small floats in a great variety of costumes, and the streets along the line of march were crowded with people.

Wreath for Washington Statue

An impressive feature of the celebration occurred when the parade was passing down Charles street to Beacon street. There was a halt for a short time while a special committee marched to the Washington monument accompanied by a company of young women in uniform and a company of young men in uniform, and with a brief ceremony laid a huge wreath on the pedestal of the equestrian statue.

Before the committee arrived a great crowd of Polish people, largely women, had gathered at the monument. Before laying the wreath, John Romaszewski made a short address in Polish, in which he spoke of the great work which Washington had done, not only for the liberty of the United States but for the liberty of the world and of the aid which the two Polish patriots and generals, Kosciuszko and Pulaski, had given Washington in the war of the revolution.

The celebration really began at the Polish Catholic church of Our Lady on Dorchester avenue, South Boston, with a high mass, at which the pastor, Rev. Fr. Chmielewski, presided, and Rev. Fr. Alexander Syski of Haverhill delivered the patriotic sermon.

The church was crowded, as were the streets in the immediate vicinity, during the service. All the morning delegations from societies had been flocking to the church in their distinctive uniforms and costumes.

After the service in the church all the societies went to the Locust street grounds, where the parade was formed. The chief marshal was F. N. West. His aides were John Sarafinowicz and John Romaszewski. The honorary president of the occasion was Rev. Fr. Chmielewski and the secretary was Rev. Fr. Alexander Syski.

With these latter rode Congressman Joseph P. O'Connell, who was the English speaking orator of the occasion at Faneuil hall.

The route of the parade was from the Locust street grounds, Dorchester avenue, Dorchester street, West Broadway, Washington street, Boylston street, Charles street, Beacon street, School street, Washington street, State street, Merchants row to Faneuil hall.

After the chief marshal and his staff came a young man and a young woman on horseback in Polish costume. Then came a company of young women in khaki shirts and red waists and without hats. They marched splendidly and got lots of applause.

Next was a company of young men in sokol costumes, then a company of Uhlans from Lowell, Worcester and Chelsea; a company of Polish hussars from the western part of the state; from Webster the 9th battery Polish artillery in natty uniforms, with rifles, under Capt. Cesar Krasowski and Lieut. Stanislaus Szepien. Then came women of the Krakus society, women of the red hussars and various other Polish women's societies in carriages and automobiles.

The floats were scattered here and there through the procession, and some of them were finely costumed and spirited. The Poles of Chelsea had an impressive float—"Poland in Chains." The Polish National Alliance had several floats.

At 11 o'clock in the parade were the special medal prizes for the occasion on one side of which in relief was the battle of Grunwald, the painting by the famous Polish artist Jan Matejko. There were 48 societies represented in the parade.

Long March to Faneuil Hall

The route of the parade was long, but the day was fine and the paraders preserved unbroken ranks from the beginning until Faneuil hall was reached. Then there was something of a scramble to get into that hall, for it is estimated there were 4000 people in line.

At the hall an orchestra played national and patriotic American and Polish airs. Most of the speaking was in Polish and dealt with the significance of the battle of Grunwald, the subject of the history of Poland as a great nation; her downfall and the cherished hope that she will yet regain her nationality.

But several of the Polish speakers impressed on those present the importance of becoming citizens of the United States as speedily as possible, of studying English, of living upright and honorable lives in the new world, of educating their children, of tending to their religious duties of preserving the spirit of Poland in their American citizenship. And these speakers were loudly applauded.

The last speaker to speak in this strain was the honorary president, Rev. Fr. Chmielewski, who was also chairman of the meeting. Another who spoke American patriotism and Polish national spirit was Fr. Syski.

Dr. Lowandowski spoke on the various Polish immigrations since the downfall of Poland.

Congressman O'Connell's Address

Congressman O'Connell was frequently applauded during the progress of his oration.

He said in conclusion:

"The Polish people believe that the ideals of nationality and religion, which flourish despite Russian, German and Austrian attempts at denationalization will some day lead the nation under the brilliancy of another Sobieski to the liberation of Europe."

"Poland's destiny as the defender of the Slavonic people was emphasized at Grunwald in 1410, her mission as the guardian of Christian civilization was magnificently executed at Vienna on Sept. 12, 1683, and her great glorious past justifies the hope that once again she will be called upon by the civilized world to use the valor, bravery and skill of her great past in some other world movement."

"Three million Poles in this country make a substantial portion of our people of whom we may justly feel proud. Their traditional love of liberty and courage in fighting for the principle of individual freedom guarantees to the United States a group of citizens on whom we may always rely with assurance."

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very enjoyable time was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Forsythe, 128 West Sixth street, Friday evening, the occasion being the birthday of their daughter, Margaret. She was the recipient of many beautiful presents, among them being a gold ring. The presentation was made by Miss Mabel Normandy. Songs were sung by Mr. Donnelly, Mr. M. J. Kelly, Mr. Kelly, Mr. Thomas Ryan and Mr. James Burns gave a comic recitation. Mr. Harold Normandy acted as pianist of the evening. Games were played during the evening and refreshments were served.

ANNUAL PICNIC

HELD AT MOUNTAIN ROCK ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The annual picnic of the Sunday school of the Swedish M. E. church was held Saturday afternoon at Mountain Rock and despite the inclemency of the weather an enjoyable time was had, though the affair would have been much more successful if Jupiter Pluvius had postponed his work until later.

Two special cars left Merrimack square at 1.30 o'clock, one having taken a load from Wiggville, while the other had gathered its human freight at the corner of Bowden and Gorham streets.

There was a number of contests pulled off before the rain fell in the afternoon, and after the coming of the much needed liquid a good time was in order in the pavilion. There was much good singing. A basket lunch was served at 6 o'clock, with hot coffee, ice cream and tonics. The return home came at about 8 o'clock in the evening. Carl G. Pihl, superintendent of the Sunday school, had general charge of the outing, and the other members of the general committee were Rev. John J. Hamilton, pastor of the church; Robert Hedlund and Adolphe Forsberg.

CHARMING INDIAN ORCHARD

We presume there will be but slight inclination to invest in parks after the noble gift of Freeman B. Shedd, but the charming beauties of Indian Orchard are so appealing that the city should acquire it for the people of Centralville. We do not suppose the price would be very great as it can never be used for any other purpose to such excellent advantage. We hope that in the near future Indian Orchard will be a part of our park system.

THE BEAM HOUSE PROPOSITION

In regard to the location of the proposed beam house on Perry street the remonstrants are wondering whether they are to be seriously considered in the matter. Their long petitions were not even read at the recent hearing.

The officials of the American Hide & Leather company seem to be quite confident of favorable action by the board of health inasmuch as they did not deem it necessary to bring their experts before the board to explain to that body and to the remonstrants just how the foul odors that usually accompany the beaming business are to be eliminated in the plant which the company has planned. It seems that the company relies sufficiently upon the board to take its word when it asserts that the beam house will not be in any way offensive to the people living in the vicinity. If the public can judge of what is to come from what has already transpired it would seem that in the contest between the people and the American Hide & Leather company the people are very likely to lose.

AS TO CANOEING FATALITIES

The canoe is responsible for more drownings than any other form of water craft used for pleasure. The ordinary rowboat is bad enough as a death trap but the canoe is very much worse. The canoe in the hands of a skilled expert may be safely used when everything is calm and serene, but in case of a sudden storm, high waves, or high wind the expert is helpless to prevent the canoe from being upset.

In the double drowning of last Wednesday evening in the Merrimack river we had an illustration of a new danger or perhaps an old danger that had not previously been noticed in the risk of boating and canoeing at night without the use of lights. Two young people lost their lives as a result of neglecting the requirements of the law that provides for lights at night upon all such craft used upon rivers controlled by the United States.

A still more serious canoeing accident occurred on the Charles river on Friday afternoon when a canoe was upset and the four occupants were dumped into the stream, two being drowned and two rescued after a struggle.

It seems that young people will have to exercise greater care so as to avoid the dangers inseparable from canoeing in any form, but more particularly at night. The amusement seems to have a fascination for some people, and while it might be expected that the fatalities we have mentioned would cause those attached to it to be more careful, yet if we are to judge from past experience, we must conclude that these fatalities receive but a passing notice and are soon forgotten. But the parties thus forgetful often pay the penalty with their lives, and they have nobody to blame but themselves. It is true today as of old and true of canoeing as of anything else, that "those who love the danger will perish in it."

SENATOR LODGE'S PROTEST

Senator Lodge in a recent speech expressed a dislike for any of the sectional terms applied to republicans, such as "insurgent," "standpatter," "reactionary," "progressist," "conservative," "machine republican" or "trust republican."

The senator seems to have a justifiable horror of some of these names and with the bravado with which David B. Hill of New York once electrified a convention with "I am a democrat," Lodge tries to dissociate himself from the trusts, the standpatters, the insurgents and the machine bosses by declaring with great gusto "I am a republican."

Oh! yes, senator, you are a republican, but you have been such an extremist on the tariff and such an abject and pliant tool of the republican machine that a great many self-respecting men in the republican party have become nauseated with your lack of principle, your readiness to sink your individuality and to seek at the sacrifice of your veracity as a man and necessarily in opposition to your own convictions of right, the triumph of the republican party. So emphatically are you committed to this policy that those who have followed your course for years cannot hold any other opinion of your manhood than that if the republican party put up a scarecrow for president you would openly and with all the eloquence at your command declare that the best interests of the country demanded the election of the republican nominee, and that his defeat would mean paralysis of business, panic and demoralization.

Yes! Mr. Lodge, you are a republican of the machine type, a valiant fighter, not for the interests of your country, not for your constituents, but for the perpetuation of republican control, apparently for the sake of office and the emoluments of office.

This is certainly not a very high standard of political conduct for a member of the august senate of the United States. What a fall from the high-minded and statesmanlike policy of the late Senator Hoar whose place Lodge now fills. Hoar was not a political hack, he was not the manipulator of a political machine; he was the guardian of the people's rights, a man of principle, honor and patriotism.

What wonder that Senator Lodge should have opposition within his own party. In his desire to appear broad minded he has often joined other senators in discriminating against his own state. He feels that his mission is fulfilled if he turns the crank on the national republican machine in a manner that will bring in the finances necessary to secure victory.

Lodge is also a star spangled, but his influence would be much more widely felt if the people did not realize in him such an ambidextrous political thimbletigger.

MOTHER'S BOY

Her hand upon my shoulder pressed, Together once we climbed a hill, My dear old mother, I yet recall Though then quite small, I yet recall How thrilled was I with joy, That smiling, she did lean on me, And call me "mother's boy."

When school days came, in all I did Her interest was keen, With such advice, such advance, Her pride was surely seen. And though I raved of outdoor sports, Never did my zest annoy, So, as a lad, I never was glad That I was mother's boy.

With all my many schoolboy chums She always was the center, Our party, filled with goodly store, Was open to all who came, And that the boys should have good times, Her wish she would employ, Till more than one-half wished in fun They were my mother's boy!

No lessening of this love e'er came, For e'en in manhood's years That parent was my comfort still; That parent was my hope and fear, And when at last she journeyed home, For me was yet this joy, At heaven's gate I knew she'd wait And watch for "mother's boy."

To cleanliness she moulded me, She heaved up the warning, To neatness and to zeal; To not alone be true to self, But true to others, too. And these things have all brought me peace, And peace without alloy, So e'en today I love to say "That I was mother's boy!" —George Whitefield D'Vise, in the Watchman.

REV. FR. NOLAN

Announced Extensive Repairs to Edifice

INTERIOR OF IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CHURCH

To Be Completely Remodeled and Improved—Steel Pillars to be Put in and Plastering Renewed and Painted

At all the masses in the Immaculate Conception church yesterday morning the pastor, Rev. Fr. Nolan, announced that extensive interior repairs had been started, and would continue for the next 10 or 12 weeks, and he asked for the hearty co-operation of the members of the parish.

Examination by an architect and an engineer had shown that it was desirable to replace the wooden pillars now sustaining the roof with steel columns, and this would be done immediately. At the same time the church would be wired for lighting by electricity, that mode of illumination now being confined to the sanctuary. The organ, too, one of the best in New England, needed a thorough overhauling, which would be given it. The plastering of the entire interior of the church must be renewed and painted. The pastor said he did not undertake these repairs through his own caprice but because they were necessary. When completed they would make the interior one of the finest in the country, as the exterior and surroundings already are. He bespoke the customary generosity of the parish in making it possible to pay the bills as they came in, so that when the work was finished it would all be paid for.

THEATRE VOYONS

The feature of today's bill at the Theatre Voyons is an excellent dramatization of one of the most successful of Rex Beach's short stories entitled "Out of the Night." It tells the story of the love of a business man for a young woman and in most novel way his love for her is put to a great test. While riding her horse becomes excited and runs away and he saves her at a cost of his sight of which fact she is ignorant. While in the hospital she visits his room and he refuses to allow the attendants to tell her that he is blind. He keeps up the deception after his recovery and intends to leave the country before she discovers his misfortune. However, she accidentally learns of it and refuses to give him up. There are several other interesting pictures on the bill and the musical selections are quite excellent.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Tonight the Lakeview theatre stock company will present for the first time a four act comedy drama entitled "Master and Man." It is a play with a logical plot and an abundance of comedy. This will be the fifth week of popularity for the company and should witness all the others for the play this week is perhaps one of the best of its kind ever written. Mr. James Thatcher will play the part of O'Neill the sailor, a role which he has played many times. Before leaving he played the part all through the winter in the regular winter season. The rest of the company will be seen to advantage in their various roles, and "Master and Man" should prove to be one of the best hits of the season.

CRUSHED BY TRAIN

MAN SUFFERED AMPUTATION OF RIGHT LEG

NASHUA, N. H., July 18.—William Hurley, who gives Milford, N. H., as his home, was brought into Nashua from Peppoli, Mass., yesterday morning, where he had been run over by a train. His right leg and left foot were crushed and one finger on his right hand and his head were injured.

Hurley is not a railroad man and it is believed that he was riding on a freight. He was brought to the emergency hospital and his right leg below the knee, all the toes on his left foot and one finger of his left hand were amputated.

SPECIAL INTEREST

In the Translation of German Banking Laws

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Special interest is given to the translation of the Imperial German Banking laws, which has been prepared under the authority of the National Monetary commission, by the fact that it contains an introduction written by Dr. R. Koch, who only recently resigned as governor of the Imperial bank, and has long been considered the foremost monetary authority in Germany. The laws themselves include the original bank act of March 14, 1875, which brought unity out of the heterogeneous mass of notes and systems of different types in Germany and the subsequent laws by which the charter of the Imperial bank has been amended at intervals of ten years. Among the latter are included the law of June 1, 1909, which resulted from the special inquiry instituted by the German imperial government during the year 1908. Doctor Koch in his introductory review of these laws declares that the conditions which prevailed in Germany with regard to circulation—coin, paper money, and bank notes—"afforded a striking picture of our political confusion." Efforts to secure a uniform coinage system by cooperation among the German states, including Austria, had brought no satisfactory results. Paper money had been issued by the government of several of the states, which became known as wild bills, which could be passed beyond the limits of the state which issued them only with difficulty and loss.

Paper which was more acceptable, although not considerable in amount, was issued also upon special concessions by railroad companies, municipalities, and other corporations. Practically in Prussia only, were conditions tolerable where the Bank of Prussia, which was vested with the unlimited right of note issue in 1856 had been able to render great services to German commerce in the crisis of 1857, 1866, and 1870, and had developed into a central note bank for the greater part of Germany. There were still, however, nine private note banks in the old provinces of Prussia, and other German sovereigns made very liberal use of their authority of granting the privilege of note issue, and often on a scale quite exceeding the amount required by the extent of their states. The effort of Prussia to protect herself by forbidding the circulation of those foreign notes was unsuccessful, especially in middle Germany, because of the varied and changing business relations of the territories. The circulation which was uncovered by bullion, excluding Bavaria, increased, according to the monthly records, from about 15,000,000 marks ($3,675,000), at the beginning of the fifties, to an average of 292,250,000 marks in 1887, and to 400,254,000 marks ($95,000,000) in 1873.

The men of far-reaching genius who had brought about the political union of Germany soon brought them to realize that such conditions could not be longer endured. Already the constitution of the North German confederation of July 26, 1867, had provided for subjecting such matters to the supervision of the confederation. Further issues of notes by the states were suspended, except with the authority of a federal law. The coinage reform was first taken up as a preliminary to the unification of the banking laws. By the law of July 3, 1873, the gold standard was adopted and a coinage provided for all of Germany uniform in character and denominations, although permitted in some of the states to bear the distinctive stamp of the local sovereign.

The coinage having been unified, the government set about the reform of the banking system on lines which suggest in some respects the financial history of the United States. Provision was made for reducing the circulation of government paper, and a committee was appointed to investigate the subject of uniform and more careful restrictions upon the banks. The issue of notes below 50 marks ($12) was prohibited after July 1, 1875, and the banks were required to publish monthly reports. A bill embodying further reforms, including a duty of 1 per cent on uncovered notes above a certain amount, was submitted to the Reichstag on November 5, 1874. The discussions on the subject, however, compelled recognition of the earnest desire for an imperial bank to be established in the public interest. So strong was this sentiment that the discussion was adjourned until a bill could be prepared establishing the Reichsbank and providing for its gradual absorption of the note-issuing function throughout Germany. "This bill became law on March 14, 1875, and, with some modifications in 1889, 1899, and 1909, is still the fundamental banking law of the Empire."

This act rested, according to the analysis of Doctor Koch, on a compromise of the central bank system with the system of a public bank of banks, which latter had its root in the existing conditions. First of all, it created for a number of years a transitional stage, freed from the most pressing evils, in order that ultimately experience would lead to the adoption of an adequate uniform system. New bank privileges could be granted only by imperial legislation. The Reichsbank thus appears, though in a moderate sense, as the central note bank of Germany. The economic and political position on which its special rights and duties rest is shown not only in the classification of its public duties, but also in the close connection indicated by its name with the institutions of the empire. Its management must not be governed solely, or even chiefly, by considerations of gain. Thus, owing to its capital and the network of branches acquired from the bank of Prussia, in bad times, the strength for the credit of the country. It aids the whole system of exchange, not only by the purchase of short-time bills and other paper but also by its collection, deposit, and disbursement business, and chiefly by its enormously developed giro or transfer operations.

Thus, according to the narrative of Doctor Koch, Germany passed through somewhat the same transitional stages as are now being discussed in the United States—a currency issued by a great variety of institutions, which were not coordinated with each other in such a manner as to meet the pressure of crisis and whose condition led to the demand for more drastic regulation by the imperial government and finally to the grant of general powers of direction over the money market to a single great institution.

The volume just issued contains, in addition to the banking laws, the text of the laws and regulations governing stock exchange operations in Germany, which have attracted so much discussion in recent years.

DARING ROBBERY

THIEF MADE AWAY WITH KELLAR'S MONEY

NEWTON, July 18.—A particularly daring robbery was perpetrated in West Newton early yesterday morning and, although the thief was chased through a window and along railroad tracks nearby, he succeeded in making his escape with a pair of trousers in a pocket of which was $50 in bills.

The robbery took place about four o'clock in the house of John H. Kellar at 174 Webster street. Mr. Kellar was awakened by a noise in his room and saw a young man climbing through the window with the trousers over his arm.

The owner shouted and gave chase, but the thief had sufficient start to get out of the yard and run in the direction of the railroad tracks while Kellar was getting to the door.

He could not give a good description of the robber beyond saying that he was a young man. The fact that the windows in the house were open gave the intruder an excellent chance to enter.

Be prepared for emergency. Dows' Cholera Syrup is an efficient remedy. Druggists sell it.

AGED ROXBURY MAN WAS DESPONDENT

BOSTON, July 18.—Despondent because of ill health, Arthur Weisse, 72 years old, made an unsuccessful attempt to end his life early yesterday morning by shooting himself at his home, 208 Cabot street, Roxbury. The revolver contained only a single blank cartridge, that caused slight injuries, from which the aged man is expected to recover within a few days.

Mr. Weisse retired as usual on Saturday evening and about 1.20 yesterday morning the household was aroused by the sound of the shot. He was found lying on the bed with a 32 caliber revolver by his side. He had placed the revolver over his right ear and fired, painfully burned his head.

Dr. Stone dressed the wound and later he was removed to the City hospital, but allowed to go home, accompanied by his son.

Police Search for Crippen

NIGHT EDITION

Suspected Doctor Believed to be on Way to New York

LONDON, July 18.—The latest theory of the Scotland yard officials is that Dr. Hawley Crippen and Ethel Clara Levee may be aboard the steamer Kroonland which sailed for New York from Dover at 11 o'clock on the night of July 9, the day the two disappeared. The steamer is due at quarantine before 12 o'clock tomorrow night. At Dover the Kroonland was boarded by one New York man and a number of passengers from London.

Crippen and his companion are supposed to have left on the afternoon of July 9. Crippen was last seen going from his office at 1 o'clock. They had ample time to catch the Red Star liner at Dover.

The inquest into the death of the woman supposed to be Belle Elmore, Crippen's wife, whose body was unearthed in the cellar of the Crippen home following the doctor's disappearance, was opened today and subsequently adjourned for one month. It developed nothing at the first session. The steamer Kroonland was reported as 60 miles east of Sandy Hook at 5 a. m. today. She should be off Sandy Hook under favorable conditions at 10 o'clock tomorrow night and at quarantine an hour and a half later. The Kroonland will probably dock about 7.30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

THE INQUEST

Interest in the mysterious murder centered today in the inquest at which it had been hoped that the physicians would be prepared to describe the manner of death and possibly make possible the identification of the dismembered body.

However, the formal evidence adduced added nothing material to what was already generally known. The only startling fact developed was that the experts were not even in a position to state definitely whether the mass of flesh dug from beneath the cellar floor was that of a woman. Instead of throwing light on the mystery the testimony served to make the case still more baffling.

When the physicians had concluded their statements it was decided to postpone the conclusion of the inquest for one month in order to give Doctor Pepper, examiner in surgery at the royal army medical college, opportunity to make a complete examination of the pieces of flesh and the police to continue the thus far fruitless search for Crippen and the Levee woman. Several witnesses recited the history of the known occurrences surrounding the tragedy from the time that suspicion first fell upon Crippen to the hour of his flight and the discovery of the murdered one.

John E. Nash, a theatrical manager, who first brought the matter to the attention of Scotland Yard upon his return here from the United States, was one of the most important witnesses. Mr. Nash said that at the request of friends in America he took up the matter of the actress' death and interviewed Dr. Crippen on the subject. The doctor, he said, was unable to give the exact place in California where Bella Elmore had died, although the physician had previously announced that his wife had died in that state.

Neither could Crippen, according to the witness, present a certificate of death, although he said he had his wife's ashes locked up in his safe. At this point Inspector Dew of Scotland Yard took up the thread of the narrative. He said that he first visited Ethel Levee at the Crippen residence. The woman on that occasion told him that she was Crippen's housekeeper.

Later the inspector went to Crippen's office and had a talk with the doctor. At this time, the witness said, the doctor admitted that all of the stories that he had previously told of his wife's death were untrue. He said that he had quarreled with Mrs. Crippen on the night of Jan. 31 last and that following the quarrel she had left him, saying that she intended to join a man who, the doctor said, he believed lived in Chicago.

On that day they sent a note to the servant, saying: "Do not worry, we are going to the theatre." Questioned in detail as to the finding of the body, Inspector Dew said that at the first of his examination of the house he found some loose bricks in the basement floor. He removed the bricks and dug into the earth beneath. At a depth of two feet he uncovered the mass of human flesh. The largest piece was less than twelve inches long. Not a bone was discovered. This piece of flesh seemed to have been carved off the skeleton. The head, feet and hands were missing. Quicklime covered the gruesome object. In one room of the house he picked up a fully loaded five chamber revolver.

Dr. Thomas Marshall, one of the surgeons who performed the postmortem, testified that he had not been able to find a trace of the bones and could not swear on anatomical grounds whether the members were those of a male or female. One piece of flesh, he said, had given rise to some debate among the medical men, but so far he had been unable definitely to decide the sex. The murderer, the surgeon said, had not only obliterated the cause of death, but also the sex of the deceased. The witness said that a microscopic examination which might disclose more than was now known was proceeding.

TENNIS EXPERTS

Met in Contests in Brookline Today

BROOKLINE, July 18.—Tennis experts from all over the country, including National Champion William A. Larned of Philadelphia, gathered at the Longwood Cricket club courts today, where the 20th annual lawn tennis tournament in singles was begun. A cool wind from the east and low temperature instilled action into the players and the first matches, which started at 10 a. m. were marked by sharp playing.

Seventy players were entered in the singles tournament and in the eastern doubles championship, which starts tomorrow, thirty pairs are entered. Drawings for the rounds in the doubles tournament were made today. R. H. Palmer and F. C. Linnan, the metropolitan cracks, were opposed to each other in one of the early matches today. Other prominent players were Beals C. Wright of Boston, M. E. McLoughlin of San Francisco of international fame, Raymond D. Little of New York, Nat W. Niles of Boston, and Wallace P. Johnson of the University of Pennsylvania and, intercollegiate champion.

Matches of relative importance, those between crack players, were deferred until late this afternoon. The committee succeeded in running off fifteen matches, most of which were decided in straight sets. Donat Whitney of Princeton, the interscholastic champion of 1908, came through easily. In the second round Frank Sulloway of Boston, former Massachusetts champion, had no difficulty in disposing of F. H. Danker, the minister player of Lynn, N. H. Beals C. Wright, one of the best schoolboy players of Boston, eliminated Q. A. McKane of Philadelphia in one of the few four-set matches played up to 1 o'clock. R. C. Seaver, former state champion, put out S. L. Reals in straight sets.

Summaries for morning:

First Round.
T. B. Plympton, Boston, defeated A. Fox, New York, 9-7, 6-2, 9-7.

THE MATHEWS

TO BE ADDRESSED BY JOHN T. SHEA AND REV. DR. KELEHER

An enthusiastic and largely attended meeting of the Mathew Temperance Institute was held Sunday in the rooms of the society in Dutton street, President James J. Gallagher in the chair. The large attendance of members at the meeting was due to a circular sent out a week ago relative to the society taking part in the demonstration to be held in conjunction with the national convention of the C. T. A. U. of America to be held in Boston on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. Action was deferred until next Sunday morning, when the members will be addressed by President John T. Shea of the C. T. A. U. of Boston, and the Rev. Dr. Keleher, the newly appointed chaplain of the society. James J. Gallagher to represent it at the national convention of the C. T. A. U. of America in Boston.

The officers recently elected by the society were duly installed by ex-President Michael F. Lavin.

The society will hold, in conjunction with the St. John's T. A. society and ladies' auxiliary of North Chelmsford, a social dance the latter part of this month at Breezy Point.

The society has already appointed a committee to make arrangements for the celebration of Fr. Mathew's birthday, the 10th of October. It is the society's intention to celebrate the birthday of the apostle of temperance this year with a banquet, concert and ball.

LIEUT. SULLIVAN LEBLANC IS DEAD

Saved Woman and Girl From Freight Car Crash As Result of Alleged Assault by John F. Costello

They Were Driving in Front of Car When Lt. Sullivan Jumped From Electric Car and Stopped the Horse—The Animal's Head Struck by Car

An elderly woman and girl had a narrow escape from being killed at the grade crossing in Bridge street this morning when one of the railroad cars which was being shifted struck the horse which was attached to the carriage in which they were riding. The presence of mind and quickness of Lieut. James A. Sullivan of Horse Company No. 7, located in Central street, was undoubtedly the only thing that saved their lives.

Lieut. Sullivan was on the front seat of an upward bound Lakeview car at 9.46 o'clock. The car reached the canal bridge in Bridge street and stopped in order to allow some freight cars to be shifted across the street.

At about the same time the horse driven by the woman approached the crossing from the direction of Merrimack square. She apparently did not notice the railroad cars for she pulled out of the way of the electric car and headed the horse as if to go around it. Lieut. Sullivan realizing that a collision and probable fatality was imminent jumped from his seat on the car and rushing across the track grabbed the horse by the head just as one of the cars struck its head. The horse made a jump but Mr. Sullivan held on to it and giving a sharp pull on the reins steered the horse to one side. Those who witnessed the incident were profuse in their praise for Lieut. Sullivan, stating that he undoubtedly prevented what might have been a fatal accident.

Henry Leblanc, otherwise known as White, who it is alleged, was assaulted by John F. Costello, 11 Central street, Monday night about 7 o'clock, died this morning at 7.15 o'clock at St. John's hospital where he was taken shortly after the assault. From the time that Leblanc was taken to the hospital until he passed away this morning he failed to recover consciousness.

Leblanc resided at 104 Chelmsford street and is survived by his mother, brother Edward and a sister Beatrice. He was 27 years of age.

The complaint of assault and battery which had been preferred against Costello was this morning changed to that of manslaughter.

Leblanc was found in an unconscious condition in a doorway in Central street near the corner of Market on Monday night and while it was at first thought that the man was in an intoxicated condition it later developed that he had been struck and in falling his head had come in contact with the sidewalk, rendering him unconscious.

Later the police learned that Leblanc had been struck by a person alleged to be Costello and they immediately started in search of the latter and a couple of hours later traced him under arrest on a charge of assault and battery.

Costello appeared in court this morning following the assault and through his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, entered a plea of not guilty to the complaint. In agreement the case was continued until last Saturday morning, both being placed at $300.

Saturday morning Costello appeared in court and Judge John J. Pickman decided that owing to the condition of Leblanc the bail should be increased and he informed Costello that $700 bonds would have to be furnished in order to be released until such time as Leblanc was able to appear in court.

Refusing to secure the required bond Costello was remanded to jail where he is at the present time.

As soon as Leblanc died this morning word was telephoned to the police station and Supt. Welch immediately swore out a warrant charging Costello with manslaughter and sent it to the jail in Thorndike street. In case that Costello should secure bonds between now and next Wednesday, when he is supposed to appear in court, the warrant will be served.

If he fails to secure bonds before Wednesday, the charge of assault and battery will be withdrawn and that of manslaughter substituted.

Costello in his statement alleged that Leblanc interfered with him and his wife on the public street and that to prevent Leblanc from assaulting him he gave the latter a push, causing him to fall.

An autopsy on the body of Leblanc was performed this morning at St. John's hospital by Medical Examiner Joe V. Meigs, assisted by Drs. Thomas B. Smith and Anders, the latter being house physician at the hospital.

The examination showed that death was due to a fracture of the base of the skull.

Refusing to secure the required bond Costello was remanded to jail where he is at the present time.

As soon as Leblanc died this morning word was telephoned to the police station and Supt. Welch immediately swore out a warrant charging Costello with manslaughter and sent it to the jail in Thorndike street. In case that Costello should secure bonds between now and next Wednesday, when he is supposed to appear in court, the warrant will be served.

If he fails to secure bonds before Wednesday, the charge of assault and battery will be withdrawn and that of manslaughter substituted.

Costello in his statement alleged that Leblanc interfered with him and his wife on the public street and that to prevent Leblanc from assaulting him he gave the latter a push, causing him to fall.

An autopsy on the body of Leblanc was performed this morning at St. John's hospital by Medical Examiner Joe V. Meigs, assisted by Drs. Thomas B. Smith and Anders, the latter being house physician at the hospital.

The examination showed that death was due to a fracture of the base of the skull.

Is Doing Some Patch Work in Aiken Street

The street department is doing patch work in Aiken street. There are some bad holes in the macadam in that street, and Supt. Putnam decided that instead of paying outsiders to do the work, as has been the custom in the past, he would do it himself and fill the holes with cement concrete instead of macadam. He says the experiment will be worth while.

A leak in a six inch main in Dutton street caused a flow of excitement this forenoon, but it didn't amount to much. The leak occurred on the corporation between Moody street and the Merrimack counting room. It was shut off before it had done any harm.

Freeman B. Shedd Gift

The aldermen will meet tomorrow night and will take some action relative to the acceptance by the city of the 50 acres of land offered the city by Freeman B. Shedd for park and playground purposes. Resolutions relative to it will be introduced by Alderman Carmichael.

Deaths by Drowning

The report of deaths received at the city hall show that there have been eight deaths by drowning during the month of July. Seven of the deaths were accidental and the other was a suicide. These eight do not include the accidental drowning at Long pond in Dracut, John O'Brien was the victim of the Long pond drowning.

Appropriations Committee

The committee on appropriations will meet tomorrow night at 7 o'clock and several matters of importance will come before the meeting. The matter of securing a lease of the Lakeview grounds from the Merrimack Manufacturing company will be discussed. Alderman Connors at the last meeting of the committee, urged the passage of an order appropriating $100 to put the grounds in shape. At that time it was considered proper to consult Agent Jude C. Weddell of the Merrimack corporation and it was learned that he will lease at will the 75,000 square feet of land to the city.

NOTICE! DIVISION II, A. O. H.

There will be a special meeting, tonight, at 8 o'clock, to make arrangements for attending the funeral of our deceased brother, John Allen, 652 Lawrence street, and Joseph McCusker, 97 South street. Signed, PATRICK CONNOLLY, Pres., WM. NELSON, Fin. Sec'y.

AN INQUEST

INTO DEATH OF RICHARD HOFFMAN AND MISS CLEGG

An inquest into the cause and responsibility of the deaths of Richard Hoffman and Mary Clegg was held before Judge John J. Pickman in the police court this afternoon. There were about 15 witnesses present, prominent among whom were Medical Examiner Meigs, Emmanuel J. Grenier and the woman who was with the latter at the time of the accident.

Hoffman and Miss Clegg were in a canoe on the Merrimack river last Wednesday night and were run down by a motor boat which was occupied by Grenier and a young woman.

The excitement was not entirely confined to the near positions, for owing to the bullish character of many private crop advisers and other unsatisfactory conditions there seemed to be a scarcity of foreign shorts in the new crop months and with a broadening investment demand also in evidence these deliveries sold about 25 to 27 points not high without, however, quite reaching the high records reported earlier in the season. Cotton appears to be coming here from practically all directions, and it is said that southern shippers can even pay all rail freights and send cotton here at a profit as compared with spot quotations in the south. But while shippers may be able to ship here profitably, the original short interest in the near months must be taken in enormous losses, while there can be little doubt that the bulls are securing big profits from the sale of contracts.

LEG BROKEN

HORSE FELL AND WAS BADLY INJURED

This afternoon shortly before 7 o'clock, Merrimack square, especially that portion of it near the corner of Bridge and Bridge streets, was set in an uproar and travel on the Bridge street line was suspended. The cause of the trouble was an accident to a very valuable horse, the property of Mrs. E. P. Simpson and driven by Ralph S. Gross.

While turning from Paige street into Bridge street the horse slipped on the tracks and went down, fracturing the right hind leg and injuring one of the fore legs. The animal was raised on its feet but fell over like a log. Officer Murphy, who was bearing up one side, had a narrow escape from injury as the horse fell over against him.

COTTON MARKET EXCITED
NEW YORK, July 18.—There was a renewal of the intense excitement noted in the cotton market toward the close of last week at the reopening this morning. The demand for July seemed to be much less active, suggesting that sufficient cotton had been secured in the south or abroad to satisfy such contracts as remained outstanding, but that position made a new high record for the season, selling at 16.55, while there was a sensational demand for August and September with these deliveries selling anywhere from 24 to 38 points over the closing figures of Saturday.

Special Grand Jury is Investigating

CHICAGO, July 13.—A special federal grand jury today began the second investigation of the year into the workings of the Chicago beef packing industry. Several officials and employees of the National Packing Co. were subpoenaed to appear in the jury room today.

TO PREVENT CONSUMPTION
PITTSBURGH, July 13.—The state board of health has completed experiments in preventing tuberculosis which it is said promise to stamp out the disease. The announcement of this discovery was made Saturday by Dr. S. G. Dixon of Philadelphia, state commissioner of health, at a banquet given by a McKeesport hospital. Dr. Dixon was slated for an address, but before beginning he said he had a little surprise for the physicians—a sure preventive for tuberculosis. The state board of health is now working on the principle that the preventive may be used as a cure for cases partly developed. This, however, has not been ascertained.

Dr. Dixon said he was not at liberty to give out the secrets of the preparation. Dr. Dixon said the authorities at Harrisburg had been working on the process for several years and that the first principle involved was the discovery of an obscure country doctor.

WHISKEY-TRUST ACTS
WASHINGTON, July 15.—The application of the supposedly final ruling of President Taft on what constitutes whiskey may be suspended as the result of the restraining order issued by Louisiana courts acting on a petition of representatives of the so-called whiskey trust.

The whiskey interests contend that the government has no right to dictate that whiskey shall be made only from the grain; that there is no reason why whiskey made from sawdust, potato prunings or any other such material should not be in the same taxable status as whiskey from grain.

LATEST OUTLAWS KILLED

Renegade Moros Made Attack on American Secretary

MANILA, July 18.—Dean C. Worcester, American secretary of education for the Philippines, was set upon by renegade Moros on the island of Palawan today and escaped assassination only through the alertness of his bodyguard, who shot down the outlaws, killing three of them.

Secretary of the Interior Worcester was touring the island which is the most westerly of the larger of the Philippine group bounding the Sulu sea on the west and was present at the installation of the new governor. In anticipation of his coming a band of Moros planned his death. Armed with

Will Start on Ten Days' Cruise This Afternoon

BEVERLY, July 18.—With the presidential yacht Mayflower all white and spruced up for the ten days' cruise in Maine waters, President Taft will leave Beverly late this afternoon on that craft. President Taft and his family have been looking forward to the cruise with a great deal of pleasure. There will be no conveyer, but the Mayflower will keep close to the shore and be in wireless touch with the navy stations.

The trip to Maine was planned wholly as a vacation outing but at the last moment the president consented to make three speeches. The addresses will be entirely informal and President Taft will not touch upon politics. The first visit ashore will be at Eastport where the first speech will be delivered. The Mayflower will arrive at Eastport at noon Tuesday. The second speech will be at Bangor Saturday, the twenty-third, and the third will be delivered at Rockland, on Tuesday, the twenty-sixth.

Mr. Taft will spend three days at Bar Harbor and each afternoon there he will devote his attention to golfing. The Mayflower's itinerary in a general way is as follows:

Monday, July 18, leave Beverly.
Tuesday, July 19, at Eastport.
Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, July 20, 21, and 22, at Bar Harbor.
Saturday, July 23, at Bangor during the afternoon; spend the night at the home of Senator Hale, at Ellsworth.
Sunday and Monday, July 24 and 25, cruising near Bar Harbor and Islesboro with a stop at the latter place.
Tuesday, July 26, at Rockland.
Wednesday, July 27, at Biddeford Pool.
Thursday, July 28, arrive at Beverly.

The personnel of the party on the Mayflower is as follows:

The president, Mrs. Taft, Master Charles Taft, Horace D. Taft, brother of the president, Prof. and Mrs. Louis T. Moore of Cincinnati; Secretary Norton; Assistant Secretary of the Navy and Mrs. Bechtold; Miss Mabel Boardman and Captain Butt.

Before going on board of the Mayflower this afternoon the president will have a further conference with Senators Burton and Dick and Wade H. Ellis, chairman of the republican state executive committee, regarding Ohio politics.

TO ABANDON FORT
NEW LOWELL, July 18.—The first step in the abandonment of Fort Trumbull by the war department to the treasury department was taken today when the 132nd company, Coast artillery, went to Fort H. G. Wright, Fishers Island. The company will go into summer camp there and in the fall will occupy new barracks. On Aug. 1 the treasury department will assume control of Fort Trumbull and the school for cadets of the revenue cutter service now at Arundel Cove, Md., will be moved there. The old army post was one of the most important strategic points in the Revolutionary war.

PRESIDENT TAFT OFF FOR CRUISE OF THE MAINE COAST

BEVERLY, July 18.—President Taft and Captain G. W. Loran of the Mayflower have completed the itinerary of the Maine coast trip. It is: July 18, 3 p. m., leave Beverly; July 19, arrive Eastport, Me.; July 20, arrive Bar Harbor; July 23, arrive Ellsworth, Me., where the president and his party will dine with Senator Eugene Hale and will spend the night at his home; July 24, touch at Islesboro and cruise along the coast; July 25, stop at Biddeford Pool, Me., and leave Mrs. Louis T. Moore, sister of Mrs. Taft; July 28, 3 p. m., arrive Beverly. The party will consist of the president and Mrs. Taft,

The president's yacht Mayflower, Charlie Taft, Mrs. More, Helen Taft, Horace D. Taft, and the president.

Miss Helen and Charlie Taft, Horace D. Taft, brother of the president, and Mrs. More. No politics will be tolerated on the trip except such as Senator Hale may talk. The presidential party will live practically all the time on the Mayflower. Six hundred and thirty guns will boom as the Mayflower steams into the harbor of Provincetown, Mass., Aug. 5. Fifteen United States warships will be there, and each must give the salute of 21 guns as the president arrives and departs. The occasion is the dedication of a monument to the pilgrims, the cornerstone of which was laid by President Roosevelt. Mr. Taft as secretary of war was a member of the commission that erected the monument.

VOLIVA PEOPLE

Gave Immense Free-Will Offering

CHICAGO, July 18.—Silver coins and bills a foot and a half deep were thrown into a tri-colored barrel placed before the pulpit at Zion City tabernacle yesterday by the followers of Wilbur Glenn Voliva, general overseer of the Christian Catholic church of Zion, successor to John Alexander Dowd, who marched over the north shore city and took formal possession of the buildings which last week again came into their control through the action of the federal court in dissolving the receivership.

The call for the free-will offering preceded the march about the city and thousands of men, women and children filed past the tri-colored barrel that stood before the pulpit and cast there-in their offerings, ranging from five cent pieces to twenty dollar bills.

SEVEN INJURED

One Man Not Expected to Live

SEATTLE, Wash., July 18.—Seven persons were injured, one probably fatally, when an automobile driven by W. A. Briggs and carrying a party of friends, ran into another machine driven by Henry Mayamoto, a chauffeur, late yesterday. Mr. Briggs sustained a fractured skull and is not expected to survive.

INDUSTRIAL TRAINING
HALIFAX, N. S., July 18.—Public sessions opened the world's tour of the members of the international commission on industrial training and technical education in this city today. The commission was appointed at the request of the prime ministers of all the provinces to develop a national industrial movement.

KENTUCKY RACING ASSOCIATION
LEXINGTON, Ky., July 18.—A call has been issued for a special meeting of the board of directors of the Kentucky Racing association to be held here July 21 to decide whether a fall meeting shall be held in conjunction with those of Churchill Downs and Latonia.

ROOSEVELT'S WESTERN TRIP
OSTERVILLE, N. Y., July 18.—Col. Roosevelt put in the morning at work with his secretary, Frank Harper, in making plans for his western trip. He said no visitors were coming today to talk politics.

CROPS DAMAGED
LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 18.—For the second time in ten days Kentucky was swept by highly destructive storms yesterday. The damage to crops is estimated at 50 per cent, wheat suffering most.

REST AND HEALTH TO MOTHER AND CHILD.
Mrs. W. W. W. of Southey, N. Y., has been cured of her chronic illness by the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People. She writes: "I was a weak, nervous, and irritable woman, and my children were suffering from the same. After taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People, I feel like a new woman, and my children are healthy and happy." The regular monthly sessions of the probate courts will be held at the local court house tomorrow morning.

A SERIOUS FIRE

Is Raging Near Pine Creek

WALLACE, Idaho, July 15.—A fire of serious proportions is raging near Pine Creek and is making its way with great rapidity toward Kellogg. The buildings of the Duland Mining company have been consumed and the fire is working in the direction of three other mining camps. Seven men of the two hundred fire fighters sent from Vancouver and Kellogg have been cut off and there are fears for their safety. Settlers in the path of the fire are flocking to Kellogg with their families.

NORTH CHELMSFORD

Yesterday morning after the 9.15 mass in St. John's church a meeting of all the parishioners was held to make arrangements for the annual parish picnic. A very large number was in attendance. The chairman of the meeting was James P. Quigley, and Mary Valentine was appointed secretary. Henry Miner, who proved such a hustling manager last year, was re-elected this year and given full power to appoint his committees. The picnic is to be held at Nahansett grove Saturday, Aug. 6th.

The regular meeting of St. John's ladies' auxiliary will be held tomorrow night in St. John's hall. The society has received word that the newly appointed deputy, Mrs. Catherine Tilton, who is the second vice president of the C. T. A. U., will pay her official visit. That there will be a large attendance will be assured, as the members are always pleased to have a visit from Mrs. Tilton. There will also be guests from the Methuen Temperance Institute of Lowell and the members of St. John's society, as both societies are always ready to welcome Mrs. Tilton.

HIS ARM TORN OFF

Sad Accident to Philip Emond in Massachusetts Mills

Philip Emond, residing at 176 Ludlum street, had his left arm taken off at the shoulder in a machine in the cloth room of the Massachusetts mills, where he is employed, about 7.30 o'clock this morning. He also suffered two compound fractures of the right arm. The ambulance was summoned and the man was hurried to the Lowell hospital, where he received treatment, but owing to the vast amount of blood which he lost the hospital authorities are unable to state as to whether he will recover.

It is doubtful if any other person in the room where Emond is employed other than himself knows how the accident occurred. The first intimation that they had that anything was wrong was when they heard loud shrieks, and rushing to the place

18 MONTHS TO JAIL

Sentence of Andrew J. Coan on Charge of Polygamy

Judge Pickman presided at the session of the police court this morning, and found awaiting his attention several important cases, among them being the charge of polygamy against Andrew J. Coan. The evidence in this case was heard some few days ago, and the question before the court this morning was, just what the sentence should be. Judge Pickman after duly considering the case, sentenced the defendant to 18 months in the Lowell jail. The defendant appealed, and was ordered to recognize in the sum of $500, which he furnished this morning.

When the case was called this morning, Lawyer A. S. Emerson of Boston, representing the first wife, maiden name, Mabel C. Souther, and Major Robert J. Crowley, representing Mr. Coan, and the second wife, maiden name, Maud Bulmer, had a long conference with the court. Both ladies were heard, and the court asked several questions bearing on the points at issue, and also listened to several statements made by the attending lawyers, after which he imposed the sentence of 18 months.

Assault Case
Napoleon Guerin was charged with assault upon an officer, and drunkenness. He pleaded not guilty to the assault charge, but allowed that he was so drunk that he really did not know just what he was doing. The testimony of the arresting officer, Henry W. Hornum of the Dracut police department, was to the effect that the defendant was very drunk Sunday evening at Lakeview. He told him to take a car and go home, and then and there Guerin struck him several times, tearing his clothes. He placed him under arrest, and sent him to the station. The defendant allowed that he had a mild jag, but did not remember that he had committed any assault. "What were you drinking?" asked the court. "Whiskey, or something like that Your Honor." That kind of stuff is apparently too strong for you; you had better leave the rye alone. So long as you have work to go to, I will allow you to depart, upon the payment of a fine of $15, for the assault, and the complaint of drunkenness.

Michael Mulcahey, Thomas Condliffe and James Connaughton were each fined $5 for being drunk on a Sunday.
Celina Hebert was arrested on Thordike street Saturday evening by Patrolman Joseph Farley, and this morning she insisted that she was not sober. After the evidence on both sides had been heard, she was adjudged guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $6. John A. Myron was also given a $6 fine for a like offense.
James Caldwell was in for the third time, and he was awarded a suspended sentence of four months.
John J. Mahoney, a parolee from the state farm, was given a chance to do better, and he will be in care of the probation officer for the next six months.
Herbert Stowell was not able to appear and his case will be heard on Wednesday.
There were three $2 fines and nine released by the probation officer.

MANY HEARINGS

To Come Before Committee on Streets

The following petitions will come before the committee on sewers at its meeting, beginning at 7.30 o'clock on the evening of July 25:
C. H. Hibbard, that a sewer be laid in French street, from the lower catch basin to Bridge street.
Joseph Holman, for abatement of sewer assessment in Bridge street.
Stephen Breen, that sewer be laid in Crawford street, from Fourth avenue to White street.
H. W. Knowlton and others, that a sewer be laid in Monadnock avenue, from Westford street northerly about 250 feet.
Patrick Farrell and others, that the sewer in Manchester street be extended.

John F. Conlon, that a sewer be laid in Aberdeen street, from Methuen street southerly about 100 feet.

The following petitions will come before the committee on streets, at its meeting Thursday evening, July 21, at 7.30 o'clock:
Committee on fire department recommends that Beaulieu street be extended from West Sixth street to Carolyn street.
Jacques Hamel and others, that Bodwell avenue be accepted from Gershon avenue to White street, and sidewalks of edgestones and cinders laid on both sides.

David Dickson and Azro M. Dows, that a portion of the grade of Smith street be re-established from a point of 350 feet, northerly from Horn street, southerly, a distance of about 152 feet.

Albert O'Hair and C. I. Hood, that the line and grade of a portion of Clark road be changed.
A. Jean and others, that Melvin street be accepted.
Sinal Mathon and others, that Woodcock street be accepted from Gershon avenue to White street and sidewalks of edgestones and cinders be laid on both sides.

John Patnaud and others, that

Jacques street be accepted from Indian street to the cemetery and sidewalks of edgestones and cinders be laid on both sides.

Richard Gumb and others, that edgestones be laid on the north side of Bourne street from Moore street to Otis street.

Michael J. Mahoney and others, that edgestones be laid on Exeter street from Barker street to Fisher street and that said street be macadamized from Lakeview avenue to Fisher street.

August Petterson and others, that a sidewalk of edgestones and concrete be laid on the southerly side of Nottingham street, and a sidewalk of edgestones and cinders on northerly side of said street.

J. O. Poirier and others, that Gardner avenue be extended to Mt. Hope street and a sidewalk of edgestones and cinders be laid on both sides of the street.

George Couture and others, that concrete sidewalks be laid in front of their premises on Hastings, Burgess and Grace streets.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANKS
WASHINGTON, July 18.—Several months will be required to make preparations for establishing postal savings banks according to the opinion expressed by Postmaster General Hitchcock before leaving the United States for a brief vacation abroad.

The desire of President Taft to have the system operated in part as soon as possible by the establishment of from 10 to 20 experimental postal banks probably will hasten the work of opening them for business.

The trustees of the postal savings bank system will hold a meeting shortly after Mr. Hitchcock return to this city, when it is expected both Sec. MacVegh of the treasury department and Attorney General Wickersham, the other trustees, will be here.

POLICE COMMISSION
WASHINGTON, July 18.—The personnel of the universal police commission provided for in the closing days of the last session of congress will be named in the near future. Friends of the project still are hopeful that former President Roosevelt will accept the chairmanship. Fifty members will constitute the commission, all to be appointed by the president.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Says He Will Not Write Platform or Select Candidates

BEVERLY, July 18.—President Taft yesterday stated with more emphasis than he has heretofore employed, the position which he is taking with regard to republican state platforms and candidates.

The president does not think he should be called upon to write the party declarations in the different commonwealths or to name men for any of the elective offices. A president, it was intimated, has a pretty big job on his hands when he undertakes to fulfill all the pledges in the national platform and to bring congress around to the same way of thinking.

As to planks in the state platforms endorsing the administration, the president feels that unless they can be written upon what he has said and done since taking office, nothing could add in a personal way would help matters out.

The Ohio conference of the last three days have served to bring out the president's attitude. He has been informed of the general tenor of the platform to be adopted at the Columbus convention the latter part of this month, but he did not go into the details of different planks.

Under no circumstances, the president let it be known, would he express an opinion as to candidates. He hopes that the best possible man will be chosen to head the ticket in his home state. The fight this fall in Ohio, it is generally acknowledged, will be a hard one. But Mr. Taft feels that a convention made up of 1800 delegates can well

ADS FRUIT LAX

Here is a gentle, never failing laxative which works upon the liver and bowels without griping or causing nausea or a worried feeling afterward.

It does not upset the entire system, causing loss of appetite, great inconvenience and distress, but it acts like nature acts and you can take it any time during the day or night. It is one of the best remedies of the great American Druggists Syndicate of 12,000 druggists, and entirely unlike any other laxative. In fact, next to a reputable physician's prescription it is the best laxative known.

President Taft yesterday sent a message of thanks to the emperor of Japan for the cordial welcome extended to Secretary of War Dickinson. Mr. Taft, as secretary of war, enjoyed Japanese hospitality and made many warm friends among the Japanese officials.

The message in full follows:

"Beverly, Mass., July 17, 1910.

"The Emperor of Japan, Tokio—I wish to express to your majesty my deep appreciation of the generous and courteous hospitality extended to Secretary Dickinson and his party during their visit to Japan. The expression of cordial welcome evoked strengthens the bonds of friendship between the two countries.

WAS AN ACCIDENT

Man Was Shot Through Both Knees

BOSTON, July 18.—Robert Thorson, 42 years old, married and living at 47 Sheridan avenue, Medford, was accidentally shot through both his knees yesterday morning at 9.30.

The revolver from which the bullet was discharged was in the hands of Benjamin H. Haines, of 52 Central avenue, Medford.

The two men were aboard the yacht Rover in the Mystic river near the Malden bridge in Alvor district, Charlestown, at the time of the shooting.

Haines was examining the revolver and Thorson was sitting beside him in the cockpit of the yacht. Suddenly the report of the revolver started the other yachtsmen aboard the boats close at hand.

Thorson screamed with pain and an examination showed that the bullet had passed through both of his knees. He was landed on the tender's house and the police ambulance summoned.

Thorson was removed to the Relief hospital where it was found last night that his condition was as satisfactory as may be expected under the conditions. The physicians decided that no operation was necessary.

Haines is an attorney, having offices in the Kimball building. Thorson is a money order clerk at the postoffice.

After the shooting Haines went to station 13, in City square, and told his story to Captain Yeaton. He said it was an accident and Captain Yeaton was convinced of the truth of the statement and did not hold Haines.

Haines told Captain Yeaton that he had removed the magazine from the revolver and believed it was empty. He told Thorson it was empty and then snapped the trigger.

Thorson exonerated Haines at once and later he sent word to Captain Yeaton from the hospital that the shooting was accidental.

SPEAKER CANNON

Says That He Is As Well As Ever

WINFIELD, Kan., July 18.—Notwithstanding he was overcome by the heat while delivering a Chautauque address Saturday, Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, asserts he is feeling as vigorous as ever, and against the advice of friends he is determined to begin tomorrow a series of political speeches in the 4th Kansas congressional district.

However, he qualified his announcement that he will keep his speaking engagements by saying that he will not attempt to all the dates if he suffers from the heat during his speech at Emporia today.

"Congressman Miller of the 4th district," Speaker Cannon said yesterday, "is sick and unable on that account to wage the campaign in his district that he desires. He asked me to hold him and I want to do it, for he is an honest congressman and a square man."

Mr. Cannon is scheduled to speak at Emporia Monday afternoon, at Burlington Tuesday afternoon and at Marion Tuesday night.

These are all the speaking engagements he now has in Kansas.

STILETTO FIGHT

Mastroni Is Not Expected to Live

SPRINGFIELD, July 18.—Steve Mastroni of Westfield, who came to this city Saturday to participate in the Italian celebration of the feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, is lying in the Springfield hospital at the point of death with a fractured skull and numerous slashes in the head, limbs and body as a result of a stiletto fight in West Springfield yesterday afternoon.

His assailants escaped and the victim of the desperate slashing affray is unable to aid the police in a capture.

From what the West Springfield police can learn several Italians were involved and the assailants did not escape unhurt, judging by a large quantity of blood about the scene of the fight in Merrick street.

According to James Camp, an Italian living in Merrick street, West Springfield, Mastroni and several other Italians became engaged and went to the street to fight out their differences. All were strangers to Camp.

MADE A RAID

LYNN RESERVE OFFICER AMONG THOSE CAUGHT

LYNN, July 18.—Eight men were caught in a raid on a summer street cigar store yesterday afternoon, when the police descended on the place with a gambling warrant. Among those found in the place were a reserve policeman, a letter carrier and a city official.

Reserve Officer Elton Sears headed the raiding squad and he claims to have found cards and other evidences of alleged gambling.

The matter will be officially brought to the attention of Mayor Rich and the police committee of the city council today.

It was stated last night that a thorough investigation will be made and that probably more than one person connected with the police department will have to face charges.

A GREAT PARADE

Lowell Poles Took Part in Demonstration in Boston

BOSTON, July 18.—With a parade about two miles long that was unusually picturesque and a great meeting in Faneuil hall, the Polish people of the state yesterday celebrated the battle of Grunwald, which was fought July 15, 1410—the famous battle in which the brave states of central Europe crushed the power of the Teutonic Knights of the Cross.

That battle was fought 52 years before Christopher Columbus discovered America, but it is very dear to every Slav heart today as it has been for five centuries, because it gave the Slav races a standing in the world and made them under the leadership of Poland, the greatest nation in Europe for a time. And during that time, for several centuries, they rolled back invasions from invasion of Tartar, Cosack and Turk, and saved Europe from the latter when Sobieski with 70,000 men defeated the Turks, who were besieging Vienna.

Massachusetts Has 300,000 Poles

So it is not only the battle of Grunwald but all the subsequent proud history of Poland which was celebrated here yesterday.

And it was significant of the growth in numbers and economic strength of the Poles in this commonwealth, as was the Lithuanian celebration of the same event one week ago.

There are 300,000 Poles in Massachusetts at the present time, and these were represented by societies from all the principal cities of the state in the parade and at the meeting in Faneuil hall, which was too small to accommodate those who desired admittance.

It was a truly representative and picturesque audience which filled the hall—men, women and children—many women in their national costumes and many of the men in the military costumes of their native land which the Polish societies here adopt for such occasions.

The parade was also picturesque. There were a number of floats on which events pertinent to Polish history were displayed; the various societies had each their own distinctive costumes; there were nine bands of music; there were a great many carriages and automobiles in which were young women—handsome young women—with white umbrellas and decorated with some badge or color and all carrying Polish and American flags.

There were men on horseback in a great variety of costumes, and the streets along the line of march were crowded with people.

Wreath for Washington Statue

One impressive feature of the celebration occurred when the parade was passing down Charles street to Beacon street. There was a halt for a short time while a special committee marched to the Washington monument accompanied by a company of young women in uniform and a company of young men in uniform, and with a brief ceremony laid a huge wreath on the pedestal of the equestrian statue.

Mayor Howard of Salem and Congressman O'Connell accompanied the committee to the monument.

Before the committee arrived a great crowd of Polish people, largely women had gathered at the monument. Before leaving the wreath, John Romaszewski made a short address in Polish, in which he spoke of the great

All those in the parade wore the special medal prepared for the occasion on one side of which in relief was the battle of Grunwald, from the painting by the famous Polish artist Jan Matejko. There were 48 societies represented in the parade.

Long March to Faneuil Hall

The route of the parade was long, but the day was fine and the paraders preserved unbroken ranks from the beginning until Faneuil hall was reached. Then there was something of a scramble to get into that hall, for it is estimated there were 4000 people in line.

At the hall an orchestra played national and patriotic American and Polish airs. Most of the speaking was in Polish and dealt with the significance of the battle of Grunwald, the subsequent history of Poland as a great nation; her downfall and the cherished hope that she will yet regain her nationality.

But several of the Polish speakers impressed on those present the importance of becoming citizens of the United States as speedily as possible: of studying English, of living upright and honorable lives and of the duty of educating their children, of tending to their religious duties of preserving the spirit of Poland in their American citizenship. And these speakers were loudly applauded. The first to speak in this strain was the honorary president, Rev. Fr. Chmielinski, who was also chairman of the meeting. Another who spoke American patriotism and Polish national spirit was Fr. Sytki.

Rev. Lowandowski spoke on the various Polish immigrations since the downfall of Poland.

Congressman O'Connell's Address

Congressman O'Connell was frequently applauded during the progress of his oration.

He said in conclusion:

"The Polish people believe that the ideals of nationality and religion, which flourish despite Russian, German and Austrian attempts at denationalization will some day lead the nation under the brilliancy of another Sobieski for the salvation of Europe."

"Poland's destiny as the defender of the Slavonic people was emphasized at Grunwald in 1410, her mission as the guardian of Christian civilization was magnificently executed at Vienna on Sept. 12, 1683, and her great glorious past justifies the hope that once again she may be called upon by the civilized world to use the valor, bravery and skill of her great past in some other world movement."

"Three million Poles in this country make a substantial part of our people of whom we may justly feel proud. Their traditional love of liberty and courage in fighting for the principles of individual freedom guarantees to the United States a group of citizens on whom we may always rely with assurance."

ANNUAL PICNIC

HELD AT MOUNTAIN ROCK ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The annual picnic of the Sunday school of the Swedish M. E. church was held Saturday afternoon at Mountain Rock and despite the inclemency of the weather an enjoyable time was had, though the affair would have been much more successful if Jupiter Pluvius had postponed his work until later.

Two special cars left Merrimack square at 1.30 o'clock, one having taken a load from Wigginsville, while the other had gathered its human freight at the corner of Bowden and Gorham streets.

There was a number of contests pulled off before the rain fell in the afternoon, and after the coming of the much needed liquid a good time was in order in the pavilion. There was much good singing. A basket lunch was served at 5 o'clock, with hot coffee, ice cream and tonics. The return home came at about 8 o'clock in the evening. Carl G. Phil, superintendent of the Sunday school, had general charge of the outing, and the other members of the general committee were: Rev. John J. Hamilton, pastor of the church; Robert Redlund and Adolphe Forsberg.

CHARMING INDIAN ORCHARD

We presume there will be but slight inclination to invest in parks after the noble gift of Freeman B. Shedd, but the charming beauties of Indian Orchard are so appealing that the city should acquire it for the people of Centralville. We do not suppose the price would be very great as it can never be used for any other purpose to such excellent advantage. We hope that in the near future Indian Orchard will be a part of our park system.

THE BEAM HOUSE PROPOSITION

In regard to the location of the proposed beam house on Perry street the remonstrants are wondering whether they are to be seriously considered in the matter. Their long petitions were not even read at the recent hearing.

The officials of the American Hide & Leather company seem to be quite confident of favorable action by the board of health inasmuch as they did not deem it necessary to bring their experts before the board to explain to that body and to the remonstrants just how the foul odors that usually accompany the beaming business are to be eliminated in the plant which the company has planned. It seems that the company relies sufficiently upon the board to take its word when it asserts that the beam house will not be in any way offensive to the people living in the vicinity. If the public can judge of what is to come from what has already transpired it would seem that in the contest between the people and the American Hide & Leather company the people are very likely to lose.

AS TO CANOEING FATALITIES

The canoe is responsible for more drownings than any other form of water craft used for pleasure. The ordinary rowboat is bad enough as a death trap but the canoe is very much worse. The canoe in the hands of a skilled expert may be safely used when everything is calm and serene, but in case of a sudden storm, high waves or high wind the expert is helpless to prevent the canoe from being upset.

In the double drowning of last Wednesday evening in the Merrimack river we had an illustration of a new danger or perhaps an old danger that had not previously been noticed in the risk of boating and canoeing at night without the use of lights. Two young people lost their lives as a result of neglecting the requirements of the law that provides for lights at night upon all such craft used upon rivers controlled by the United States.

A still more serious canoeing accident occurred on the Charles river on Friday afternoon when a canoe was upset and the four occupants were dumped into the stream, two being drowned and two rescued after a struggle.

It seems that young people will have to exercise greater care so as to avoid the dangers inseparable from canoeing in any form, but more particularly at night. The amusement seems to have a fascination for some people, and while it might be expected that the fatalities we have mentioned would cause those attached to it to be more careful, yet if we are to judge from past experience, we must conclude that these fatalities receive but a passing notice and are soon forgotten. But the parties thus forgetful often pay the penalty with their lives, and they have nobody to blame but themselves. It is true today as of old and true of canoeing as of anything else, that "those who love the danger will perish in it."

SENATOR LODGE'S PROTEST

Senator Lodge in a recent speech expressed a dislike for any of the sectional terms applied to republicans, such as "insurgent," "standpatter," "reactionary," "progressist," "conservative," machine republican or trust republican.

The senator seems to have a justifiable horror of some of these names and with the bravado with which David B. Hill of New York once electrified a convention with "I am a democrat," Lodge tries to dissociate himself from the trusts, the standpatters, the insurgents and the machine bosses by declaring with great gusto "I am a republican."

Oht yes, senator, you are a republican, but you have been such an extremist on the tariff and such an abject and pliant tool of the republican machine that a great many self-respecting men in the republican party have become nauseated with your lack of principle, your readiness to sink your individuality and to seek at the sacrifice of your veracity as a man and necessarily in opposition to your own convictions of right, the triumph of the republican party. So emphatically are you committed to this policy that those who have followed your course for years cannot hold any other opinion of your manhood than that if the republican party put up a scarecrow for president you would openly and with all the eloquence at your command declare that the best interests of the country demanded the election of the republican nominee, and that his defeat would mean paralysis of business, panic and demoralization.

Yes! Mr. Lodge, you are a republican of the machine type, a valiant fighter, not for the interests of your country, not for your constituents, but for the perpetuation of republican control, apparently for the sake of office and the emoluments of office.

This is certainly not a very high standard of political conduct for a member of the august senate of the United States. What a fall from the high-minded and statesmanlike policy of the late Senator Hoar whose place Lodge now fills. Hoar was not a political hack, he was not the manipulator of a political machine; he was the guardian of the people's rights, a man of principle, honor and patriotism.

What wonder that Senator Lodge should have opposition within his own party. In his desire to appear broad minded he has often joined other senators in discriminating against his own state. He feels that his mission is fulfilled if he turns the crank on the national republican machine in a manner that will bring in the finances necessary to secure victory.

Lodge is also a star spellbinder, but his influence would be much more widely felt if the people did not realize in him such an ambidextrous political timbreligger.

SEEN AND HEARD

When you have a summer cottage by the sea, you have accommodations for self-invited guests in a tent out where the mosquitoes are.

It is often only a step from the sublime to the ridiculous—as, for instance, when the cabinet official goes in at the street door of the big bath house and comes out at the other door on the beach.

If you have a steamer trunk, you can always find plenty of opportunities to lend it during the vacation season.

Not all the people who bore others with prosy sermons are ministers in the pulpit.

If talk would only reduce the high cost of living, how cheaply all of us could live!

Even if you don't meet a man until a year or two after he is married, it ought not to be too late to congratulate him.

Considering how many cures there are advertised for everything, isn't it strange that there is anything to cure?

Just because a man has succeeded in getting $364 in the savings bank, it isn't time for him to begin to worry for fear that his daughter will be sought after by the foreign noblemen.

It is possible for a man to get along with ten-cent luncheons for a week, but the next week his appetite is good.

MOTHER'S ROY

Her hand upon my shoulder pressed, Together once we climbed a hill, My dear old marm and I, Though then I was but a small boy.

How thrilled was I with joy, That smiling, she did lean on me, And call me "mother's boy!"

When schooldays came, in all I did Her interest was keen; With such achievement, each advance, Her pride was surely seen.

And though I raved of outdoor sports, Never did my zest annoy, So, as a lad, I felt was glad That I was "mother's boy!"

With all my many schoolboy chums She always was the same; Outrivals all with goodly store, Was open to all who came, And that the boys should have good times, Her wish she would employ.

Her wish she would employ, Till more than one-half wished in fun They were my mother's boy!

No lessening of this love e'er came, For 'en in manhood's years, That parent was my comrade still; She shared my hopes and fears, And when at last she journeyed home, For me was yet this joy—

At heaven's gate, "mother's boy" wait And watch for "mother's boy!"

To cleanliness she moulded me, She heeded of a schism, To uprightness and zeal; To not alone be true to self, But true to other's well, And these things have all brought me peace.

Aye, peace without alloy, So, even today I'm proud to say That I was "mother's boy!"

George Whitefield Dwyer, in the Watchman.

REV. FR. NOLAN

Announces Extensive Repairs to Edifice

INTERIOR OF IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CHURCH

To Be Completely Remodeled and Improved—Steel Pillars to be Put In and Plastering Renewed and Painted

At all the masses in the Immaculate Conception church yesterday morning the pastor, Rev. Fr. Nolan, announced that extensive interior repairs had been started, and would continue for the next 10 or 12 weeks, and he asked for the hearty co-operation of the members of the parish.

Examination by an architect and an engineer had shown that it was desirable to replace the wooden pillars now sustaining the roof with steel columns, and this would be done immediately. At the same time the church would be wired for lighting by electricity, that mode of illumination now being confined to the sanctuary. The organ, too, one of the best in New England, needed a thorough overhauling, which would be given it. The plastering of the entire interior of the church must be renewed and painted. The pastor said he did not undertake these repairs through his own caprice, but because they were necessary. When completed they would make the interior one of the finest in the country, as the exterior and surroundings already are. He bespoke the customary generosity of the parish in making it possible to carry the bills for the work, which when the work was finished it would all be paid for.

THEATRE VOYONS

The feature of today's bill at the Theatre Voyons is an excellent dramatization of one of the most successful of Rex Beach's short stories entitled "Out of the Night." It tells the story of the love of a business man for a younger woman, and in a most novel way his love for her is put to a great test. While riding her horse becomes excited and runs away and he saves her at a cost of his sight of which fact she is ignorant. While in the hospital she visits him frequently and he refuses to allow the attendants to tell her that he is blind. He keeps up the deception after his recovery and intends to leave the country before she discovers his misfortune. However, she accidentally learns of it and refuses to give him up. There are several other interesting pictures on the bill and the musical selections are quite excellent.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Tonight the Lakeview theatre stock company will present for the first time a four act comedy drama entitled "Master and Man." It is a play with a logical plot and an abundance of comedy. This will be the fifth week of popularity for the company and should entice all the others for the play. This week is perhaps one of the best of its kind ever written. Mr. James Thatcher will play the part of O'Neill the sailor, a role which he has played many times. Before leaving he played the part all through the west in the regular winter season. The rest of the company will be seen to advantage in their various roles, and "Master and Man" should prove to be one of the best hits of the season.

MAN SUFFERED AMPUTATION OF RIGHT LEG

NASHUA, N. H., July 18.—William Hurley, who gives Milford, N. H., as his home, was brought into Nashua from Pepperell, Mass., yesterday morning, where he had been run over by a train. His right leg and left foot were crushed and one finger on his right hand and his head were injured.

Hurley is not a railroad man and it is believed that he was riding on a freight. He was brought to the emergency hospital and his right leg below the knee, all the toes on his left foot and one finger of his left hand were amputated.

SPECIAL INTEREST

In the Translation of German Banking Laws

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Special interest is given to the translation of the Imperial German Banking laws, which has been prepared under the authority of the National Monetary commission, by the fact that it contains an introduction written by Dr. R. Koch, who only recently resigned as governor of the Imperial bank, and has long been considered the foremost monetary authority in Germany. The laws themselves include the original bank act of March 14, 1875, which brought unity out of the heterogeneous mass of notes and systems of different types in Germany and the subsequent laws by which the charter of the Imperial bank has been amended at intervals of ten years. Among the latter are included the law of June 1, 1900, which resulted from the special inquiry instituted by the German Imperial government during the year 1895 of these laws declares that the conditions which prevailed in Germany not much more than a generation ago with regard to circulation—coin, paper money, and bank notes—"afforded a striking picture of our political confusion." Efforts to secure a uniform coinage system by cooperation among the German states, including Austria, had brought no satisfactory results. Paper money had been issued by the government of several of the states, which became known as wild bills, which could be passed beyond the limits of the states which issued them only with difficulty and loss.

Paper which was more acceptable, although not considerable in amount, was issued also upon special concessions by railroad companies, municipalities, and other corporations. Practically in Prussia only, were conditions tolerable where the Bank of Prussia, which was vested with the unlimited right of note issue in 1856 had been able to render great services to German commerce in the crisis of 1857, 1866, and 1870, and had developed into a central note bank for the rest of Germany. There were still, however, nine private note banks in the old provinces of Prussia, and other German sovereigns made very liberal use of their authority of granting the privilege of note issue, and often on a scale quite exceeding the amount required by the extent of their states. The effort of Prussia to protect herself by forbidding the circulation of these foreign notes was unsuccessful, especially in middle Germany, because of the varied and changing business relations of the territories. The circulation which was uncovered by bullion, excluding Bavaria, increased, according to the monthly records, from about 15,000,000 marks ($3,555,000), at the beginning of the fifties, to an average of 202,226,000 marks in 1867, and to 400,254,000 marks ($95,000,000) in 1873.

The men of far-reaching genius who had brought about the political union of Germany soon brought them to realize that such conditions could not be longer endured. Already the constitution of July 26, 1867, had provided for subjecting such matters to the supervision of the confederation. Further issues of notes by the states were suspended, except with the authority of a federal law. The coinage reform was first taken up as a preliminary to the unification of the bank-

DARING ROBBERY

THIEF MADE AWAY WITH KELLAR'S MONEY

NEWTON, July 18.—A particularly daring robbery was perpetrated in West Newton early yesterday morning and, although the thief was chased through a window and along railroad tracks nearby, he succeeded in making his escape with a pair of trousers in a pocket of which was $50 in bills. The robbery took place about four o'clock in the house of John H. Kellar at 174 Webster street. Mr. Kellar was awakened by a noise in his room and saw a young man climbing through the window with the trousers over his arm.

The owner shouted and gave chase, but the thief had sufficient start to get out of the yard and run in the direction of the railroad tracks while Kellar was getting to the door.

He could not give a good description of the robber beyond saying that he was a young man. The fact that the windows in the house were open gave the intruder an excellent chance to enter.

SHOT HIMSELF

AGED ROXBURY MAN WAS DESPONDENT

BOSTON, July 18.—Despondent because of ill health, Arthur Weiss, 72 years old, made an unsuccessful attempt to end his life early yesterday morning by shooting himself at his home, 108 Cabot street, Roxbury. The revolver contained only a single blank cartridge, that caused slight injuries, from which the aged man is expected to recover within a few days. Mr. Weiss retired as usual on Saturday evening and about 1:20 yesterday morning the household was aroused by the sound of the shot. He was found lying on the bed with a 32 caliber revolver by his side. He had placed the revolver over his right ear and fired, painfully burned his head. Dr. Stone dressed the wound and later he was removed to the City hospital, but allowed to go home, accompanied by his son.

FOUND IN FIELD

Boys Discovered Body

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 18.—Two boys, Hugh Sanctuary and Harry Farnham, while following their dog up the valley of Ray brook at the north end shortly before noon yesterday, were attracted by the dog's sharp barking and discovered that he had found the body of a man, which lay three downward near the edge of the woods and on the premises of James H. Mendell. Young Sanctuary's father informed the police and the case was turned over to Medical Referee Dr. George M. Davis.

The body was in such an advanced state of decomposition that the features were not recognizable, but was apparently that of a man in middle life, 5 feet and 8 inches in height and weighing 170 pounds. He wore a brown mustache and his hair was darker. His hat was of black felt, coat of gray, black shirt, and he wore khaki pants, green stockings and russet shoes.

In his pockets were a silver watch, a brass pin, a bronze medal, such as was issued by the city of Manchester to its school children at the time of the city's semi-centennial celebration in 1896, and a match safe, given away by a local business house. No letters, no money, not even a pocketbook and no writing of any kind were found.

Whether or not the man met with foul play, or whether he became overcome during the recent excessive heat and fell exhausted and died in his tracks cannot be determined because of the condition of the body. The body was given over to the care of a local undertaker and will be kept until Tuesday, when if it is not identified and sought for by relatives or friends it will be buried at public expense.

No one answering the description of the man found has been reported to the police as missing and the case is surrounded by more or less mystery. From the articles found in his pockets there appears to be no doubt of his being a resident of Manchester or one who frequented the city often.

BOSTON WOMAN

Insanity Charge

TORONTO, July 18.—The spectacle of a handsomely dressed, well-educated and strikingly beautiful woman standing in the police court dock on a charge of being insane was seen here yesterday. The woman was Miss Violet Parker, well connected, whose home is in Boston, but who has been spending the last few years in travel.

She is an accomplished horsewoman and during her stay in Toronto has entertained lavishly. For several months she was a guest at Hotel Prince George, under the name of Grace Bennett, but lately had stayed at the King Edward. Much of her time is said by the police to have been spent in the company of a local millionaire.

Suspensions as to her sanity were aroused by her eccentric actions, and when recently she started to disrobe in the public rooms of the King Edward the authorities were communicated with.

The observations of the jail doctors resulted in their declaring her insane and she was arrested on a technical charge of vagrancy. When Magistrate Kingsford told her of the doctor's report Saturday she quietly observed:

"I have a favor to ask. I have a first class education and have had all kinds of experiences, but I have never sat in a court before. I should like to be allowed to sit here and see you conduct the proceedings, Judge."

"I cannot allow that," said Magistrate Kingsford. "Perhaps," he said, "before a week is over your people will be here and will take care of you."

"What about my poor old mother. She is 82 years old. I cannot shed tears like some people," rattled the woman.

Two officers went to gently remove her. "Kindly take your hands off me," she said, as with a flash of her dark eyes and dignified gesture she waved them away.

Letters in the woman's possession showed that she had been in occasional correspondence with her family in Boston, who have been communicated with. She was well supplied with money. Her dresses alone are said to be valued at $200.

COWARDLY DEED

Over An Aged ManSTRUCK DOWN BY AN AUTOMOBILE AND LEFT LYING BY THE ROADSIDE

And Passed On Leaving Him
Helpless—John Riley, the Victim, Crawled Three-Quarters
Next Day Helpless

John Riley, aged 64 years and living in that portion of East Billerica known as Pattenville, was struck and knocked down by an automobile near the plant of the Talbot chemical works in North Billerica Saturday night about 11 o'clock. The driver of the machine, who must have known that Riley had been struck, continued on his way never bothering to inquire whether the man had been killed or slightly injured.

Owing to the lateness of the hour and the fact that the road is not traversed much, especially at night, Riley remained out all night and was discovered about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, 12 hours after the accident occurred, lying in a ditch near the railroad tracks of the Boston & Maine. The aged man having crawled on hands and knees until completely exhausted.

The accident happened shortly after Riley had left for his home after visiting relatives in North Billerica. He was returning home through a road not traversed much near the chemical works of the Talbot mills in North Billerica.

The automobile was coming along at a fast rate of speed, headed towards Lowell. Inasmuch as the horn on the machine was not sounded he was not aware of the approach of the car until it was almost on him. He tried to get out of the way, but his efforts proved fruitless. The car struck him and he was thrown to the ground. After the car passed he managed to crawl to the side of the road and remained there during the night. In the morning he tried to get up and walk home, but succeeded only in crawling to the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad, some three-quarters of a mile away. Here he was found by boys yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, lying in a ditch close to the tracks and, though semi-conscious, unable to move farther. As Riley lives all alone, no search had been started for him, since his absence was noticed by no one.

Dr. G. T. O'Donnell of Billerica was summoned and recognizing Mr. Riley had the latter's relatives notified. He was taken by Mrs. Alexander Riley, his sister-in-law, in a carriage to St. John's hospital in this city, where it was found that he had received a severe scalp wound and a large swelling over his right hip, possibly indicative of internal injuries.

At the hospital last night the patient had gone into a fever and his condition is doubtful, though his consciousness still remains. No internal injuries have yet appeared. Riley was employed as a section man on the Boston & Maine railroad.

Inquiry at the hospital this noon brought forth the information that Riley was resting comfortably and showed signs of improvement.

It could not be that the driver of the auto did not see the old man or notice the collision. The driver may have been out on a joy ride and passed simply to escape detection. That the injured man was not dead next morning was not the fault of the cowardly driver.

FELL FROM CAR

Tony Talon, aged 22 years, who has but one leg, jumped from a moving electric car at the corner of Gorham and Summer streets last night about 9:30 o'clock and losing his balance fell to the ground and sustained a slight wound over the left eyebrow.

He was taken in the ambulance to St. John's hospital where his injury was treated, leaving shortly afterwards. The man resides at 37 Summer street.

MAYOR WHITE

Spends First Sunday in House
of Correction

LAWRENCE, July 18.—The first Sunday spent in the house of correction by Mayor William P. White, ex-Alderman Matthew Burns, Samuel Kress and George B. Smart, convicted of conspiracy to bribe, was without special interest. No visitors are allowed at the institution Sundays, and the prisoners are required to spend the day in their cells except during religious services.

The prisoners rise at 6:30, as on week days, and at 10 assemble in the rotunda for the religious service. The service yesterday morning was conducted by Rev. Clark Carter, city missionary and chaplain of the house of correction. At intervals it is the custom to have prayers from some church assailed, and singers from the prisoners.

At the house of correction, the prisoners have the privilege of joining in the singing, if they choose. When no singers from the churches take part the singing is done by the prisoners. The service, Rev. Mr. Carter attended the service. Rev. Mr. Carter offered prayer, read from the Scriptures and made a brief address.

Mayor White Indisposed
In the four days since their commitment, the four men have become fairly well accustomed to the routine. The change in their mode of life naturally had its effect upon them at first and Mayor White had a slight indisposition Saturday. The jail physician saw nothing of an alarming nature, however, and the mayor was later able to resume his case-eating.

Mayor White's address to "the people of Lawrence" Saturday, in which he declared that patience and fortitude must be exercised in awaiting the proof of his innocence, was read with much interest. To some there seemed a tone of moderation quite unlike the customary aggressiveness of the mayor, but they found a semblance of his former self when he urged that a watch be kept upon the "grafting looters of the taxpayers' money."

Pulpit References
Pulpit reference to the existing state of affairs in the city was made yesterday, but there was not the general tendency in this direction that might have been expected. Rev. E. M. Lake, pastor of the Second Baptist church, in his evening sermon preached on "Good Citizenship," sounding the keynote to a citizen movement and suggesting a government by commission. In part he said:

"Lawrence has suddenly come into the limelight and every self-respecting citizen hangs his head in shame. Corruption and dishonesty are only too evident in our municipal affairs. It is high time that we did our housecleaning. What it is to be done thoroughly and without partisan bias."

"But in this hour of shame and disgrace there are some lessons that the good citizens of Lawrence ought to learn. It has been demonstrated that government is a necessity. We can no more live a national, civilized life apart from government than apart from society. Without government we would have anarchy, and without order we would have chaos."

Ten Much to Politicians
"The great error in our political life today is that we are leaving the affairs of municipal life to the politician, who has an ax to grind. He is in it for what he can get out of it. He is shrewd and cunning but he is lacking in honor. His general intelligence is not above the average."

Valuable Advice to Sufferers From Skin Diseases.
Under no circumstances should medicated or plain soap or any preparation containing alcohol or water be used by sufferers from eczema and similar skin troubles. Those things aggravate the trouble and make it impossible for the skin to heal. The new medical compound called Cadum is the best and surest remedy, as it contains neither water nor alcohol. When applied, it excludes the air and other irritating agents, stops the itching at once, and sets up the healing process immediately. Most wonderful cures are reported from all sections. Cadum is just as effective in the treatment of psoriasis, ringworm, phlegm, blotches, rash, eruptions, chafing, itching piles, rough, scaly skin, warts, nose, herpes, etc. 10c and 25c. All druggists.

"Has not the time come in the life of our city when the good citizens of Lawrence shall demand a government by commission? Is not the time ripe for the representative business men of Lawrence to unite in a non-partisan movement on behalf of a better civic life of our municipality?"

The great danger that threatens out municipal government does not lie in the neglect and indifference of our so-called good citizens. The besetting sin of our political life of today is putting party success above public welfare. The government of our city should be above and independent of party politics."

Other Cities Declared as Bad
In Trinity Congregational church Rev. Arthur Barber said: "We are hearing much just now about the shame of Lawrence. I'll add no more to what has been said. Only let it be said that probably half the cities in the land are not a great deal better than Lawrence."

"We are more just now than ever before—in theory only. Again and again great lawyers have said in the last two years that the spirit of the law is utterly sacrificed for the letter."

SERIOUS INJURY

Thrown to Street

HAVERHILL, July 18.—As a result of being thrown to the street when a big touring car struck the dray on which he was riding, Joseph Hamel of 255 River street, this city, lies in a precarious condition at the City hospital.

Three of his ribs are broken, his face is cut and he is badly shaken up. H. F. Douglas of this city, who was driving the team, escaped injury.

The accident occurred late Saturday night on the state highway between this city and Lawrence, stories of how it occurred varying. Hamel was returning to Haverhill with Douglas, who held the reins over three gray horses, which were pulling a big Beach Soap company truck.

Two automobiles were going toward Lawrence. Douglas told a reporter yesterday that he was on his own side of the street and that the machine which struck him was going fast. Frank E. Norris, proprietor of the Adams house drug store in Boston, owned the machine which hit the dray and was at the wheel himself.

The other car is owned by a man named Horne of Lawrence and contained only the chauffeur.

Hamel was taken to his home and later removed to the hospital.

One of the horses was badly cut, while the radiator of the car was broken, the windshield was smashed and the mud guards were wrenched.

Norris contends that the dray was on the wrong side of the road and that he was not at fault. The Horne machine was stopped before the accident, so say the occupants of the Norris car, and after the accident the party left the injured machine and took Horne's car to Boston.

INTER-STATE BOARD

RULINGS

SEVERAL DECISIONS

Handed Down by Inter-State
Commerce Commission

WASHINGTON, July 18.—A set of administrative rulings was announced today by the interstate commerce commission supplementary to rulings already made. They follow:

An interstate excursion for certain commercial clubs at the expense of the railroad companies as their guests cannot be sanctioned.

Free transportation cannot be issued to employees of a bridge company which makes annual reports to the commission but files no tariffs and collects no charges from shippers or carriers.

Free or reduced rates of transportation may not lawfully be accorded to traveling secretaries of a Young Men's Christian Association.

There is no warrant in law for according free transportation of the body of an ex-employee of carrier who resigned from the service some time prior to his death.

The commission holds that it has exclusive jurisdiction over claims for damages arising from the mis-routing of freight.

THE CRIPPEN CASE

Suspected Doctor Believed to be on Way to New York

LONDON, July 18.—The latest theory of the Scotland yard officials is that Dr. Hawley Crippen and Ethel Clara Levee may be aboard the steamer Kroonland which sailed for New York from Dover at 11 o'clock on the night of July 9, the day the two disappeared. The steamer is due at quarantine before 12 o'clock tomorrow night. At Dover the Kroonland was boarded by one New York man and a number of passengers from London.

Crippen and his companion are supposed to have left on the afternoon of July 9. Crippen was last seen going from his office at 1 o'clock. They had ample time to catch the Red Star liner at Dover.

The inquest into the death of the woman supposed to be Bella Elmore, Crippen's wife, whose body was unearthed in the cellar of the Crippen home following the doctor's disappearance, was opened today and subsequently adjourned for one month. It developed nothing at the first session. The steamer Kroonland was reported as 60 miles east of Sandy Hook at 5 a. m. today. She should be off Sandy Hook under favorable conditions at 10 o'clock tomorrow night and at quarantine an hour and a half later. The Kroonland will probably dock about 7.30 o'clock Wednesday morning.

THE INQUEST

Interest in the mysterious murder centered today in the inquest at which it had been hoped that the physicians would be prepared to describe the manner of death and possibly make positive the identification of the dismembered body.

However, the formal evidence adduced added nothing material to what was already generally known. The only startling fact developed was that the experts were not even in a position to state definitely whether the mass of flesh dug from beneath the cellar floor was that of a woman. Instead of throwing light on the mystery the testimony served to make the case still more baffling.

When the physicians had concluded their statements it was decided to postpone the conclusion of the inquest for one month in order to give Doctor Pepper, examiner in surgery at the royal army medical college, opportunity to make a complete examination of the pieces of flesh and the police to continue the thus far fruitless search for Crippen and the Levee woman. Several witnesses related the history of the known occurrences surrounding the tragedy from the time that suspicion first fell upon Crippen to the hour of his flight and the discovery of the murdered one.

John E. Nash, a theatrical manager, who first brought the matter to the attention of Scotland Yard upon his return from the United States, was one of the most important witnesses. Mr. Nash said that at the request of friends in America he took up the matter of the actress' death and interviewed Dr. Crippen on the subject. The doctor, he said, was unable to give the exact place in California where Bella Elmore had died, although the physician had previously announced that his wife had died in that state.

Nash could not Crippen, according to the witness, present a certificate of death, although he said he had his male or female. One piece of flesh, he said, had given rise to some debate among the medical men, but so far he had been unable definitely to decide the sex. The murderer, the surgeon said, had not only obliterated the cause of death, but also the sex of the deceased. The witness said that a microscopical examination which might disclose more than was now known was proceeding.

CHIEF HOSMER
SAYS THE AUTO-PROTECTIVE IS A SUCCESS

Chief Hosmer was asked today if he thought the auto fire patrol was a success and this is what he said: "There is no doubt about its being a success and I only wish that the department was equipped with more apparatus of a like nature. It's the coming thing and there's no getting away from it. There was a time when the chief was sometimes the first at the fire but I haven't managed to get there first since the auto fire patrol was installed."

A business man and prominent citizen was heard to say the other day that in his estimation it would be a paying investment for Lowell to expend $10,000 a year for auto fire apparatus. "I believe," he said, "that one company could be done away with if we were fully equipped with auto fire apparatus. The man who drives the horses to a fire is not a fireman only so far as the driving of the fire horses is concerned. He is not a fire fighter because he has his horses to attend to. That isn't true of the man who drives the auto fire machine. When he lands at the scene of the fire he knows he has something that will stand without hitching. There isn't any excuse for him to sit back and take it easy. It's up to him to get out and fight fire with the rest of the crew."

Speaking of auto fire apparatus and its improvement over the horses, the following from Chattanooga, Tenn., is of interest:

At a test of the new auto fire engine, in one minute and twenty-six seconds from the time the alarm was turned in, the auto-engine had a stream of water on the Times building. The distance traveled by the engine was eight-tenths of a mile. Heretofore the fire department has never been able to get a stream of water a fire inside of eight minutes after the alarm. The best record made on test was in a contest with the Nashville department, when an engine ran three blocks and had a stream of water playing in four minutes and forty-two seconds after the alarm.

HAD FINE TIME
MEMBERS OF INDUSTRY COUNCIL
ENJOYED AN OUTING

Two hundred or more members of Industry council, Royal Arcanum, held an outing in Richardson's grove yesterday and had a most enjoyable time. The affair was planned several weeks ago and a committee was named to take charge of the arrangements. The members left Merrimack square in special cars at 10 o'clock and upon arrival at the grove proceeded to a program of games that furnished amusement and excitement. At 2 o'clock a dinner was served that satisfied everyone present. Then there was a most interesting and just before starting for home a sumptuous supper was enjoyed. The affair was a most successful one and the members were loud in their praise of the work of the committee in charge.

JOE GUINEY IS CHAMPION

Joe Guiney won the quiet championship of ward seven from William J. Sabre Saturday evening. Guiney took the first two games and displayed some science, for the games were the most exciting ones held in that section. Sabre also played well, showing he understood the game, for he held the lead from Guiney till the last, making Guiney win 121 to 15 and 21 to 15.

A NEW STABLE
FOR THE HEALTH DEPARTMENT TO BE DISCUSSED

The committee on lands and buildings will meet at city hall at 8 o'clock tonight. Included in the business to come before the committee is the proposition for a new stable for the health department and the selling of the Fayette street, School street and Middlesex Village school houses.

LIEUT. SULLIVAN

Saved Woman and Girl From Freight Car Crash

They Were Driving in Front of Car When Lt. Sullivan Jumped From Electric Car and Stopped the Horse—The Animal's Head Struck by Car

An elderly woman and girl had a narrow escape from being killed at the grade crossing in Bridge street this morning when one of the railroad cars which was being shifted struck the horse which was attached to the carriage in which they were riding. The presence of mind and quickness of Lieut. James A. Sullivan of the Hose Company No. 7, located in Central street, was undoubtedly the only thing that saved their lives.

Lieut. Sullivan was on the front seat of an inward bound Lakeview avenue car due in Merrimack square at 9.45 o'clock. The car reached the canal bridge in Bridge street and stopped in order to allow some freight cars to be shifted across the street.

At about the same time the horse

driven by the woman approached the crossing from the direction of Merrimack square. She apparently did not notice the railroad cars for she pulled out of the way of the electric car and headed the horse as if to go around it.

Lieut. Sullivan realizing that a collision and probable fatality was imminent jumped from his seat on the car and rushing across the track grabbed the horse by the head just as one of the cars struck it. The horse made a jump but Mr. Sullivan held on to it and giving a sharp pull on the reins steered the horse to one side. Those who witnessed the incident were profuse in their praise for Lieut. Sullivan, stating that he undoubtedly prevented what might have been a fatal accident.

THE STREET DEPT.

Is Doing Some Patch Work in Aiken Street

The street department is doing patch work in Aiken street. There are some bad holes in the macadam in that street, and Supt. Putnam decided that instead of paying outsiders to do the work, as has been the custom in the past, he would do it himself and fill the holes with cement concrete instead of macadam. He says the experiment will be worth while.

Didn't Amount to Much

A leak in a six inch main in Cotton street caused a flurry of excitement this forenoon, but it didn't amount to much. The leak occurred on the corner between Moody street and the Merrimack counting room. It was shut off before it had done any harm.

LEG BROKEN
INJURED

This afternoon shortly before two o'clock, Merrimack square, especially that portion of it near the corner of Fiske and Bridge streets, was set in an uproar and travel on the Bridge street line was suspended. The cause of the trouble was an accident to a very valuable horse, the property of Mrs. E. P. Simpson and driven by Ralph S. Gross. While turning from Fiske street into Bridge street the horse slipped on the cracks and went down, fracturing the right hind leg, and injuring one of the fore legs. The animal was raised on its feet but fell over like a log. Officer Murphy, who was bearing up one side, had a narrow escape from injury as the horse fell over against him.

LIEUT. SULLIVAN LEBLANC

IS DEAD

As Result of Alleged Assault by John F. Costello

The Charge Against Costello is Now Changed to Manslaughter
—An Autopsy on the Body to Show Cause of Death

Henry Leblanc, otherwise known as White, who it is alleged, was assaulted by John F. Costello, 1 Central street, Monday night about 4 o'clock, died this morning at 7.15 o'clock at St. John's hospital where he was taken shortly after the assault. From the time that Leblanc was taken to the hospital until he passed away this morning he failed to recover consciousness.

Leblanc resided at 104 Chelmsford street and is survived by his mother, brother Edward and a sister Beatrice. He was 27 years of age.

The complaint of assault and battery which had been preferred against Costello was this morning changed to that of manslaughter.

Leblanc was found in an unconscious condition in a doorway in Central street near the corner of Market on Monday night and while it was at first thought that he was in an indicated condition it later developed that he had been struck and in falling his head had come in contact with the sidewalk, rendering him unconscious.

Later the police learned that Leblanc had been struck by a person alleged to be Costello and that he immediately started in search of the latter and a couple of hours later placed him under arrest on a charge of assault and battery.

Costello appeared in court this morning following the assault and through his counsel, Daniel J. Donahue, entered a plea of guilty to the complaint. By agreement the case was continued till last Saturday morning, ball being placed at $300.

Saturday morning Costello appeared in court and Judge John J. Pickman decided that owing to the condition of Leblanc the ball should be increased and he informed Costello that $300 bonds would have to be furnished in order to be released until such time as Leblanc was able to appear in court.

Failing to secure the required bond Costello was remanded to jail where he is at the present time.

As soon as Leblanc died this morning word was telephoned to the police station and Supt. Welch immediately swore out a warrant charging Costello with manslaughter and sent it to the jail in Thornehill street. In case that Costello should secure bonds between now and next Wednesday, when he is supposed to appear in court, the warrant will be served.

If he fails to secure bonds before Wednesday, the charge of assault and battery will be withdrawn and that of manslaughter substituted.

Costello in his statement alleged that Leblanc interfered with him and his wife on the public street and that he gave the latter a push, causing him to fall down.

An autopsy on the body of Leblanc was performed this morning at St. John's hospital by Medical Examiner Joe V. Meigs, assisted by Drs. Thomas B. Smith and Anders, the latter being house physician at the hospital.

The examination showed that death was due to a fracture of the base of the skull.

THE MATHEWS
TO BE ADDRESSED BY JOHN T.
SHEA AND REV. DR. KELEHER

An enthusiastic and largely attended meeting of the Mathew Temperance Institute was held Sunday in the rooms of the society in Dutton street. President James J. Gallagher in the chair. The large attendance of members at the meeting was due to a circular sent out a week ago relative to the society taking part in the demonstration to be held in conjunction with the national convention of the C. T. A. U. of America, to be held in Boston on Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday, August 9, 10, 11, 12 and 13. A social dance was held Sunday morning, when the members

COTTON MARKET EXCITED

NEW YORK, July 18.—There was a renewal of the intense excitement noted in the cotton market toward the close of last week at the reopening this morning. The demand for July seemed to be much less active, suggesting that sufficient cotton had been secured by the south or abroad to satisfy such contracts as remained outstanding, but that position made a new high record for the season, selling at 18.55, while there was a sensational demand for August and September with these deliveries selling anywhere from 34 to 38 points over the closing figures of Saturday.

The excitement was not entirely confined to the near positions, for owing to the bullish character of many private crop advices and other unsatisfactory conditions there seemed to be a scarcity of foreign shorts in the new crop months and with a broadening investment demand also in evidence these deliveries sold about 25 to 27 points net high without, however, quite reaching the high records reported earlier in the season. Cotton appears to be coming here from practically all directions, and it is said that southern shippers can even pay all rail freights and send cotton here at a profit as compared with spot quotations in the south. But while shippers may be able to ship here profitably, the original short interest in the near months must be taken in enormous losses, while there can be little doubt that the bulls are securing big profits from the sale of contracts.

6 O'CLOCK SECRETARY BALLINGER

To be Exonerated by the Congressional Committee

CHICAGO, July 18.—According to a special article in the Chicago Tribune today under a Washington date line, Secretary Richard A. Ballinger will be exonerated by a majority report of the joint congressional committee which took five months to make a report on the course of the former Chief Forester Pinchot, J. R. Garfield and Louis R. Glavis, according to the Tribune story, are Senators Nelson, Flint, Sutherland and Root and Representatives McCall, Denby and Olmsted. It also is declared that a minority report will be filed declaring Secretary Ballinger guilty of the charges against him, to which the signatures of Senators Furell and Fletcher and Representatives Madison, James and Graham will be attached.

It is asserted that the majority report was drafted by Senator Nelson and that of the minority by Representative James and that in addition Representative Madison has written his own opinion of the affair, although he will sign the minority report.

The majority report is said to find that Secretary Ballinger acted within the record and displayed proper judgment with respect to the Cunningham coal claims, that he was wise, honest and conservative in his actions and that he was justified in his criticism of the reclamation service and in his abandonment of the policy of Secretary James Garfield.

The minority report, it is asserted, will conflict in almost every particular with the majority report.

NO CONCLUSIONS REACHED

KANSAS CITY, July 18.—Representative E. H. Madison, a member of the joint congressional committee in a message today to the associated press from his home in Dodge City, Kan., declared that no conclusions had been reached in the investigation affecting Secretary Richard A. Ballinger.

ASKS POLICE PROTECTION

PITTSBURG, July 18.—Rev. S. A. Fisher, who is conducting strange Pentecostal revival services in Homestead park, two miles out from the great steel making suburb, applied to the police today for protection. It has been the habit for a week or more for hundreds of Fisher's converts to worship nearly all night, but their devotion was suddenly interrupted during last night when a crowd of nearly 4000 tried to rush into the tent to see some 30 worshippers prostrating themselves on beds of straw, jumping about and rolling around in strange fashion. The notoriety given to last week's gatherings had brought the curious to last night's meeting. The police, fearing a riot among the mocking crowd, swung the electric switch about midnight and left the place in darkness. Even then they had difficulty in dispersing the throng. A large squad of officers will be present at future services.

LAWRENCE MAYORALTY SITUATION

LAWRENCE, July 18.—The mayoralty situation in Lawrence is still in a quandary and may remain so for a day or two longer as no move will be made until City Solicitor Murphy has rendered his opinion in the matter. President Jordan of the board of aldermen is attending to the duties of mayor at city hall and since the jail officials have refused to admit any one to see Mayor White he has been unable to transact any city business as has been done on the first few days of his incarceration.

Mayor White spent his first Sunday in the local house of correction in strict accordance with the rules of the institution. He attended religious services in the morning and the remainder of the day was spent in his cell. No visitors were allowed to see him and today he resumed his work in the cane shop.

15,000 ON STRIKE

BILBAO, Spain, July 18.—The strike of coal miners here became general today when those who had remained at work when 15,000 men struck on Saturday, joined their comrades in the fight for better terms from the mine owners.

BODY FOUND FLOATING

NEW YORK, July 18.—Detectives here are trying to trace the movements since his arrival here from Youngstown, O., of J. W. Horton, a well to do contractor of that city, whose body was found floating in the harbor yesterday. Reports that he had a considerable sum of money in his possession led to suspicions of foul play.

TROUBLE MAY BE SETTLED

PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—The meeting between General Manager Meyers of the Pennsylvania railroad and the twelve representatives of the trainmen and conductors on the lines east of Pittsburgh ended at 12 o'clock today. W. G. Lee, president of the trainmen's union, said:

"Several apparent misunderstandings have been cleared up."

Mr. Knapp, who acts as chairman of the conductors and trainmen of the joint committees, said:

"We have cleared away the misunderstandings and now hope to fix things up with the general manager."

BY POPULAR SUBSCRIPTION
PHILADELPHIA, July 18.—For the first time in the history of the city an issue of city bonds at par was disposed of by popular subscription, being sold "over the counter" by the city treasurer. The sale ended today with the $5000 four per cent. thirty year bonds over-subscribed.

LOSS IS $150,000
WESTMINSTER, B. C., July 18.—The E. H. Heaps saw mill at Runkin was destroyed by fire yesterday. Loss $150,000.

NO FOUL PLAY
FITCHBURG, July 18.—There was no evidence of foul play surrounding the sudden death of Mrs. Clementine Richards here yesterday, according to Dr. A. H. Pierce, who performed the autopsy on the body.

FATALLY BURNED
TAUNTON, July 18.—While investigating a noise in her children's room early today, Mrs. Frank Martel of Taunton tripped and fell with a lamp in her hands and was so badly burned that she died four hours later. Her husband and were severely burned about the face and hands in attempting to extinguish the flames. Mrs. Martel was 48 years of age.

Among the floral tributes was a large pillow inscribed "Mama," from the children; spray of pinks, Mr. and Mrs. Nugent; spray of pinks, Mrs. Eva Brady and family, and a spray from a friend. The bearers were George W. Lord, John Corcoran, James Nugent and Felix Bouchamp. Burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, Undertakers M. H. McDonough & Sons had charge.

KERN.—The funeral of Miss Louise Kern took place this morning from her late home, rear 11 South Whipple street, and was largely attended. A high mass of requiem was celebrated in the Sacred Heart church by Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I. The boys' choir under the direction of Mrs. Adelaide Muldoon rendered the Gregorian chant. Mrs. Muldoon sang "Pie Jesu" at the offertory. The burial was in St. Patrick's cemetery, where Rev. Fr. Tighe, O. M. I., read the prayers at the grave. The bearers were David Scanlon, John Andrews, George W. Wilson and John A. Andrews, Jr. The following delegation was present from Spindale City circle, P. of A. Mrs. McGee, Mrs. McGee, Miss Roarkie and Mrs. Maguire. There were many beautiful floral offerings. C. H. Molloy & Sons were the undertakers in charge.

CLEGG.—It was with reverential sadness that the relatives and many dear friends of Miss Mary Ann Clegg, who met a very untimely death in the waters of the Merrimack river, last Wednesday evening, tenderly laid her at rest. The services were simple, but very impressive, and were conducted under the rites of the Primitive Methodist church. There were prayers in the home, 28 Damon street, and the service was held in the Lawrence St. P. M. church. Rev. S. W. Cummings, pastor of the First Baptist church, officiated, and was assisted by the Rev. J. T. Ulton.

A quartet composed of Misses Mary Clegg and Hazel Jenkins, Samuel J. Durt and W. G. Parker, sang "On the Sweet Eden Shore," and "Nearer to Thee." The bearers were John and Thomas Clegg, George Clegg, Joseph Hawthorn, John Murphy and Frank Murphy. Burial was in Westlawn cemetery, Undertaker Saunders in charge. ELKS ARE HOME
Had a Great Time in Detroit

Past Exalted Ruler John J. Duff of the local lodge of Elks, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. McDermott returned home this morning from Detroit where they attended the grand lodge session of the order held in that city last week. The other Lowell people who attended the convention will not arrive in Lowell until tomorrow morning. Today's arrivals came on with the Boston Elks party and had a most enjoyable time. They report that the convention was one of the most successful ever held by the order and that the parade and concerts alone were sufficient to repay one for the visit to the local lodge by their delegates. The praise of the entertainment received in Detroit and say that the people there acted as though they felt they could not do enough for the visitors. The convention proceedings were most harmonious and the report of the business transacted will be presented to the local lodge by their delegates. William S. Brady, All the Lowell party had a most enjoyable time and are in the best of health. Already plans are being made for the Elks party that will go to Atlantic City next year, that place being chosen as the convention city. The delegates in Detroit were most elaborate and the attractions offered for the entertainment of the visitors fully in keeping with the programs arranged by other convention cities.

FRED LESTER'S CASE
Fred Lester, who was arrested from his employer's shop on Yvonne last week, was allowed to go when it was found that he only entered the shop to secure a pair of scissors. There was no attempt to push any larceny charge against him. The police did not know him or else he would not have been arrested.

OHIO POLITICS WILLIAM J. BRYAN

Discussed Again Today by President

BEVERLY, July 18.—For the third day in succession, Ohio politics continued today to be the principal theme under discussion at the summer White House. During the forenoon President Taft held conferences with Senator Burton, Senator Dick and former Attorney General Wade Ellis, all of Ohio. There were two separate meetings and Senator Burton was not present. Senator Dick and Mr. Ellis called on the president at the White House. Senator Burton arrived here from Boston during the forenoon and went into the president's summer cottage on Burgess point. After the conference, which was a rather extended one, was ended, Senator Dick and Mr. Ellis, who were staying at the Beverly hotel, visited the Taft residence.

Today's conferences at Burgess Point were the last that will be held at the summer White House for at least ten days, as the president, Mrs. Taft and Charley Taft, the president's young son, had planned to sail later in the day on the government yacht Mayflower for a cruise along the coast of Maine.

It was stated emphatically at the executive offices today that the president would not take any part whatever in the Maine state campaign.

JUMPED RAILS

Girls Injured in Car Accident

CAMBRIDGE, July 18.—Eight young women were injured today when an open electric car in which they were riding to work jumped the rails on Huron avenue, throwing many of its occupants out upon the sidewalk. Four of the young women were taken to the Cambridge hospital. Those injured were: Minnie McIntyre, Somerville; Fanny P. Luss, East Cambridge; Martha Lynch, Somerville; Edna Wall, Cambridge; Mrs. Edna Cummings, Somerville; Margaret Gale, East Cambridge; May Feeney, East Cambridge and Louise Fay, South Boston.

CASHIER TUFTS

Held in $5000 For the Grand Jury

BOSTON, July 18.—On a charge of misapplying $4000 of the funds of the Rockport National bank Cashier Tufts pleaded not guilty and waived examination today before United States Commissioner Hayes. Tufts was held for the grand jury in $5000. He has been in custody since July 1.

THE PRESIDENT

IS EXPECTED AT BAR HARBOR ON WEDNESDAY

PORTLAND, Me., July 18.—President Taft is scheduled to arrive in Bar Harbor at 3 p. m. Wednesday and will dine as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Dimock of New York, who are occupying Eldorado cottage. Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas L. Anderson of Washington will entertain the president at luncheon Thursday and he will be given opportunity to try the links of the Ken Valley Country club in the afternoon. A reception in his honor will be given from five to six by Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Ellis of Washington and 200 invitations have been issued for their affair. The president will leave for Ellsworth Friday forenoon.

TWO ARRESTED

MAN SAYS THAT THREE AT-TACKED HIM

NEW YORK, July 18.—On his way home early yesterday morning Capt. Thomas Hughes of 689 First avenue, skipper of a coal barge which was sunk Saturday afternoon in a collision with the Thomas P. Drennan in the East river, was set upon by three men. Mrs. Hughes heard the sounds of battle and opening the window threw a massive water picher which she says struck one of the three robbers.

Capt. Hughes, badly battered and with his roll of $11.75 missing, went to the East Thirty-fifth street police station and gave a graphic account of what had happened. Policemen Cleary and Lorenz went out and arrested John Carr, alias of 689 First avenue, and James Corcoran, familiarly known as Mouse Corcoran. Hughes said they were two of the three.

BOMB IN ITALIAN TENEMENT

NEW YORK, July 18.—A bomb was exploded early yesterday morning in the hallway of a three-story house at 325 East New York street, Brooklyn, in the Italian colony. There was no one hurt. There was no arrest.

The police of the Brownsville station think the bomb was thrown in the hallway in an endeavor to kill either Pietro Bruno, a grocer, or Dominick Cantone, a shoemaker, whose stores are on the main floor. A large hole was blown in the floor, the walls were shattered and windows in the building and other structures were broken.

The Bruno and Cantone families were hurt from their beds and there was a panic-stricken rush by hundreds of families to the street.

STAMPEDE TO GOLD CAMP

GEORGETOWN, Col., July 18.—A great stampede is underway to a new mining camp on Bard Creek, known as Camp Beshur. Rich gold ore has been found at the glass route and it is exactly like the sylvanite which has made Cripple Creek famous.

The new camp is five miles from a railroad and has the marks of a typical frontier camp of the early days. Claim jumpers are active and desperate. J. W. Crandall, an old settler on Bard Creek, got here yesterday after having been driven away by Cripple Creek men, who jumped his claims and threatened his life. Crandall is reported and Sheriff Cunningham has gone to the new camp with armed deputies to preserve order.

Turned Down by the Nebraska Democrats

OMAHA, Neb., July 18.—William J. Bryan and his county option prohibition scheme were turned down hard in Nebraska today, when the democratic conventions held in various counties, throughout the state, declared against his new "paramount issue" in no uncertain manner. In twenty-one counties casting 40 per cent of the vote, Bryan's issue secured the vote of just one county, that being his home.

Bryan has made his campaign on the county option, and it was to secure the adoption of a county option plank in the democratic state platform that he fought so strenuously. While a majority of the counties have not reported, those which have done so were so overwhelmingly against county option as to make sure the defeat of Bryan.

There are 886 delegates to the state convention. Of these 361 have been chosen. Fifty-seven are instructed for Bryan, that being the vote of his home county. Against the proposition 221 are instructed, and over 1000 unaffiliated delegates have expressed themselves as opposed to county option. Only eight delegates are neutral.

The heavy odds against Bryan's scheme presage his failure to control the convention this week, and with a "turn down" of the county option plank in his home state, may mean the retirement of Mr. Bryan from the political field.

Now that the democrats of Nebraska have succeeded in getting Bryan "down," the leaders have determined to crush him. To that end they are preparing to administer such a rebuke to him in the convention that the entire country will know his home folks have at last repudiated him.

According to plans, Mr. Bryan will be absolutely ignored in the convention. He will not be placed on a single committee and, while he will be permitted to address the convention, his advice will not be heeded in any way.

A KIND DEED

WON A FORTUNE FOR THIS MAN

McDONALD, Pa., July 18.—A little kindness shown by a clerk to a poor teamster, here twenty years ago during the oil excitement in this field has borne great fruit. The poor teamster, Jack Ennis, became a millionaire, and has just died at Corpus Christi, Texas, leaving a will in which it is stipulated that his wife shall have use of his vast fortune during her life, but at her death it must all go to Boyce Rankin and his wife in equal parts.

Rankin is the man who as a clerk in Sauder's store here years since extended Ennis, who hadn't a cent, credit on several bags of horse feed. Ennis, it appeared, had been about to be discharged at not being able to get any credit, and he swore on his honor when young Rankin gave him the feed on his own responsibility that he would never regret it.

THE "WAR" GAME

BOSTON, July 18.—Battery drill and lecture today opened the program of the war game which continues all the week. It is expected that an invading fleet will make a concentrated attack on Boston harbor next Friday night. The twelve companies of the coast artillery corps of the militia, in command of Col. Walter H. Lombard, who will head the defending force, are today how to handle the big 14-inch guns with which the defense will be conducted. The corps will now have five days in which to learn all the regulars know about battery defense work.

PROBABLY SUICIDE

BOSTON, July 18.—The body of Charles M. Fay of Roxbury was found today in Washington park in that district with a bullet wound in the head. It is believed that he committed suicide.

SHIP PAPERS DESTROYED

BOSTON, July 18.—Officials at the Boston office of the Metropolitan steamship line stated today that they are unable to furnish the names of the three men of the steamer H. F. Dimock believed to have lost their lives in the New York dock fire because of the fact that the ship papers of the crew were destroyed both at the office of the company on the dock and on board the steamer. The officials believe that it will be impossible to find out the names of the men dead unless their relatives notify the company of their disappearance.

TO GREET ROOSEVELT

CHEYENNE, Wyo., July 18.—Ex-President Roosevelt will be given a real raising wild west treat which will rival any of his Rough Rider experiences, if the plans of the Jackson How cowpunchers are carried out on his visit next month. More than 1000 punchers are expected to gather here at that time.

THREE PLAYERS SOLD

SEATTLE, Wash., July 18.—Manager Bob Brown of the Vancouver, Northwestern league club, announced last night he has sold Outfielder Charles Swain to the Washington American league team. Pitcher Hardner he sold to the Pittsburgh Nationals and third baseman Green to the Cincinnati Nationals.

COMMERCIAL LAW LEAGUE

NARRAGANSETT PIER, R. I., July 18.—Nearly 200 members of the legal fraternity from all sections of the country were gathered at this summer resort today for the opening of the 16th annual convention of the Commercial Law League of America this afternoon. This is the second time the convention has met here. Beginning this afternoon the meetings will continue till Saturday during which in addition to the transaction of regular business the delegates will listen to addresses on subjects bearing on the commercial side of the law by many of the leading attorneys of the country. Many social events have also been arranged for the benefit of the visiting delegates, this part of the program opening with a reception and dance tonight and will be followed by the association's annual banquet tomorrow night.

TENNIS EXPERTS

Met in Contests in Brookline Today

BROOKLINE, July 18.—Tennis experts from all over the country, including National Champion William A. Larned of Philadelphia, gathered at the Longwood Cricket club courts today, where the 20th annual lawn tennis tournament in singles was begun. A cool wind from the east and low temperature lent action into the players and the first matches, which started at 10 a. m. were marked by sharp playing.

Seventy players were entered in the singles tournament and in the eastern doubles championship, which starts tomorrow, thirty pairs are entered. Drawings for the rounds in the doubles tournament were made today. H. H. Palmer and F. C. Imman, the metropolitan cracks, were opposed to each other in one of the early matches today. Other prominent players were Beals C. Wright of Boston, M. B. McCann of San Francisco, and international fame Raymond D. Little of New York, Nat W. Miles of Boston, and Wallace F. Johnson of the University of Pennsylvania and Intercollegiate champion.

Matches of relative importance, those between crack players, were deferred until this afternoon. The committee succeeded in running off fifteen matches, most of which were decided in straight sets. Dean Mathey of Princeton, the interscholastic champion of 1908, came through easily. In the second round Frank Sulloway of Boston, former Massachusetts champion, had no difficulty in disposing of F. H. Danker, the minister player of Lehigh, Pa. George Whitney, one of the best schoolboy players of Boston, eliminated Q. A. McKane of Philadelphia in one of the four round matches played up to 1 o'clock. R. C. Seaver, former state champion, put out S. L. Beals in straight sets.

Summaries for morning:

First Round

T. B. Plympton, Boston, defeated A. Fox, New York, 9-7, 6-2, 9-7.

EASTERN YACHT CLUB

BAR HARBOR, Me., July 18.—Four of the largest schooners of the Eastern Yacht club met at 11 a. m. tomorrow on the first race for the Norman cup, a supplementary event to the annual cruise which finished here on Saturday from this port to Marblehead.

The entries today were the flagship Emerald, Commodore F. Lewis Clark, the Savannah, C. Howard Clark, the Iroquois, E. Walter Clark and the Iris, Francis Whitehouse. The starting of the yachts will be under the management of Dr. Robert Amory.

HER PHYSICIAN APPROVES

Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sabbatus, Maine.—"You told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills before child-birth, and we are all surprised to see how much good it did. My physician said 'Without doubt it was the Compound that helped you.' I thank you for your kindness in advising me."

meanth gave you full permission to use my name in your testimonials."

Mrs. H. W. Murrell, Box 3, Sabbatus, Me.

Another Woman Helped.

Granville, Vt.—"I was passing through the Change of Life and suffered from nervousness and other annoying symptoms. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health and strength, and proved worth mountains of gold to me. For the sake of other suffering women I am willing you should publish my letter."

Mrs. CHARLES BARCLAY, R.F.D., Granville, Vt.

Women who are passing through this critical period or who are suffering from any of those distressing ailments peculiar to their sex should not lose sight of the fact that for thirty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, which is made from roots and herbs, has been the standard remedy for female ills.

Special Grand Jury is Investigating

CHICAGO, July 18.—A special federal grand jury today began the second investigation of the year into the workings of the Chicago beef packing industry. Several officials and employees of the National Packing Co. were subpoenaed to appear in the jury room today.

TO PREVENT CONSUMPTION

PITTSBURGH, July 18.—The state board of health has completed experiments in preventing tuberculosis which it is said promise to stamp out the disease. The announcement of this discovery was made Saturday by Dr. S. G. Dixon of Philadelphia, state commissioner of health, at a banquet given by a McKeesport hospital. Dr. Dixon was elected for an address, but before beginning he said he had a little surprise for the physicians—a surprise preventive for tuberculosis. The state board of health is now working on the principle that the preventive may be used as a cure for cases partly developed. This, however, has not been ascertained.

Dr. Dixon said he was not at liberty to give out the secrets of the preparation. Dr. Dixon said the authorities at Harrisburg had been working on the process for several years and that the first principle involved was the discovery of an obscure country doctor.

AN INQUEST

INTO DEATH OF RICHARD HOFFMAN AND MISS CLEGG

An inquest into the cause and responsibility of the deaths of Richard Hoffman and Mary Clegg was held before Judge John J. Pickman in the police court this afternoon. There were about 15 witnesses present, prominent among whom were Medical Examiner Melges, Emmanuel J. Grenier and the woman who was with the latter at the time of the accident.

Hoffman and Miss Clegg were in a canoe on the Merrimack river last Wednesday night and were run down by a motor boat which was occupied by Grenier and a young woman.

DIAMOND NOTES

In an article on College Brains and Baseball Sense in this month's Baseball Magazine, William Arnold writes:

A sample of the college man who has baseball brains was Fred Tenney. When a collegian, of good habits and quick, educated brain, does show baseball sense, that collegian is some wonder. Some wonder, gentleman, and able to do great things in climaxes. Tenney was one of that kind. He didn't show much as a catcher—college catchers don't often become Ewings and Kings in the fast company—but when they put him on first base he was a wonder of them all.

Tenney had baseball brains to the highest degree, and when he got busy on the field, his initial catch, his nerve, his things that the oldest sappers and former had never developed. Fred made first base playing twice as artistic, and twice as effective, as it had ever been before, and showed that here, at least, was a collegian with the baseball sense of a professional. But what?

We go back a little, was the college history of Tenney?

When Tenney went to school, baseball was his passion, his love, his life. He slipped away from his classes whenever he could, just to play ball.

The only game, to him, was baseball. He was not a student, he was a player. He was not a collegian, he was a baseball player. He was not a student, he was a player. He was not a collegian, he was a baseball player.

"Fred Tenney is now a member of the Lowell club of the New England league and that thriving organization is to be congratulated on his acquisition, for he will be a decided card for the club and the league as well."

It is much regretted that Tenney did not remain in major league company, for he is still very much in the game and his vigorous methods certainly keep a club on edge. He is a first class coach and as a pinch hitter ought to make a success, for he has a splendid eye for the ball. In the New England league he can make his home every night except when the Lowell team is playing in Fall River and New Bedford.

"Joe" Boyle, Lowell's crack catcher of last year, arrived in town Saturday evening from Kankakee, Ill., to join the Haverhill team today. Joe was slated for Lowell but the 14 man rule barred him and hence Haverhill gladly snapped him up. Joe is 20 pounds heavier and states that he never felt better in his life. His health was poor in the south, he recuperated upon going west. He will play as hard as he can at Spaulding park. "Outside of the big league, of course, give me the old New England league, particularly Lowell."

TODAY'S STOCK

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, July 18.—The opening dealings in stocks were unimportant and indicated only a very sluggish price movement. Gains were the more numerous but there was a sufficient sprinkling of declines to give a slightly irregular tone to the market. People's Gas rose 1 1/2.

The sharp fall in prices of stocks and the morning reaction from only moderate selling. The stagnation of the demand discouraged holders for a rise and prompted an attack by an opposing speculative party. The reported shading of steel prices and dissatisfaction with the copper trade position were elements in the weakness of the market. The general list showed numerous losses from 1 to 1 1/2. Reading fell 1 1/2. Am. Steel Foundries 2 1/2. Wash. and Am. 2. U. S. Steel 1 1/2. S. P. Louisville & Nashville and Brooklyn Transit 1/4. Rallies threw the market into doubt, and prices yielded to the morning reaction.

The selling came to a pause but the market showed little resiliency. Prices rallied a point in a few cases but trading subsided to nominal proportions. Missouri Pacific fell 1/4.

The market became bare of offerings and while the demand was very scanty it was sufficient to materialize the recoveries. There were belated declines in American Hide & Leather and of 1/2 Illinois Central 1/4, and Amn. Loco. 1/2.

The market closed strong. Prices continued to rise on the bidding for stocks by uncovered shorts. Early declines were largely reduced or wiped out. American Smelting rose over Saturday's closing price, C. P. R. 1 1/4 and Northern Pacific 1 3/8. The Pennsylvania labor dispute helped the recovery.

Boston Market

BOSTON, July 18.—The volume of trading in the local market was light during the early hours today but the tone was generally firmer. The market was active at noon.

PRESIDENT TAFT

Says He Will Not Write Platform or Select Candidates

BEVERLY, July 18.—President Taft yesterday stated with more emphasis than he has heretofore employed, the position which he is taking with regard to republican state platforms and candidates.

The president does not think he should be called upon to write the party declarations in the different commonwealths or to name men for any of the elective offices. "A president," he said, "has a pretty big job on his hands when he undertakes to fulfill all the pledges in the national platform and to bring congress around to the same way of thinking."

As to planks in the state platforms endorsing the administration, the president feels that unless they can be written upon what he has said and done since taking office, nothing he could add in a personal way would help matters out.

The Ohio conferences of the last three days have served to bring out the president's attitude. He has been informed of the adoption at the Columbus convention the latter part of this month, but he did not go into the details of different planks.

Under no circumstances, the president let it be known, would he express an opinion as to candidates. He hopes that the best possible man will be chosen to head the ticket in his home state. This fight this fall in Ohio, it is generally acknowledged, will be a hard one. But Mr. Taft feels that a convention made up of 1300 delegates can well

40'S FRUIT LAX

Here is a gentle, never failing laxative which works upon the liver and bowels without griping or causing nausea or a worm-like feeling afterward.

It does not upset the entire system, causing loss of appetite, great inconvenience and distress, but it acts like nature acts and you can take it any time during the day or night. It is one of the best remedies of the great American Druggists' Syndicate of 12,000 druggists, and entirely unlike any other laxative. In fact next to a reputable physician's prescription it is the best laxative known.

President Taft yesterday sent a message of thanks to the emperor of Japan for the cordial welcome extended to Secretary of War Dickinson. Mr. Taft, as secretary of war, enjoyed Japan's hospitality and made many warm friends among the Japanese officials.

The message in full follows: "The emperor of Japan, July 17, 1910. 'The Emperor of Japan, Tokyo—I wish to express to your majesty my deep appreciation of the generous and courteous hospitality extended to Secretary Dickinson and his party during their visit to Japan. The expression of cordial welcome evoked strengthens the bonds of friendship between the two countries.'

William H. Taft."

WAS AN ACCIDENT

Man Was Shot Through Both Knees

BOSTON, July 18.—Robert Thorson, 42 years old, married and living at 47 Sheridan avenue, Medford, was accidentally shot through both his knees yesterday morning at 9.30.

The revolver from which the bullet was discharged was in the hands of Benjamin F. Haines, of 52 Central avenue, Medford.

The two men were aboard the yacht "The Myra" near the bridge in the Charles river near the Charlestown, at the time of the shooting.

Haines was examining the revolver and Thorson was sitting beside him in the cockpit of the yacht. Suddenly the report of the revolver started the other fishermen aboard the boats close at hand.

Thorson screamed with pain and an examination showed that the bullet had passed through both of his knees. He was landed at the bridge tender's house and the police ambulance summoned.

Haines was removed to the Relief hospital where it was found last night that his condition was as satisfactory as may be expected under the conditions. The physicians decided that no operation was necessary.

Haines is an attorney, having offices in the Kimball building. Thorson is a money order clerk at the post office.

After the shooting Haines went to station 15 in City square, and told his story to Captain Yeaton. He said it was an accident and Captain Yeaton was convinced and did not hold Haines.

Haines told Captain Yeaton that he had removed the magazine from the revolver and believed it was empty. He told Thorson it was empty and then snapped the trigger.

Thorson exonerated Haines at once and later he sent word to Captain Yeaton from the hospital that the shooting was accidental.

SPEAKER CANNON

Says That He Is As Well As Ever

WINFIELD, Kan., July 18.—Notwithstanding he was overcome by the heat while delivering a Chautauque address Saturday, Joseph G. Cannon, speaker of the house of representatives, asserts he is feeling as vigorous as ever, and against the advice of friends, he is determined to begin today a series of political speeches in the 4th Kansas congressional district.

However, he qualified his announcement that he will keep his speaking engagements by saying that he will not attempt to fill all the dates if he suffers from the heat during his speech at Emporia today.

"Congressman Miller of the 4th district," Speaker Cannon said yesterday, "is sick and unable on that account to wage the campaign in his district that he desires. He asked me to hold him and I want to do it, for he is an honest congressman and a square man."

Mr. Cannon is scheduled to speak at Emporia Monday afternoon, at Burlington Monday night, at Herrington Tuesday afternoon and at Marion Tuesday night.

These are the speaking engagements he now has in Kansas.

STILETTO FIGHT

Mastroni Is Not Expected to Live

SPRINGFIELD, July 18.—Steve Mastroni of Westfield, who came to this city Saturday to participate in the Italian celebration of the feast of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel, is lying in the Springfield hospital at the point of death with a fractured skull and numerous slashes in the head, limbs and body as a result of a stiletto fight in West Springfield yesterday afternoon.

His assailants escaped and the victim of the desperate slashing affair is unable to aid the police in a capture.

From what the West Springfield police can learn several Italians were involved and the assailants did not escape unharmed, judging by a large quantity of blood about the scene of the fight in Merrick street.

According to James Camp, an Italian living in Merrick street, West Springfield, Mastroni and several other Italians became enraged and went to the street to fight out their differences. All were strangers to Camp.

MADE A RAID

LYNN RESERVE OFFICER AMONG THOSE CAUGHT

LYNN, July 18.—Eight men were caught in a raid on a summer street cigar store yesterday afternoon, when the police descended on the place with a gambling warrant. Among those found in the place were a reserve patrolman, a letter carrier and a city official.

Reserve Officer Eben Sears headed the raiding squad and he claims to have found cards and other evidences of alleged gambling.

The matter will be officially brought to the attention of Mayor Rich and the police committee of the city council today.

It was stated last night that a thorough investigation will be made and that probably more than one person connected with the police department will have to face charges.

A GREAT PARADE

Lowell Polanders Took Part in Demonstration in Boston

BOSTON, July 18.—With a parade about two miles long that was unusually picturesque and a great meeting in Faneuil hall, the Polish people of the state yesterday celebrated the battle of Grunwald, which was fought July 15, 1410—the famous battle in which the slavic states of central Europe crushed the power of the Teutonic Knights of the Cross.

That battle was fought 52 years before Christopher Columbus discovered America, but it is very dear to every Slavic heart today as it has been for five centuries, because it gave the Slav races a standing in the world and made them, under the leadership of Poland, the greatest nation in Europe for a time. And during that time, for several centuries, they rolled back invasion after invasion of Tartar, Cossack and Turk, and saved Europe from the latter when Sobieski with 70,000 men, defeated the Turks, who were besieging Vienna.

Massachusetts Has 300,000 Poles

So it is not only the battle of Grunwald but all the subsequent, proud history of Poland which was celebrated here in Boston yesterday.

And it was significant of the growth in numbers and economic strength of the Poles in this commonwealth, as was the Lithuanian celebration of the same event one week ago.

There are 300,000 Poles in Massachusetts at the present time, and these were represented by societies from all the principal cities of the state, in the parade and at the meeting in Faneuil hall, which was too small to accommodate those who desired admittance.

It was a truly representative and picturesque audience which filled the hall—men, women and children—many women in their national costumes and many of the men in the military costumes of their native land which the Polish societies here adopt for such occasions.

The parade was also picturesque. There were a number of floats on which events pertinent to Polish history were displayed; the various societies had each their own distinctive costumes; there were nine bands of music; there were a great many carriages and automobiles in which were young women—handsome young women—with white umbrellas and decorated with some badge or color and all carrying Polish and American flags.

There were men on horseback in a great variety of costumes, and the streets along the line of march were crowded with people.

Wreath for Washington Statue

One impressive feature of the celebration occurred when the parade was passing down Charles street in Beacon street. There was a halt for a short time while a special committee marched to the Washington monument accompanied by a company of young women in uniform and a company of young men in uniform, and with a brief ceremony laid a huge wreath on the pedestal of the equestrian statue.

Mayor Howard of Salem and Congressman O'Connell accompanied the committee to the monument.

Before the committee arrived a great crowd of Polish people, largely women, had gathered at the monument. Before laying the wreath, John Romaszewski made a short address in Polish, in which he spoke of the great

Long March to Faneuil Hall

The route of the parade was long, but the day was fine and the parade preserved unbroken ranks from the beginning until Faneuil hall was reached. Then there was something of a scramble to get into that hall, for it is estimated there were 4000 people in line.

Congressman O'Connell's Address

Congressman O'Connell was frequently applauded during the progress of his speech.

He said in conclusion: "The Polish people believe that the ideals of nationality and religion, which flourish despite Russian, German and Austrian attempts at denationalization will some day lead the nation under the leadership of another Sobieski to the salvation of Europe."

"Poland's destiny as the defender of the Slavonic people was emphasized at Grunwald in 1410, her mission as the guardian of Christian civilization was magnificently executed at Vienna on Sept. 12, 1683, and her great glorious past justifies the hope that once again she may be called upon by the civil and skill of her great past in some other world movement."

A BIRTHDAY PARTY

A very enjoyable time was held at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Forsythe, 128 West Sixth street, Friday evening, the occasion being the birthday of their daughter, Margaret. She was the recipient of many beautiful presents, among them being a gold ring. The presentation was made by Miss Mabel Normandy. Songs were sung by Mr. Domonico Molloy, Miss Mary Kelly, Katie Grant, Theresa Ryan and Mr. James Burns gave a comic recitation. Mr. Harold Normandy acted as pianist at the evening. Games were played during the evening and refreshments were served.

ANNUAL PICNIC

HELD AT MOUNTAIN ROCK ON SATURDAY AFTERNOON

The annual picnic of the Sunday school of the Swedish M. E. church was held Saturday afternoon at Mountain Rock and despite the inclemency of the weather an enjoyable time was had, though the affair would have been much more successful if Jupiter Pluvius had postponed his work until later.

Two special cars left Merrimack square at 1.30 o'clock, one having taken a load from Wiggville, while the other had gathered its human freight at the corner of Bowden and Cochran streets.

There was a number of contests pulled off before the rain fell in the afternoon, and after the coming of the much needed liquid a good time was in order in the pavilion. There was much good singing. A basket lunch was served at 5 o'clock, with hot coffee, ice cream and tonics. The return home came at about 8 o'clock in the evening. Carl G. Pihl, superintendent of the Sunday school, had general charge of the outing, and the other members of the general committee were: Rev. John J. Hamilton, pastor of the church; Robert Hedlund and Adolphe Forsberg.

CHARMING INDIAN ORCHARD

We presume there will be but slight inclination to invest in parks after the noble gift of Freeman B. Shedd, but the charming beauties of Indian Orchard are so appealing that the city should acquire it for the people of Centralville. We do not suppose the price would be very great as it can never be used for any other purpose to such excellent advantage. We hope that in the near future Indian Orchard will be a part of our park system.

THE BEAM HOUSE PROPOSITION

In regard to the location of the proposed beam house on Perry street the remonstrants are wondering whether they are to be seriously considered in the matter. Their long petitions were not even read at the recent hearing.

The officials of the American Hide & Leather company seem to be quite confident of favorable action by the board of health inasmuch as they did not deem it necessary to bring their experts before the board to explain to that body and to the remonstrants just how the foul odors that usually accompany the beaming business are to be eliminated in the plant which the company has planned. It seems that the company relies sufficiently upon the board to take its word when it asserts that the beam house will not be in any way offensive to the people living in the vicinity. If the public can judge of what is to come from what has already transpired it would seem that in the contest between the people and the American Hide & Leather company the people are very likely to lose.

AS TO CANOEING FATALITIES

The canoe is responsible for more drownings than any other form of water craft used for pleasure. The ordinary rowboat is bad enough as a death trap but the canoe is very much worse. The canoe in the hands of a skilled expert may be safely used when everything is calm and serene, but in case of a sudden storm, high waves or high wind the expert is helpless to prevent the canoe from being upset.

In the double drowning of last Wednesday evening in the Merrimack river we had an illustration of a new danger or perhaps an old danger that had not previously been noticed in the risk of boating and canoeing at night without the use of lights. Two young people lost their lives as a result of neglecting the requirements of the law that provides for lights at night upon all such craft used upon rivers controlled by the United States.

A still more serious canoeing accident occurred on the Charles river on Friday afternoon when a canoe was upset and the four occupants were dumped into the stream, two being drowned and two rescued after a struggle.

It seems that young people will have to exercise greater care so as to avoid the dangers inseparable from canoeing in any form, but more particularly at night. The amusement seems to have a fascination for some people, and while it might be expected that the fatalities we have mentioned would cause those attached to it to be more careful, yet if we are to judge from past experience, we must conclude that these fatalities receive but a passing notice and are soon forgotten. But the parties thus forgetful often pay the penalty with their lives, and they have nobody to blame but themselves. It is true today as of old and true of canoeing as of anything else, that "those who love the danger will perish in it."

SENATOR LODGE'S PROTEST

Senator Lodge in a recent speech expressed a dislike for any of the sectional terms applied to republicans, such as "insurgent," "standpatter," "reactionary," "progressist," "conservative," "machine republican" or "trust republican."

The senator seems to have a justifiable horror of some of these names and with the bravado with which David B. Hill of New York once electrified a convention with "I am a democrat," Lodge tries to dissociate himself from the trusts, the standpatters, the insurgents and the machine bosses by declaring with great gusto "I am a republican."

Oh! yes, senator, you are a republican, but you have been such an extremist on the tariff and such an abject and pliant tool of the republican machine that a great many self-respecting men in the republican party have become nauseated with your lack of principle, your readiness to sink your individuality and to seek at the sacrifice of your veracity as a man and necessarily in opposition to your own convictions of right, the triumph of the republican party. So emphatically are you committed to this policy that those who have followed your course for years cannot hold any other opinion of your manhood than that if the republican party put up a scarecrow for president you would openly and with all the eloquence at your command declare that the best interests of the country demanded the election of the republican nominee, and that his defeat would mean paralysis of business, panic and demoralization.

Yes! Mr. Lodge, you are a republican of the machine type, a valiant fighter, not for the interests of your country, not for your constituents, but for the perpetuation of republican control, apparently for the sake of office and the emoluments of office.

This is certainly not a very high standard of political conduct for a member of the august senate of the United States. What a fall from the high-minded and statesmanlike policy of the late Senator Hoar whose place Lodge now fills. Hoar was not a political hack, he was not the manipulator of a political machine; he was the guardian of the people's rights, a man of principle, honor and patriotism.

What wonder that Senator Lodge should have opposition within his own party. In his desire to appear broad minded he has often joined other senators in discriminating against his own state. He feels that his mission is fulfilled if he turns the crank on the national republican machine in a manner that will bring in the finances necessary to secure victory.

Lodge is also a star spellbinder, but his influence would be much more widely felt if the people did not realize in him such an ambidextrous political thimble-rigger.

SEEN AND HEARD

When you have a summer cottage by the sea, provide accommodations for self-invited guests in a tent out where the mosquitoes are.

It is often only a step from the sublime to the ridiculous—as, for instance, when the cabinet official goes in at the street door of the big bath house and comes out at the other door on the beach.

If you have a steamer trunk, you can always find plenty of opportunities to lend it during the vacation season.

Not all the people who bore others with proxy sermons are ministers in the pulpit.

If talk would only reduce the high cost of living, how cheaply all of us could live!

Even if you don't meet a man until a year or more after he is married, it ought not to be too late to congratulate him.

Considering how many cures there are advertised for everything, isn't it strange that there is anything to cure?

Just because a man has succeeded in getting $304 in the savings bank, it isn't time for him to begin to worry for fear that his daughter will be sought after by the foreign noblemen.

It is possible for a man to get along with ten-cent duncans for a week, but the next week his appetite is good.

If a man has sweet peas in his garden, and calls proper attention to them, he can work off canned peas on his guests at dinner, and they will never know the difference.

If Josh Billings had ever attended a spelling bee, he would have been certain to get stung.

A man always has plenty of friends, such as they are, as long as he is able and willing to do things for them.

MOTHER'S BOY

Her hand upon my shoulder pressed, Together once we climbed a hill, My dear old marm and I, yet recall Though I was then a little child.

How thrilled was I with joy, That smiling, she did lean on me, And call me "mother's boy!"

When school days came, in all I did Her interest was keen; With such achievement, each advance, Her pride was surely seen.

And though I raved of outdoor sports, Ne'er did my zeal wane, So, as a lad, I was a "mother's boy!"

With all my many schoolboy chums She always was the same, Our pranks, filled with goodly store, Was open to all who came, And that the boys should have good times, Her wish she would employ.

Till more than one-half wished in fun They were my mother's boy!

No lessening of this love ever came, For 'ere in manhood's years That parent was my comfort still; She shared my hopes and fears, And when at last she journeyed home, For me was yet this joy—

At heaven's gate I should wait, And watch for "mother's boy!"

To cleanliness she moulded me, She bequeathed to me the same, To neatness and to self, But true to other's weal, And these things have all brought me peace.

Aye, peace without alloy, So even today I can say, "George Whitfield O'Vee, in the Watchman."

REV. FR. NOLAN

INTERIOR OF IMMACULATE CONCEPTION CHURCH

To Be Completely Remodeled and Improved—Steel Pillars to be Put In and Plastering Renewed and Painted

At all the masses in the Immaculate Conception church yesterday morning the pastor, Rev. Fr. Nolan, announced that extensive interior repairs had been started, and would continue for the next 10 or 12 weeks, and he asked for the hearty co-operation of the members of the parish.

Examination by an architect and an engineer had shown that it was desirable to replace the wooden pillars now sustaining the roof with steel columns, and this would be done immediately. At the same time the church would be wired for lighting by electricity, that mode of illumination now being confined to the sanctuary. The organ, too, one of the best in New England, needed a thorough overhauling, which would be given it. The plastering of the entire interior of the church must be renewed and painted. The pastor said he did not undertake these repairs through his own caprice but because they were necessary. When completed they would make the interior one of the finest in the country, as the exterior and surroundings already are. He bespoke the customary generosity of the parish in making it possible to pay the bills as they came in, and when the work was finished it would all be paid for.

THEATRE VOYONS

The feature of today's bill at the Theatre Voyons is an excellent dramatization of one of the most successful of Rex Beach's short stories entitled "Out of the Night." It tells the story of the love of a business man for a younger woman and in a most novel way his love for her is put to a great test. While riding her horse he becomes excited and runs away and he saves her at a cost of his sight of which fact she is ignorant. While in the hospital she visits him frequently and he refuses to allow the attendants to tell her that he is blind. He keeps up the deception after his recovery and intends to leave the country before she discovers his misfortune. However, she accidentally learns of it and refuses to give him up. There are several other interesting pictures on the bill and the musical selections are quite excellent.

LAKEVIEW THEATRE

Tonight the Lakeview theatre stock company will present for the first time a four act comedy drama entitled "Master and Man." It is a play with a logical plot and an abundance of comedy. This will be the fifth week of popularity for the company and should please all the others for the play this week is perhaps one of the best of its kind ever written. Mr. James Thatcher will play the part of O'Neill the sailor, a role which he has played many times. Before leaving he played the part all through the west in the regular winter season. The rest of the company will be seen to advantage in their various roles, and "Master and Man" should prove to be one of the best hits of the season.

MAN SUFFERED AMPUTATION OF RIGHT LEG

NASHUA, N. H., July 18.—William Hurley, who gives Milford, N. H., as his home, was brought into Nashua from Pepperell, Mass., yesterday morning, where he had been run over by a train. His right leg and left foot were crushed and one finger on his right hand and his head were injured.

Hurley is not a railroad man and it is believed that he was riding on a freight. He was brought to the emergency hospital and his right leg below the knee, all the toes on his left foot and one finger of his left hand were amputated.

SPECIAL INTEREST

In the Translation of German Banking Laws

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Special interest is given to the translation of the Imperial German Banking laws, which has been prepared under the authority of the National Monetary commission, by the fact that it contains an introduction written by Dr. R. Koch, who only recently resigned as governor of the Imperial bank, and has long been considered the foremost monetary authority in Germany. The laws themselves include the original bank act of March 14, 1875, which brought unity out of the heterogeneous mass of notes and systems of different types in Germany and the subsequent laws by which the charter of the Imperial bank has been amended at intervals of ten years. Among the latter are included the law of June 1, 1908, which resulted from the special inquiry instituted by the German Imperial government during the year 1908.

Dr. Koch in his introductory review of these laws declares that the conditions which prevailed in Germany not much more than a generation ago with regard to circulation—coin, paper money, and bank notes—"afforded a striking picture of our political confusion." Efforts to secure a uniform coinage system by cooperation among the German states, including Austria, had brought no satisfactory results. Paper money had been issued by the government of several of the states, which became known as wild bills, which could be passed beyond the limits of the states which issued them only with difficulty and loss.

Paper which was more acceptable, although not considerable in amount, was issued also upon special concessions by railroad companies, municipalities, and other corporations. Practically in Prussia only were conditions tolerable where the Bank of Prussia, which was vested with the unlimited right of note issue in 1856 had been able to render great services to German commerce in the crisis of 1857, 1858, and 1870, and had developed into a central note bank for the rearm part of Germany. There were still, however, nine private note banks in the old provinces of Prussia, and other German sovereigns made very liberal use of their authority of granting the privilege of note issue, and often on a scale quite exceeding the amount required by the extent of their states. The effort of Prussia to protect herself by forbidding the circulation of these foreign notes was unsuccessful, especially in middle Germany, because of the varied and changing business relations of the territories. The circulation which was uncovered by bullion, excluding Bavaria, increased, according to the monthly records, from about 15,000,000 marks ($3,575,000), at the beginning of the fifties, to an average of 202,296,000 marks in 1887, and to 400,384,000 marks ($95,000,000) in 1874.

The men of far-reaching genius who had brought about the political union of Germany soon brought them to realize that such conditions could not be longer endured. Already the constitution of the North German confederation of July 26, 1867, had provided for subjecting such matters to the supervision of the confederation. Further issues of notes by the states were suspended, except with the authority of a federal law. The coinage reform was first taken up as a preliminary to the unification of the bank-

DARING ROBBERY

THIEF MADE AWAY WITH KELLAR'S MONEY

NEWTON, July 18.—A particularly daring robbery was perpetrated in West Newton early yesterday morning and, although the thief was chased through a window and along railroad tracks nearby, he succeeded in making his escape with a pair of trousers in a pocket of which was $50 in bills.

The robbery took place about four o'clock in the house of John H. Kellar at 174 Webster street. Mr. Kellar was awakened by a noise in his room and saw a young man climbing through the window with the trousers over his arm.

The owner shouted and gave chase, but the thief had sufficient start to get out of the yard and run in the direction of the railroad tracks while Kellar was getting to the door.

He could not give a good description of the robber beyond saying that he was a young man. The fact that the windows in the house were open gave the intruder an excellent chance to enter.

Be prepared for emergency. Dows' Cholera Syrup is an efficient remedy. Druggists sell it.

AGED ROXBURY MAN WAS DESPONDENT

BOSTON, July 18.—Despondent because of ill health, Arthur Weiss, 72 years old, made an unsuccessful attempt to end his life early yesterday morning by shooting himself at his home, 108 Cabot street, Roxbury. The revolver contained only a single blank cartridge, that caused slight injuries, from which the aged man is expected to recover within a few days.

Mr. Weiss retired as usual on Saturday evening and about 120 yesterday morning the household was aroused by the sound of the shot. He was found lying on the bed with a .32 caliber revolver by his side. He had placed the revolver over his right ear and fired, painfully burned his head.

Dr. Stone dressed the wound and later he was removed to the City hospital, but allowed to go home, accompanied by his son.

FOUND IN FIELD

Boys Discovered Body of a Man

MANCHESTER, N. H., July 18.—Two boys, Hugh Sanctuary and Harry Farnham, while following their dog up the valley of Ray brook at the north end shortly before noon yesterday, were attracted by the dog's sharp barking and discovered that he had found the body of a man, which lay face downward near the edge of the woods and on the premises of James E. Mendon. Young Sanctuary's father informed the police and the case was turned over to Medical Referee Dr. George M. Davis.

The body was in such an advanced state of decomposition that the features were not recognizable, but was apparently that of a man in middle life, 5 feet and 8 inches in height and weighing 170 pounds. He wore a brown mustache and his hair was darker. His hat was of black felt, coat of gray, black shirt, and he wore khaki pants, green stockings and russet shoes.

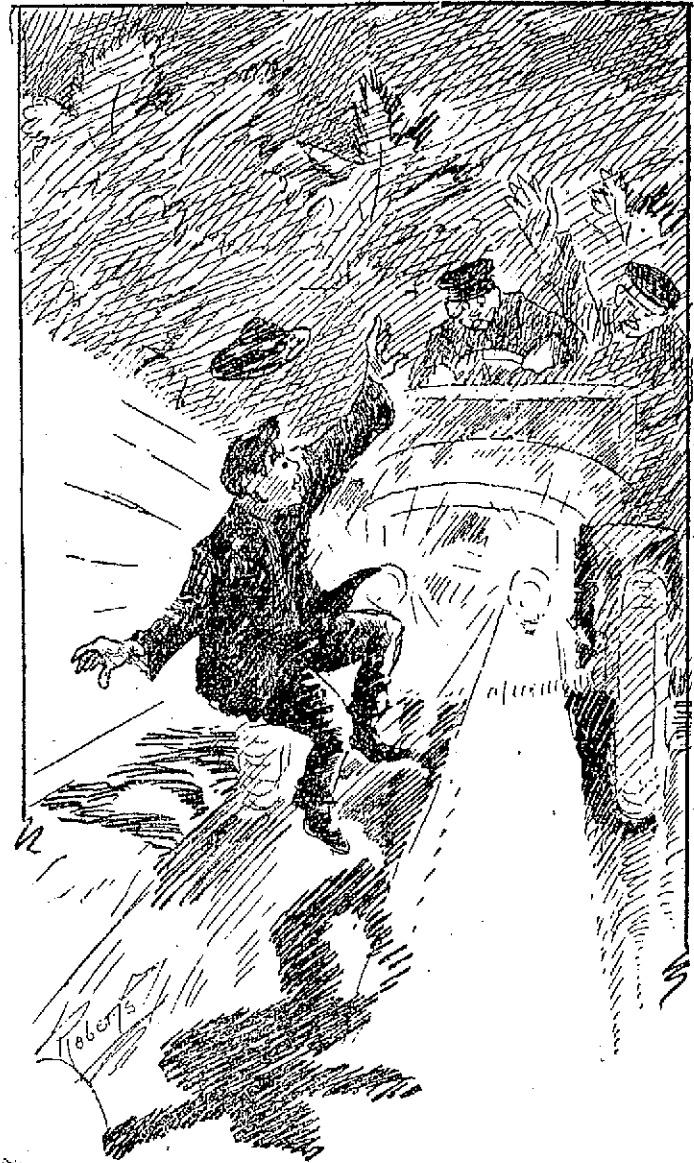

His pockets were a silver watch, a brass pin, a bronze medal, such as was issued by the city of Manchester to its school children at the time of the city's semi-centennial celebration in 1886, and a match safe, given away by a local business house. No money, nor even a pocketbook and no writing of any kind were found.

Whether or not the man met with foul play, or whether he became overcome during the recent excessive heat and fell exhausted and died in his tracks cannot be determined because of the condition of the body. The body was given over to the care of a local undertaker and will be kept until Tuesday, when if it is not identified and sought for by relatives or friends it will be buried at public expense.

No one answering the description of the man found has been reported to the police as missing and the case is surrounded by more or less mystery. From the articles found in his pockets there appears to be no doubt of his being a resident of Manchester or one who frequented the city often.

COWARDLY DEED

Of Some Autoist Who Drove Over An Aged Man

STRUCK DOWN BY AN AUTOMOBILE AND LEFT LYING BY THE ROADSIDE

And Passed On Leaving Him Helpless—John Riley, the Victim, Crawled Three-Quarters of a Mile and Was Found Next Day Helpless

John Riley, aged 64 years and living in that portion of East Billerica known as Pattenville, was struck and knocked down by an automobile near the plant of the Talbot chemical works in North Billerica Saturday night about 11 o'clock. The driver of the machine, who must have known that Riley had been struck, continued on his way never bothering to inquire whether the man had been killed or slightly injured.

Owing to the lateness of the hour and the fact that the road is not traversed much, especially at night, Riley remained on all night and was discovered about 11 o'clock yesterday morning, 12 hours after the accident occurred, lying in a ditch near the railroad tracks of the Boston & Maine the aged man having crawled on hands and knees until completely exhausted.

The accident happened shortly after Riley had left for his home after visiting relatives in North Billerica. He was returning home through a road not traversed much near the chemical works of the Talbot mills in North Billerica.

The automobile was coming along at a fast rate of speed, headed towards Lowell. Inasmuch as the horn on the machine was not sounded he was not aware of the approach of the car until it was almost on him. He tried to get out of the way, but his efforts proved fruitless. The car struck him and he was thrown to the ground. After the car passed he managed to crawl to the side of the road and remained there during the night. In the morning he tried to get up and walk home, but succeeded only in crawling to the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad, some three-quarters of a mile away. Here he was found by boys yesterday morning at 11 o'clock, lying in a ditch close to the tracks and, though semi-conscious, unable to move farther. As Riley lives all alone, no search had been started for him, since his absence was noticed by no one.

Dr. G. T. O'Donnell of Billerica was summoned and recognizing Mr. Riley had the latter's relatives notified. He was taken by Mrs. Alexander Riley, his sister-in-law, in a carriage to St. John's hospital in this city, where it was found that he had received a severe scalp wound and a large swelling over his right hip, possibly indicative of internal injuries.

At the hospital last night the patient had gone into a fever and his condition is doubtful, though his consciousness still remains. No internal injuries have yet appeared. Riley was employed as a section man on the Boston & Maine railroad.

Inquiry at the hospital this noon brought forth the information that Riley was resting comfortably and showed signs of improvement.

It could not be that the driver of the auto did not see the old man or notice the collision. The driver may have been out on a joy ride and passed simply to escape detection. That the injured man was not dead next morning was not the fault of the cowardly driver.

FELL FROM CAR

Tony Talon, aged 22 years, who has but one leg, jumped from a moving electric car at the corner of Gorham and Summer streets last night about 9:30 o'clock and losing his balance fell to the ground and sustained a slight wound over the left eyebrow. He was taken in the ambulance to St. John's hospital where his injury was treated, leaving shortly afterwards. The man resides at 87 Summer street.

MAYOR WHITE

Spends First Sunday in House of Correction

LAWRENCE, July 18.—The first Sunday spent in the house of correction by Mayor William P. White, ex-Alderman

Matthew Burns, Samuel Kress and George B. Smart, convicted of conspiracy to bribe, was without special interest. No visitors are allowed at the institution Sundays, and the prisoners are required to spend the day in their cells except during religious services. They are allowed newspapers and also books from the jail library.

The prisoners rise at 6:30, as on week days, and at 10 o'clock in the rotunda for the religious service. The service yesterday morning was conducted by Rev. Clark Carter, city missionary and chaplain of the house of correction. At intervals it is the custom to have singers from some church assist, and yesterday this was done by a group of young people from the Friends church.

The prisoners have the privilege of joining in the singing, if they choose. When no singers from the churches take part the singing is done by the prisoners. All four of the prisoners named attended the service. Rev. Mr. Carter offered prayer, read from the Scriptures and made a brief address.

Mayor White Indisposed

In the four days since their commitment the four men have become fairly well accustomed to the routine. The change in their mode of life naturally had its effect upon them at first and Mayor White had a slight indisposition Saturday. The jail physician saw nothing of an alarming nature, however, and the mayor was later able to resume his care-taking.

Mayor White's address is "the people of Lawrence." Saturday, in which he declared that patience and fortitude must be exercised in awaiting the proof of his innocence, was read with much interest. To some there seemed a tone of moderation quite unlike the customary aggressiveness of the mayor, but they found a semblance of his former self when he grafted that a watch be kept upon the "graffing looters of the taxpayers' money."

Pulpit References
Pulpit reference to the existing state of affairs in the city was made yesterday, but there was not the general tendency in this direction that might have been expected. Rev. E. M. Lake, pastor of the Second Baptist church, in his evening sermon preached on "Good Citizenship," sounding the keynote to a citizen movement and suggesting a government by commission. In part he said:

"Lawrence has suddenly come into the limelight and every self-respecting citizen hangs his head in shame. Corruption and dishonesty are only too evident in our municipal affairs. It is high time that we did our housecleaning. Let it be done thoroughly and without partisan bias."

"But in this hour of shame and disgrace there are some lessons that the good citizens of Lawrence ought to learn. It has been demonstrated that government is a necessity. We can no more live a rational, civilized life apart from government than we can live without anarchy, and without order we would have chaos."

Too Much to Politicians
"The great error in our political life today is that we are leaving the affairs of municipal life to the politician, who has an ax to grind. He is in it for what he can get out of it. He is shrewd and cunning but he is lacking in honor. His general intelligence is not above the average."

"There are some city fathers whom the stockholders of the Arlington mill would not think for a moment of putting in control to direct the business of that great corporation, and there are others to whom we would not give authority to run a peanut stand for us."

"Yet this is the type of men whom we elect to office and into whose hands we entrust public interests and properties of greater value than that of the Arlington mill. Who is to blame for this condition of affairs? The good citizens of Lawrence must share this odium."

"Every citizen shares in the privileges and burdens of which he is a part. The city has a right to demand that each citizen should contribute his best effort to the city's life."

"Has not the time come in the life of our city when the good citizens of Lawrence shall demand a government by commission? Is not the time ripe for the representative business men of Lawrence to unite in a non-partisan movement on behalf of a better civic life of our municipality?"

"The great danger that threatens our municipal government does not lie so much in unwise enactments, but in the neglect and indifference of our so-called good citizens. The besetting sin of our political life of today is putting party success above public welfare. The government of our city should be above and independent of party politics."

Other Cities Declared as Bad
In Trinity Congregational church Rev. Arthur Barber said: "We are hearing much just now about the shame of Lawrence. I'll add no more to what has been said. Only let it be said that probably half the cities in the land are not a great deal better than Lawrence."

"We are more just now than ever before—in theory only. Again and again great lawyers have said in the last two years that the spirit of the law is utterly sacrificed for the letter."

HELD MEETING AND ARRANGED FOR LAWN PARTY

A well attended meeting of the Young Men's Catholic Institute was held yesterday morning at the rooms occupied by the chair, and two new names were added to the membership list and two propositions were received.

A committee of 16 was appointed to have charge of a lawn party to be held in the near future. President Sullivan appointed the following ways and means committee: John C. Farington, Wm. H. O'Meara, Michael O'Keefe, James E. Burns, James Kelley and John Payne.

Vice President Farrell reported that the interior of the building will be repainted in the near future. A committee of five was appointed to have charge of an outing to be held next month. In the order of good and wellfare, John Cole, John Payne, Frank Goodin, Peter Rogers and many other members were heard in very interesting remarks.

NEGRO TEACHER

APPOINTED BY THE ELIZABETH, N. J., SCHOOL BOARD

ELIZABETH, N. J., July 18.—The announcement of the appointment of Richie Malson, daughter of Edward Malson, a negro truck driver, to be a teacher in public school 7, created much excitement in this city yesterday. Miss Malson was appointed by the board of education to teach a primary class at an initial salary of $600 a year. Her appointment goes into effect in September.

Out of the 10,000 school children in Elizabeth, scarcely more than 100 are negroes. In public school 7 the proportion of negroes is smaller than in other schools. The class to which Miss Malson has been appointed will have no colored children in it next fall.

Miss Malson was graduated from the teachers' training class of the Batavia high school of this city in June with first honors. She is a young woman with a very light complexion. She said yesterday to a reporter that she was not a mulatto.

"My father is a negro, my mother is a negro and I am a negro," she said. Several members of the board of education said yesterday that they did not know Miss Malson was colored when she was appointed.

AT COURT HOUSE

County Commission Met There Today

The Middlesex county commissioners met in regular session this morning at 10 o'clock at the court house in Gorham street, but as there was but little business to be done the meeting was of short duration.

It was expected that a case relative to the abatement of taxes in Chelmsford would be heard, but at the request of counsel the hearing was postponed till a later date.

DRACUT

The Beaver Brook mill at Collinsville, with the exception of the finishing, sewing and burling departments, will be idle during the ensuing week, notice to that effect having been given the employees Saturday. The place has not been running at its full capacity for some time.

The repair committee of the school board, Hiram E. Jinscott, chairman, at the last meeting, awarded the contract of repainting the Goodhue school in Sladen street to Nat W. Peabody, his bid having been the lowest submitted by local painters.

The committee also considered the water drinking question at some length and concluded to order the "water bubbler" system, which is similar to the one in use at the fountain at the square at city hall, Lowell, to be installed in all the local schools where it would be practicable to do so. The water drinking system to be used was recommended by the school physician, Dr. Bryant.

The members of the Florence club were entertained by the Pleasant camp yesterday at the latter's camp at Mountain Rock. An excellent program was carried out during the day and at one o'clock dinner was served. Steward Leary had charge of the menu.

CHELSEA COUNCIL

K. of C. Guests at the Genoa Club

Over 200 members of Chelsea council, Knights of Columbus, and their wives and children came by special train to Lowell yesterday, and at Middlesex street station boarded electric cars for the grounds of the Genoa club in Tyngsboro. There they were greeted by Daniel S. O'Brien, C. K. Hugh P. McOsker, James Danahy and John J. O'Connor of the trustees and a large delegation of Lowell knights.

Dinner was served on the lawn at noon, and during the afternoon the visitors enjoyed boat riding on the Merrimack river, visits to Lakeview and Long Pond, and many watched the ball game between the picked teams of Chelsea and Lowell councils. The visitors won, 11 to 8. The battery work of Martin brothers of the Chelsea team aided greatly in winning the victory.

Later an adjournment was made to the clubhouse, where there was singing by a number of the visitors and members of the Lowell council. Special electric cars conveyed the visitors to the Middlesex street railroad station, where a special train was taken for Chelsea.

The committee in charge was Louis R. Kiernan, chairman, James Sherry, secretary, James H. Malone, P. G. K., Melvin B. Breath, D. G. K., D. J. Mulane, William Healey, James P. White, Edward Supple, James P. Finn and Dennis P. Mahoney, assistants. Before leaving last evening officers of Chelsea council and the committee extended thanks to Lowell council for the courtesies they had enjoyed.

WIFE ACCUSED

Man Says She Gave Him Betrayal Kiss

WASHINGTON, July 18.—Accusing his wife of bestowing upon him a "Judas kiss" and of instigating his arrest as a fugitive from justice, William Lyons banged himself with his belt in his cell at a police station here yesterday.

His alleged offense was handbook making. He was taken into custody yesterday on an old charge. Lyons, who was 50 years old, and his wife were arrested here about a year ago, accused of making handbooks on the races. The case against Mrs. Lyons was not proved.

After being released on bail Lyons left the city before the matter came to trial. Nothing was heard of him until Saturday when he was arrested. His body was found yesterday hanging from his cell door. He left a note addressed to his wife, accusing her of betraying his presence in the city.

"I know this trouble has been instigated by you," the note read. "This is what you meant, by telling me that you were going to see the clerk of the court, not to get the cases settled, but to get me in trouble. It was a Judas kiss you gave me."

"I know you have done this to get rid of me to hide the life you are living. Well, I have lost everything, even my wife. May God forgive you as I have tried to do tonight. Goodbye."

GOING TO EUROPE

The following Lowell people are booked through Murphy's ticket agency to sail from East Boston next Tuesday on the Cunard line steamer Saxonia for Queenstown and Liverpool: Miss Anna Sheehan, Mrs. Nalley Berg, Miss Margaret Scullion, Miss Mary Tynan, Miss Katherine McGarrell, Miss Annie Kelley, Mr. John Welch and Mr. John Reynolds; on the Allan line steamer Numidian next Friday: Misses Mary and Margaret O'Kane, for Glasgow.

U. S. ARMY STATION

IN CHARGE OF CORPORAL JOHN E. WARD

Corporal John E. Ward, who has been in charge of the local recruiting station at 84 Middlesex street, has been succeeded by Corporal Charles L. Robertson. The latter will be in charge of the local station for an indefinite period and will continue to receive applications for enlistment. At the present time owing to the fact that the army has its full complement of men only former soldiers can be enlisted.

Four Italians were involved—Michele Colombo, the man arrested; his cousin, Michele Colombo; Raffaele Ferrari and Charles D'Onofrio, who lived with Ferrari. The quartet had been playing pool and toward midnight an argument waxed warm. Ferrari and D'Onofrio got the cousin, Colombo, to go out on the street with them, leaving the other Colombo inside playing pool with Francis J. Conlon.

The argument outside got so heated that Conlon and Colombo stepped to the doorway. As Conlon stood in the doorway Colombo passed him with a heavy spiced cue in his hand. According to witnesses, Colombo struck Ferrari on the head. The blow was hard enough to break the cue at the splice.

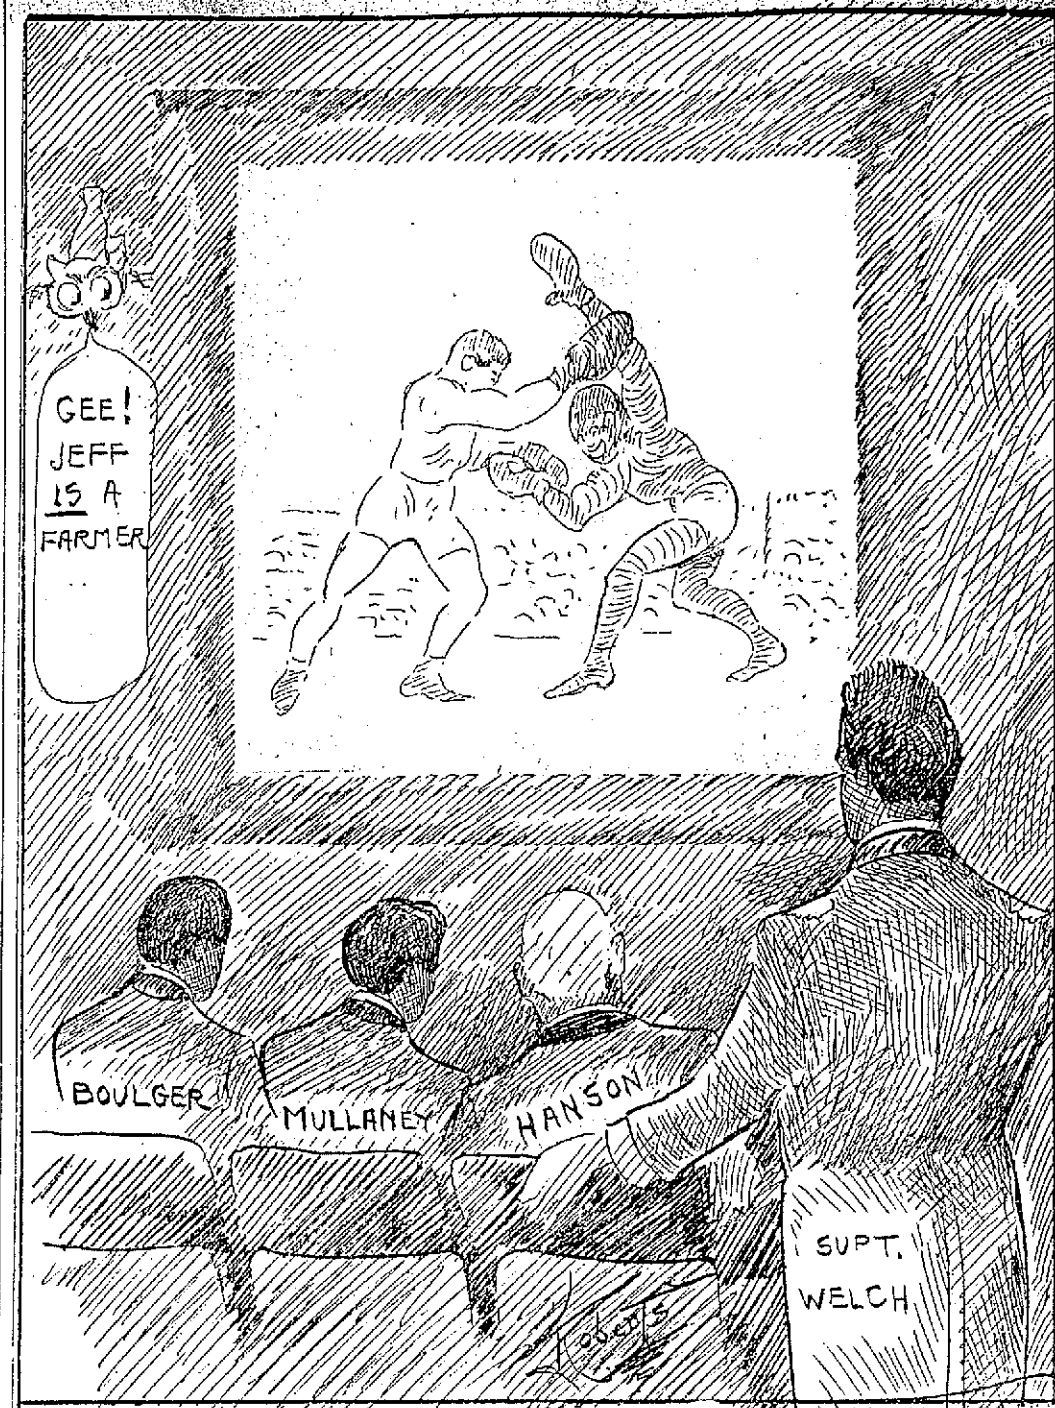

With a groan Ferrari dropped to the ground. As soon as he had delivered the blow Colombo, dropping the cue, ran away.

Policeman John F. Barrett was almost immediately at the side of the stricken man, who was breathing heavily. With the assistance of D'Onofrio, Policeman Barrett got Ferrari to his feet. The latter was barely able to drag his feet and the two had to practically carry him to the police station.

As Dr. John W. Pratt, assistant medical examiner, reached the police station, Ferrari became unconscious and died at 6 o'clock.

Policemen Charles J. Hatch and Special Officers Michael Kiley and Warren C. Totty made a search where it was thought Colombo might have gone, but could not find him. Policeman James J. Shine, in East Dedham square, kept a watch on Italian quarters in that section.

The police of Boston and surrounding towns were notified and the local police watched for Colombo in Dedham. Special Officer Totty covered the house of Tony Colombo, and just before 4 o'clock Colombo came across

COLOMBO IS HELD

He is Charged With the Murder of Ferrari

DEDHAM, July 18.—As the result of an argument Saturday night in Cavanaugh's pool room on Washington street near High street, Michele Colombo, 27 years old, living with his uncle, Tony Colombo, 649 High street, is at the Dedham lockup, charged with the murder of Raffaele Ferrari, 22 years old, who lived with Frank Stailla, High street near Washington street. Ferrari was struck on the head with a billiard cue and died half an hour later at police headquarters.

Colombo was captured four hours after the assault by Special Officer Warren C. Totty, as he was entering his home just before 4 o'clock.

Four Italians were involved—Michele Colombo, the man arrested; his cousin, Michele Colombo; Raffaele Ferrari and Charles D'Onofrio, who lived with Ferrari. The police of Boston and surrounding towns were notified and the local police watched for Colombo in Dedham. Special Officer Totty covered the house of Tony Colombo, and just before 4 o'clock Colombo came across the back lots and started to enter the back door. Jumping a small fence, Totty grabbed the man before he could get into the house.

It was learned that Colombo had hid in an Italian residence on Washington street. He did not know that Ferrari was dead and was trying to keep away from the officers until he could find out how serious the assault had been.

He tried to get someone in the house where he was hiding to go and find out how Ferrari was getting along, but no one would go for him. About 4 o'clock he decided to go home, find out what he could, get some other clothes and money, when he was captured.

Bross, once lieutenant governor of Illinois, voted for a verdict of $32,500. This is the largest fee ever granted a woman lawyer in America. The case has been on trial for nearly three weeks.

Mrs. Miller was retained by the Lloyd brothers to conserve and protect their younger brother, John Bross, who was supposed to be under the control of a designing woman known as the "College Widow." Attorney Henry Scott, representing the brothers, declared in his argument that John Bross Lloyd is still with the woman.

Mrs. Miller contended that John Bross Lloyd while a student at Harvard had become enamored of a woman, and had conveyed several hundred thousand dollars to her. The lawyer said she recovered much of this property, and kept him from squandering much more.

Mrs. Miller also showed that she administered the affairs of the estate in a business manner, and that the property had increased in value during her administration. Several leading members of the Chicago bar testified that her charge of $50,000 for legal services against the estate was reasonable and fair.

Judge Gibbons in instructing the jury ordered that Mrs. Miller should receive the same consideration as a man. "If she has performed valuable services for her clients," said the judge, "she is worthy of her hire."

It does not cost any more to have The Sun mailed to your vacation address than to have it delivered at your home. Order it sent before going away.

DOUBLE FATALITY

Two Young Men Drowned in the Concord River

Another Sad Accident Resulting From the Lack of Public Baths — Dr. Meigs Says Donnelly Died of Heart Failure

Another double drowning occurred yesterday afternoon in view of a crowd of friends who, however, were helpless to render assistance when they realized the situation.

Joseph McCusker, aged 31, and John Donnelly were the victims. They had gone to bathe in the Concord at the place known as Indian Rock, near the six arch bridge. Donnelly, who could not swim, waded in until he suddenly seemed to get beyond his depth. McCusker went to his assistance though not much of a swimmer, but Donnelly got such a grip upon him that he was unable to do anything. The pair went down and came up again several times, McCusker struggling in vain to break the death grip of Donnelly.

At first parties in full view of the pair did not realize what had happened, but when one of the men was heard to call for help John W. Daly rushed to the bank and plunged in to rescue the men. As he approached, both went down for the last time and Mr. Daly diverged after them but was unable to find them. The men probably moved under the water from the spot at which they went down, so that Mr. Daly was disappointed in searching just at the point at which they disappeared.

Undertaker McDonough was notified and with the assistance of the men on the bank the bodies were found soon after. They were removed to the warehouses of Undertaker McDonough where they were viewed by Medical Examiner Meigs, who asserted that Donnelly died of heart failure before he had time to drown. That view of the case may explain the death grip he had on McCusker.

Joseph McCusker was employed in the foundry of the Lowell Machine shop, and had been in this country only since last March. He leaves two brothers, Bernard and Daniel, in this city, and father, mother, a brother and two sisters in Ireland, an aunt in New York, and an uncle, Michael Broderick, of Moore street. He boarded with his aunt, Mrs. Mary Broderick, at 97 South street, and was last seen there at 1:20 p. m. He had asked his brother Daniel to go swimming with him, but the latter had declined saying that the water was too dirty, and advising him to stay on shore.

He was of a jolly, though industrious and steady disposition. He had a mother and father in Omagh, Co. Tyrone, Ireland. He was a member of the A. O. H., Div. 11, in which he had many friends.

John Donnelly, also an employee at the Lowell Machine shop, had been in this country not quite a year, coming from Dromore, County Tyrone, Ireland, just August. He boarded at 12 Madison street, and leaves relatives both in Ireland and in Lowell. He too was well liked and his friends are overwhelmed with grief at his sad fate.

The body of McCusker was removed to the home of his uncle, Mr. Broderick, 26 Moore street. The body of Donnelly was removed to the residence of his uncle, Mr. Patrick Morris, 104 Lawrence street.

passengers against the seats in front. The engine crashed against the derrick used to lift heavy granite blocks, which toppled over into the hole, the engine following it.

As a result of the accident, trolley traffic to the lake was deflected around the common loop for the remainder of the day.

SAVED HER BABY

Woman Also Rescued Two Others

PINEVILLE, Ky., July 18.—Only the rare presence of mind of Mrs. John W. Langley, wife of the representative of the tenth district of congress, saved the lives of Mrs. Langley, her mother-in-law, a servant girl and her little child, Katherine, when the house in the flood which swept the country lying along the Licking valley and drowned ten persons.

Mrs. Langley was awakened about 3 o'clock in the morning and by flashes of lightning could see that the house was surrounded by water. There were no men on the place at the time, and she realizing the danger to the lives of the child in her arms and led the others to a barn on a promontory above the house. The water was nearly three feet deep, and but for bushes growing in the hillside they would have been swept away. The house was practically wrecked a few minutes after their leaving it.

After reaching the barn the four had to remain there until daylight, when they managed to get out of the hills and were brought here, where Mrs. Langley got into communication with her husband.

WOMEN INJURED

Car Was Hurlled Into a Ditch

WORCESTER, July 18.—The front axle of a late bound trolley car of the Worcester Consolidated Street Railway company broke yesterday afternoon, just as the rush of passengers for the lake was starting. The car jumped the track at Foster street, near the old B. & M. railroad viaduct and smashed into a dummy engine used in laying new tracks.

The engine and its derrick were dumped into a 12 foot hole where five minutes before a gang of men had been at work.

Three persons were hurt. Tons of falling metal and woodwork dropped into the ditch the workmen had only just left.

Mrs. James Grant of 44 North Ashland street, aged 23, a passenger on the trolley car, suffered a shock and body bruises by being thrown against the seat in front.

Mrs. Gertrude Visconti of 67 Oxford street, aged 23, was also thrown against a seat in front, sustaining contusions.

The right arm of Peter Stutton of 240 Friend street was crushed above the elbow and he also sustained a scalp wound.

Of the women passengers hurt each had a baby in her arms, but the children escaped injury.

Stutton was working on the new platform near the engine, and when the crash came he was thrown against the engine the force of the impact threw the

Of course you know that Brooms have greatly advanced in price. Shortage of corn is the reason given. In spite of this we are selling

A PARLOR BROOM FOR 38c

It is made of Illinois Corn Stock, and is three sewed. Others are asking 48c for a similar broom, but we believe our Broom to be a little heavier. However, you can judge when you see it.
